The giant concrete door on a wooden hangar used for blimps at the U. S. Navy installation at South Weymouth, Mass., is blown off June 6 with the aid of 525 pounds of dynamite in the first step toward demolition of the structure. The 175-foot-high door weighed 750 tons. The hangar cost $4,000,000 to build in 1942. The blimp base is being converted into a jet air field. The Navy said the hangar will be removed to make way for a runway. (AP Wirephoto).

Bond Issue Loses For Hurley School

Hot Campaign Ends With 229-197 Vote, Six Ballots Voided

A proposed $135,000 bond issue for an addition to the Hurley school was defeated by the voters of the district Wednesday by a vote of 229 to 197 with six void ballots. The 432 votes cast was a record for the district and reflected the intense interest which was displayed over the proposal.

Defeat of the proposition to issue bonds for the addition came after a hotly contested campaign waged by the residents of the community.

Opposition to the plan was led by the Hurley Taxpayers' Association of which William C. Petry is chairman, and was based on the increased cost to the taxpayers. The association did not oppose additional classrooms in the present building but questioned the wisdom of building an auditorium to seat 500 people at this time under present unsettled conditions. The organization members held that adequate classrooms could be provided for half the proposed bond issue.

Facts and figures were presented at a school meeting held Tuesday evening when trustees were elected. At that meeting the candidates advanced by the association won out over the faction favoring the bond issue.

Erection of an addition to provide more class rooms and also facilities for a physical education program and practical arts courses was advocated and approved by the State Education Department. The plan recommended by the state would have provided gym facilities and additional class rooms to take care of expected growth in school attendance over the next few years.

At present the school is operating under temporary measures with the present gym being used for class rooms. It was pointed out by District Superintendent Clarence A. Johnson following the meeting Tuesday evening that the present arrangement was only temporary in nature and the district could not operate indefinitely under these conditions and expect to receive approval from the state. Some provision will have to be made to care for these pupils, it was pointed out.

It was pointed out by District Superintendent Johnson Tuesday night after the meeting that the State Education Department would not approve a building plan which did not include a gymnasium and other facilities offered by the proposed plan. The amount of state aid to come to the district may be affected by the defeat of the proposed plan.

Letter Presented

A letter was presented by Superintendent Johnson from Caswell M. Miles, chief of the Bureau of Physical Education, State Department of Education, under date of May 22, last, which referred to a visit of Mr. Hunter from the state department who made a supervisory visit to Hurley recently. That portion of the letter pertaining to the proposed addition reads:

Atomic Energy Group to Give Data in Week, Dean Declares

New York, June 7 (AP)—A report on last month's atomic bomb tests at Eniwetok probably will be made public next week, Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) said today.

At the same time, he said, more tests will be held in the future "and quite probably at more frequent intervals, as our developmental program continues to produce improved types of weapons that must be proof-tested before they can be placed into production."

Already, Dean declared in a speech for the New York State Chamber of Commerce, this country is producing "on an industrial basis" bombs which "are considerably improved over those used in World War 2."

Disdaining the technical language which the AEC often uses in its announcements, Dean said the AEC is "working on the development of a hydrogen bomb, on improved types of atomic bombs, and on atomic warheads for artillery and guided missiles."

Widespread Speculation

There has been widespread speculation that some form of "trigger" or baby hydrogen bomb had been tried out at the series of tests which the commission announced on May 25 had been concluded at the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Pacific.

Dean gave no indication that the public report on the tests would shed much light on this speculation.

He said Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, commander of the task force which conducted the tests, and Dr. Alvin C. Graves of the Los Alamos (N.M.) laboratory "are back in the United States and will probably be ready some time next week to say all that can be said publicly about them at this time."

Does Not Report Progress

Dean commented drily that the AEC does not give out its rate of progress, either in development or production, because "such information would be of very great value to our competitors."

Turning to the problem of developing atomic power for propulsion, Dean said "we are much farther along on the submarine" power plant than on a compar-

Labor Shortage Is Seen in New York Farming Districts

Draft, Defense Wages, Other Things Hit Migrant Crews, Is Report

Albany, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—New York farmers may be plagued by a labor shortage this summer because of the draft, enticing wages of defense plants and a reduction in the ranks of north-bound migrant crews.

That's the opinion of some labor officials. Others consider it too early in the growing season for a comprehensive forecast.

"Everything points to a shortage," says Harry N. Haight, farm labor coordinator of the State Agriculture Department.

And, he added, "it looks as if the shortage is going to be serious at peaks of demand." The peaks will come in mid-July and late August.

Strawberry growers have felt the pinch already. Onondaga, Columbia and Dutchess counties report a shortage of pickers.

Onion weeders were in demand in the Rochester areas. James T. Baldwin, farm recruiter for the State Labor Department, said 400 had been asked and 274 supplied.

Bean Market Afraid

Central New York expects to be "very short" of help when beans and peas start coming in, according to the farm placement division of the State Labor Department.

Seven Nazis Are Hanged By US Army

Each Gives Speech

Men Tell World to Be Careful of 'Friends' of Germany

Landsberg, Germany, June 7 (AP)—Seven Nazi war criminals, convicted of the mass murder of millions, were hanged by the United States Army here early today.

They were the last to die of 275 persons condemned by the U. S. war crimes tribunals of 1946-47. The seven went to the gallows after four years of legal maneuvering. Their last mercy appeal was denied by the U. S. Supreme Court yesterday.

The seven dropped through the trap in the basement of bleak Landsberg prison where their fuehrer, Adolf Hitler, had written "Mein Kampf." It was just seven years and a day since the allies swarmed ashore in France on D-Day to break the back of Nazi power.

Three of those hanged were SS (Elite Guard) generals and two were colonels condemned for the wanton slaughter of innocent Jews, gypsies and Russians.

Two other SS men died because, as concentration camp bosses, they had wreaked horror among their defenseless charges.

Each Makes Speech

Each of the men used his last 90 seconds for a speech from the scaffold. A source within the closely guarded prison said the substance of their words was "beware of the people who say they are friends of Germany." He said he had no doubt this referred to the United States.

None of the seven faltered when called to begin the march to the gallows. All of them had dropped off to sleep earlier believing they would win a last-minute reprieve.

The first to die—at midnight—was SS Col. Paul Blobel, who forsook an architect's drafting board to lead extermination squads in occupied Russia. The massacre of 60,000 persons at Kiev is on his record.

Others Hanged

Then, in alphabetical order, came:

SS Col. Werner Braune, lawyer turned officer, whose troops wiped out thousands of civilians at Simferopol in the Russian Crimea.

SS Gen. Erich Naumann, whose extermination force wiped out 3,539 Jews and gypsies on the eastern front in a little more than three weeks.

SS Gen. Otto Ohlendorf, another lawyer, who directed the extermination of more than 90,000 persons in Russia.

SS Gen. Oswald Pohl, overlord of all Nazi concentration camps, and destroyer of the Warsaw ghetto.

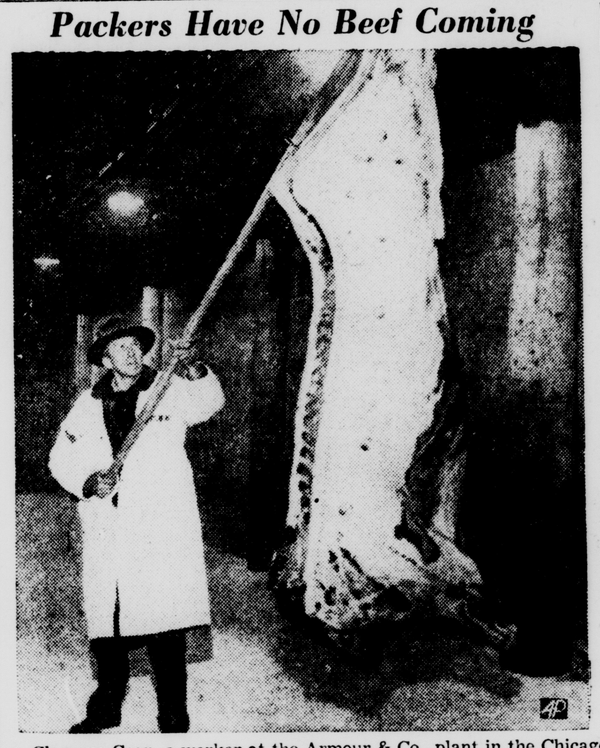
Packers Have No Beef Coming



Clarence Coan, a worker at the Armour & Co., plant in the Chicago stock yards, removes the last carcass of beef from the cooler. Beef dressing has virtually stopped in many plants across the nation with packers claiming they can't pay the high prices asked and comply with price ceilings set by the Office of Price Stabilization. Price Director Michael V. DiSalle told newsmen in Washington June 6 that a national survey indicated there is a "comparatively good supply" of beef everywhere in the country. (AP Wirephoto).

Beef May Be Short In Supply Soon

Chicago OPS Official Says Packers Try to End Controls

Chicago, June 7 (AP)—Beef in many of the nation's butcher shops, it appeared today, may be on the scarce list by next week.

Meat industry spokesmen said the possibility of a beef shortage has increased with the dwindling of cattle receipts at the nation's major markets this week and the curtailment of slaughtering operations.

The limited offerings for the third straight day were passed up yesterday by big packers who contend they couldn't pay the price and comply with government price ceilings.

Michael Howlett, Chicago regional director of the Office of Price Stabilization, said the big packers were "trying to force Congress to eliminate controls on meat."

In Pittsburgh, the district OPA director, James H. Wallace, Jr., termed the halt of butchering by local meat packers "a sitdown strike."

The American Meat Institute, which represents most of the packing industry, said Howlett's charge that an attempt is being made to kill controls is "mischievous and false." The Institute said Howlett should "find out who is buying cattle at above ceiling prices and prosecute any violators."

Purchases Checked

Howlett said that an investigation of sales at the Chicago stockyards showed that out of state buyers and small independent packers have bought the bulk of cattle this week.

In Washington, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said the shortage of receipts and high live cattle prices are "simply an adjustment." He predicted the situation will straighten out shortly.

But meat industry spokesmen said that unless the situation changes there will be widespread beef shortages in most parts of the country by next week.

For the first three days this week cattle receipts at the country's 12 principal markets were 96,700 compared with 146,000 the same period a year ago.

Industry spokesmen said some cattlemen are refusing to accept the 10 per cent price rollback on live cattle the government ordered into effect this month. They are keeping cattle in feed lots, awaiting developments.

While beef for consumers may be scarce, there appeared no signs of a shortage of pork. The major livestock centers reported no falling off in hog receipts.

Metropolitan Plans Mid-August Move

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is expected to move into part of the Pilgrim Furniture plant on South Prospect street in mid-August or not later than Sept. 1, it was learned today.

Only part of the large plant which is to be used for storing records is to be occupied at first, a reliable source said.

Application blanks for a building permit were obtained here yesterday for partitioning part of the inside of the building.

The furniture company, after sale of the larger plant, acquired the plant of the Schilling Furniture Company on Greenkill avenue.

Rail Trucks Are At B'way Project

Railroad trucks and other equipment for handling heavy steel work have arrived in the Broadway crossing project area in preparation for building the railroad overpass, Henry Millonig, state engineer, said today.

Both abutments are ready for start of the steel work, the sanitary sewer line in the area has been completed, but a 16-inch water main is to be laid before work on the bridge can start. This work is expected to go along quickly and the steel work is expected to start soon after its completion.

The railroad trucks will roll the heavy steel pieces in place and the other equipment will handle lighter phases of construction.

Reds Boost Their Activity at Iran's North's Boundary

Grady Makes Statement at News Conference; Big Gun Put Up at One Point

Tehran, Iran, June 7 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady said today intelligence reports indicated increased Soviet military activity along Iran's northern frontier. But he added he saw "nothing particularly significant" in the reports.

Authoritative government officials confirmed published reports that unusually large Russian military concentrations had been seen on the northern frontier and that Soviet battle exercises are continuing in that area.

The Soviet armies were described as engaging in "unprecedented" military maneuvers on both sides of the Caspian sea. Iran border police have heard the sounds of gunfire continuously for three days.

Grady made his statement at a news conference when queried about the reports. He said U. S. Intelligence knows that there has been some increase in Russian defensive fortifications, but nothing further. Other sources said the Soviets have installed a giant field gun opposite an Iranian guard post along the Azerbaijan frontier.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh, and Iran's army chief of staff have been informed of the latest developments along the frontier.

The border activity reports come in the midst of tension between Britain and Iran over the nationalization of the Anglo-Iranion Oil Company.

Rail Station Jammed

A crowd of more than 2,000 enthusiastic supporters of nationalization jammed the railroad station this morning as two of Iran's three temporary directors of the country's oil industry left for southern Khuzistan province—the oil field area.

The crowd cheered wildly as Hussein Maki, firebrand leader in Mossadegh's government shouted "this is a struggle for our life. We must go ahead and never retreat."

Secretary Says Chiang Agreeable

Sixth Day of Testimony Is Given by Acheson at Hearings by Joint Groups

Terms Are Read

Yalta Pact Is Gone Over by Conferees to 'Dispel Notion'

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson contended today there was no connection between the Far Eastern concessions made to Russia at Yalta and the defeat of the Chinese Nationalists by the Communists.

Acheson said that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the Nationalists, welcomed the agreements, which gave Russia entry into Manchuria through concessions at Port Arthur and Dairen.

It was Acheson's sixth day of testimony at hearings by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Senator McMahon (D.-Conn.), a strong administration supporter, raised the question of whether the Yalta agreements weakened Chaing's forces. He said his purpose was to dispel any notion that the concessions to Russia "made it possible for the Chinese Communists to have a victory in China."

Terms Are Read

McMahon had Acheson read the terms of the Yalta agreement—an understanding reached by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill of Britain and Premier Stalin of Russia at a February, 1945, meeting in the Russian town of Yalta.

Russia agreed there to come into the war against Japan three months after the defeat of Germany and, in return, was given certain Far Eastern concessions.

After Acheson had read the terms, McMahon observed that neither he nor the cabinet member was a military strategist, adding:

"Have you ever heard or have you ever been told of any military connection between the defeat of Chiang Kai-shek and those concessions that were made to the Soviet Union at Yalta?"

"No, Senator McMahon, I think there was none," Acheson replied.

Acheson has said the United States was anxious at Yalta to get the Russians into the Far Eastern war in time to tie down 1,235,000 Japanese troops then in China.

Speech Is Read

In relation to this, McMahon read a July, 1945, Senate speech by Senator Wiley (R.-Wis.) demanding that Russia get into the Far Eastern conflict.

Wiley is a member of the present inquiry panel and has been a supporter of MacArthur's views in the deposed general's controversy with the Truman administration over Korean war strategy.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) called today for "frank and clear" statement by Secretary of State Acheson of the allies' political objectives in the Korean war.

"After listening to the secretary at great length, I am more confused than ever as to just what our goal is," Hickenlooper declared. "And I am sure I am not alone in that confusion."

The Iowan made the remarks to a reporter as the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees arranged to question Acheson for a sixth day (9 a. m., EST) at the inquiry into the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Stabilization Board Approves New Raise For 350,000 Workers in General Motors

Washington, June 7 (AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board cracked the door last night for a four-cent hourly wage raise in the auto industry without loosing the latch against a general pay increase.

The 18-man panel unanimously approved a "production" raise for 350,000 General Motors workers. The same policy would apply to other auto workers whose employers—like General Motors—would grant an equal increase without a price boost on their products.

Board members said the action could not be taken as an indication of things to come in their efforts to lay down a general wage raise policy. Meeting again today (1 p. m. EST) on that controversial problem, they said they were trying hard to turn out soon a general formula for pay increases.

The decision on productivity increases was announced after a long day of conferences between board members and Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston. Johnston had called for a "tough" hold-the-line policy but said he would go along with production increase bonuses up to two per cent provided they were not used as bases for price boosts.

The four cent raise slightly exceeded the economic boss' maximum for most auto workers, who average about $1.80 an hour.

On general policy, Johnston told reporters last night he had "insisted" on the board adopting his recommendations to stand firm against labor leaders' demands for raising the present 10 per cent limit on pay raises to at least 15 per cent.

Later he asked that the word "insisted" be changed to "strongly recommended."

Johnston's hold-the-line policy came as something of a surprise in view of earlier indications that a compromise might be in the offing to raise the lid.

Labor members on the board reportedly were standing firm on their 15 per cent proposal.

On the price-stabilization front, Dun and Bradstreet's weekly index of wholesale food prices marked the sharpest decline in eight months, dropping from $7.16 to $7.06 for 31 foods in general use. Among contributing factors, consumer price resistance was noted.

But Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said in New York that the administration's anti-inflation controls applied "the brakes."

On Capitol Hill, however, Rep. Edwin Arthur Hall (R-N. Y.) introduced legislation criticizing DiSalle's agency and calling for "open war" on high prices.

Hall's resolution said the price wars in New York and other big cities "clearly show that profiteering, chiseling, gouging and unfair dealing with American consumers on the part of some entrepreneurs have compelled the public to pay outrageous prices for necessities."

It added that "the Office of Price Stabilization seems to be helpless or hesitant to roll back the cost of living for the average citizen in spite of definite instructions from Congress."

State Will Spend 65 Millions On State U. Medical Schools

Albany, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—About $65,000,000 will be spent in a long-range expansion of the state university medical schools in New York city and Syracuse, President Alvin C. Eurich estimates.

A $15,000,000 program will get underway in mid-1952 to provide facilities for 800 medical students at New York and 400 at Syracuse, Eurich announced yesterday. The New York unit now has facilities for 480 and Syracuse for 300.

Eurich said construction of a new basic sciences building at the New York unit, beginning next year, would make it the largest medical college in the nation. It would cost about $10,500,000.

The first project at Syracuse will be construction of three four-story wings to an existing building, at an estimated cost of $4,500,000.

Sketch plans were approved Tuesday by the state university board of trustees in New York city. Preliminary and working drawings now will be prepared by architects.

Construction will start in about a year, Eurich estimated.

Under the long-range plan, he said in a statement, colleges of dentistry, nursing and public health will be added to both the New York and Syracuse units.

He said about $40,000,000 would be spent eventually at the New York center, which also might include a research hospital.

"Total development" of the Syracuse unit, he added, may amount to $25,000,000.

Eurich described the projectd developments as "not limited to larger enrollments to meet the state's need for more doctors."

"The plans also are concerned with the quality of medical services," he added.

The two medical schools became official components of the state university last year. The New York unit was acquired from the Long Island College of Medicine and the Syracuse unit from Syracuse University.

Packers Have No Beef Coming

Clarence Coan, a worker at the Armour & Co., plant in the Chicago stock yards, removes the last carcass of beef from the cooler. Beef dressing has virtually stopped in many plants across the nation with packers claiming they can't pay the high prices asked and comply with price ceilings set by the Office of Price Stabilization. Price Director Michael V. DiSalle told newsmen in Washington June 6 that a national survey indicated there is a "comparatively good supply" of beef everywhere in the country. (AP Wirephoto).

Beef May Be Short In Supply Soon

Chicago OPS Official Says Packers Try to End Controls

Chicago, June 7 (AP)—Beef in many of the nation's butcher shops, it appeared today, may be on the scarce list by next week.

Meat industry spokesmen said the possibility of a beef shortage has increased with the dwindling of cattle receipts at the nation's major markets this week and the curtailment of slaughtering operations.

The limited offerings for the third straight day were passed up yesterday by big packers who contend they couldn't pay the price and comply with government price ceilings.

Michael Howlett, Chicago regional director of the Office of Price Stabilization, said the big packers were "trying to force Congress to eliminate controls on meat."

In Pittsburgh, the district OPA director, James H. Wallace, Jr., termed the halt of butchering by local meat packers "a sitdown strike."

The American Meat Institute, which represents most of the packing industry, said Howlett's charge that an attempt is being made to kill controls is "mischievous and false." The Institute said Howlett should "find out who is buying cattle at above ceiling prices and prosecute any violators."

Purchases Checked

Howlett said that an investigation of sales at the Chicago stockyards showed that out of state buyers and small independent packers have bought the bulk of cattle this week.

In Washington, Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said the shortage of receipts and high live cattle prices are "simply an adjustment." He predicted the situation will straighten out shortly.

But meat industry spokesmen said that unless the situation changes there will be widespread beef shortages in most parts of the country by next week.

For the first three days this week cattle receipts at the country's 12 principal markets were 96,700 compared with 146,000 the same period a year ago.

Industry spokesmen said some cattlemen are refusing to accept the 10 per cent price rollback on live cattle the government ordered into effect this month. They are keeping cattle in feed lots, awaiting developments.

While beef for consumers may be scarce, there appeared no signs of a shortage of pork. The major livestock centers reported no falling off in hog receipts.

Mountain's Seizure Represents Gain of About One Mile

Tokyo, June 7 (AP)—Allied infantrymen swept the Reds off a Korean mountain top four miles from Chorwon today, breaching outer defenses of the Communists' "iron triangle."

Capture of Mount Kodae represented a gain of about a mile—the longest reported Thursday.

The United Nations advance ground to a halt in the mountainous eastern half of the 125 mile front in the face of North Koreans who wouldn't give up.

Metropolitan Plans Mid-August Move

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is expected to move into part of the Pilgrim Furniture plant on South Prospect street in mid-August or not later than Sept. 1, it was learned today.

Only part of the large plant which is to be used for storing records is to be occupied at first, a reliable source said.

Application blanks for a building permit were obtained here yesterday for partitioning part of the inside of the building.

The furniture company, after sale of the larger plant, acquired the plant of the Schilling Furniture Company on Greenkill avenue.

Rail Trucks Are At B'way Project

Railroad trucks and other equipment for handling heavy steel work have arrived in the Broadway crossing project area in preparation for building the railroad overpass, Henry Millonig, state engineer, said today.

Both abutments are ready for start of the steel work, the sanitary sewer line in the area has been completed, but a 16-inch water main is to be laid before work on the bridge can start. This work is expected to go along quickly and the steel work is expected to start soon after its completion.

The railroad trucks will roll the heavy steel pieces in place and the other equipment will handle lighter phases of construction.

Reds Boost Their Activity at Iran's North's Boundary

Grady Makes Statement at News Conference; Big Gun Put Up at One Point

Tehran, Iran, June 7 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady said today intelligence reports indicated increased Soviet military activity along Iran's northern frontier. But he added he saw "nothing particularly significant" in the reports.

Authoritative government officials confirmed published reports that unusually large Russian military concentrations had been seen on the northern frontier and that Soviet battle exercises are continuing in that area.

The Soviet armies were described as engaging in "unprecedented" military maneuvers on both sides of the Caspian sea. Iran border police have heard the sounds of gunfire continuously for three days.

Grady made his statement at a news conference when queried about the reports. He said U. S. Intelligence knows that there has been some increase in Russian defensive fortifications, but nothing further. Other sources said the Soviets have installed a giant field gun opposite an Iranian guard post along the Azerbaijan frontier.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh, and Iran's army chief of staff have been informed of the latest developments along the frontier.

The border activity reports come in the midst of tension between Britain and Iran over the nationalization of the Anglo-Iranion Oil Company.

Rail Station Jammed

A crowd of more than 2,000 enthusiastic supporters of nationalization jammed the railroad station this morning as two of Iran's three temporary directors of the country's oil industry left for southern Khuzistan province—the oil field area.

The crowd cheered wildly as Hussein Maki, firebrand leader in Mossadegh's government shouted "this is a struggle for our life. We must go ahead and never retreat."

Secretary Says Chiang Agreeable

Yalta Pact Is Gone Over by Conferees to 'Dispel Notion'

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson contended today there was no connection between the Far Eastern concessions made to Russia at Yalta and the defeat of the Chinese Nationalists by the Communists.

Acheson said that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the Nationalists, welcomed the agreements, which gave Russia entry into Manchuria through concessions at Port Arthur and Dairen.

It was Acheson's sixth day of testimony at hearings by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Senator McMahon (D.-Conn.), a strong administration supporter, raised the question of whether the Yalta agreements weakened Chaing's forces. He said his purpose was to dispel any notion that the concessions to Russia "made it possible for the Chinese Communists to have a victory in China."

Terms Are Read

McMahon had Acheson read the terms of the Yalta agreement—an understanding reached by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill of Britain and Premier Stalin of Russia at a February, 1945, meeting in the Russian town of Yalta.

Russia agreed there to come into the war against Japan three months after the defeat of Germany and, in return, was given certain Far Eastern concessions.

After Acheson had read the terms, McMahon observed that neither he nor the cabinet member was a military strategist, adding:

"Have you ever heard or have you ever been told of any military connection between the defeat of Chiang Kai-shek and those concessions that were made to the Soviet Union at Yalta?"

"No, Senator McMahon, I think there was none," Acheson replied.

Acheson has said the United States was anxious at Yalta to get the Russians into the Far Eastern war in time to tie down 1,235,000 Japanese troops then in China.

Speech Is Read

In relation to this, McMahon read a July, 1945, Senate speech by Senator Wiley (R.-Wis.) demanding that Russia get into the Far Eastern conflict.

Wiley is a member of the present inquiry panel and has been a supporter of MacArthur's views in the deposed general's controversy with the Truman administration over Korean war strategy.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) called today for "frank and clear" statement by Secretary of State Acheson of the allies' political objectives in the Korean war.

"After listening to the secretary at great length, I am more confused than ever as to just what our goal is," Hickenlooper declared. "And I am sure I am not alone in that confusion."

The Iowan made the remarks to a reporter as the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees arranged to question Acheson for a sixth day (9 a. m., EST) at the inquiry into the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Stabilization Board Approves New Raise For 350,000 Workers in General Motors

Washington, June 7 (AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board cracked the door last night for a four-cent hourly wage raise in the auto industry without loosing the latch against a general pay increase.

The 18-man panel unanimously approved a "production" raise for 350,000 General Motors workers. The same policy would apply to other auto workers whose employers—like General Motors—would grant an equal increase without a price boost on their products.

Board members said the action could not be taken as an indication of things to come in their efforts to lay down a general wage raise policy. Meeting again today (1 p. m. EST) on that controversial problem, they said they were trying hard to turn out soon a general formula for pay increases.

The decision on productivity increases was announced after a long day of conferences between board members and Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston. Johnston had called for a "tough" hold-the-line policy but said he would go along with production increase bonuses up to two per cent provided they were not used as bases for price boosts.

The four cent raise slightly exceeded the economic boss' maximum for most auto workers, who average about $1.80 an hour.

On general policy, Johnston told reporters last night he had "insisted" on the board adopting his recommendations to stand firm against labor leaders' demands for raising the present 10 per cent limit on pay raises to at least 15 per cent.

Later he asked that the word "insisted" be changed to "strongly recommended."

Johnston's hold-the-line policy came as something of a surprise in view of earlier indications that a compromise might be in the offing to raise the lid.

Labor members on the board reportedly were standing firm on their 15 per cent proposal.

On the price-stabilization front, Dun and Bradstreet's weekly index of wholesale food prices marked the sharpest decline in eight months, dropping from $7.16 to $7.06 for 31 foods in general use. Among contributing factors, consumer price resistance was noted.

But Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said in New York that the administration's anti-inflation controls applied "the brakes."

On Capitol Hill, however, Rep. Edwin Arthur Hall (R-N. Y.) introduced legislation criticizing DiSalle's agency and calling for "open war" on high prices.

Hall's resolution said the price wars in New York and other big cities "clearly show that profiteering, chiseling, gouging and unfair dealing with American consumers on the part of some entrepreneurs have compelled the public to pay outrageous prices for necessities."

It added that "the Office of Price Stabilization seems to be helpless or hesitant to roll back the cost of living for the average citizen in spite of definite instructions from Congress."

State Will Spend 65 Millions On State U. Medical Schools

Albany, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—About $65,000,000 will be spent in a long-range expansion of the state university medical schools in New York city and Syracuse, President Alvin C. Eurich estimates.

A $15,000,000 program will get underway in mid-1952 to provide facilities for 800 medical students at New York and 400 at Syracuse, Eurich announced yesterday. The New York unit now has facilities for 480 and Syracuse for 300.

Eurich said construction of a new basic sciences building at the New York unit, beginning next year, would make it the largest medical college in the nation. It would cost about $10,500,000.

The first project at Syracuse will be construction of three four-story wings to an existing building, at an estimated cost of $4,500,000.

Sketch plans were approved Tuesday by the state university board of trustees in New York city. Preliminary and working drawings now will be prepared by architects.

Construction will start in about a year, Eurich estimated.

Under the long-range plan, he said in a statement, colleges of dentistry, nursing and public health will be added to both the New York and Syracuse units.

He said about $40,000,000 would be spent eventually at the New York center, which also might include a research hospital.

"Total development" of the Syracuse unit, he added, may amount to $25,000,000.

Eurich described the projectd developments as "not limited to larger enrollments to meet the state's need for more doctors."

"The plans also are concerned with the quality of medical services," he added.

The two medical schools became official components of the state university last year. The New York unit was acquired from the Long Island College of Medicine and the Syracuse unit from Syracuse University.

IRAN AS A DANGER AREA

If a world explosion is to occur, Iran is as likely a location as any. The combination of an ignorant population, oppressed by the great landowners, and a feeble government presiding over oil resources which are coveted by outsiders has disturbing possibilities. Just now public indignation seems to have been whipped up against the British as owners of the oil wells. The seizure of these wells by the Iranian government may be a forerunner to further trouble.

Like many other countries, Iran needs a strong government. It has had decided ups and downs throughout its history. The last great ruler was Nadir Shah, in the latter part of the eighteenth century. He conquered Afghanistan and part of India. Following World War I an able soldier seized the throne, taking the name of Riba Shah Pahlavi. He modernized the country and governed with a strong hand until he was forced out in 1941. His overthrow was due partly to the powerful interests which he had offered, and partly to a fear that he was dickering with the Germans. Since then Iran has been leaderless.

With the help of the United Nations, Iran was enabled to resist Russian pressure a few years ago. If the excitement of the present crisis can be allayed, the world will breathe easier.

It looks as if this year might provide enough front page news so that newspapers would be hard pressed to find space for the time-honored summer discourses on sea-serpents.

HOLMES DEVOTEES

Admirers of Sherlock Holmes have a new reason to go to London. A Holmes museum has been opened to run this summer in connection with the Festival of Britain. The location naturally is Holmes' own address, 221B Baker Street, chosen after the trifling difficulty that the street has no such number and the house could not be identified.

After visiting the museum, enthusiasts will never believe that Holmes was a purely fictional character. They are confronted with his pipes, chemical apparatus, and the hypodermic needle with which he solaced himself when life proved boring. Half-drunk cups of tea and contemporary newspapers, unfolded and thrown down on furniture and floor, convey the impression that the great detective has just stepped out, and may be expected back at any moment. There are even such souvenirs as the shattered bust which drew the fire of Col. Sebastian Moran, who took it for Holmes' own head as he worked in his study, and a test-tube of mud from the Reichenbach Falls in Switzerland, where Sherlock struggled for his life with the infamous Professor Moriarty.

The United States has a number of clubs formed by admirers of Holmes. They take their names from famous stories of his career, "The Speckled Band," "The Creeping Man" and the like. They even issue a national magazine, the Baker Street Journal. They doubtless will be largely represented in London this summer.

Why should a husband object if his shirt looks as if his wife ironed it while watching television? He's likely to sprawl out in it to do the same thing.

CONVERSATION IN PLACE

Conversation is a treasured thing, and rightly so. Those who know its art are nearly always welcome; those who lack the art make awkward companions. Yet conversation has its place, and must be in it to be admired.

The plaint is sometimes heard that some who have learned well the art of conversation have never learned where to keep it. They bring it out among others who would rather to listen to a speaker or a musician, or to watch a movie or other performance, or in other circumstances where conversation, however sparkling, may be of endless annoyance to all who hear it.

Conversation out of place may set one to yearning for that moment, described by Holmes, when "Silence, like a poultice, comes to heal the blows of sound."

The fellow uncertain about television is probably just afraid to look.

'These Days'

THE MISSING LINK

Someday, perhaps 10 or 20 years from now, the American people may discover from the record how we have become involved in this costly, damaging and dangerous Korean war. From the testimony of the joint chiefs of staff, it is clear that we were not prepared for the enterprise and that we had appraised it incorrectly. This is the gist of General Vandenberg's testimony:

Senator Karl E. Mundt, in a scholarly study of the Korean war, makes the point:

"In times past, some American presidents have involved the fighting forces of this country in minor skirmishing abroad or in short lived small deal wars by executive action. Up to now, however, these have always been justified as a military venture ordered by the President in defense of either the lives or property of America or in fulfillment of treaty obligations which had been entered into by this country through constitutional processes. It appears that neither of these justifications is applicable to the war in Korea in which we were involved by the action of President Truman last June."

What then was the issue there? In the Iranian situation (1946), the very existence of the United Nations was involved, for if Soviet Russia could, through local instigation, destroy a member state, how could the United Nations survive? Soviet Russia retreated from supporting the Azerbaijan revolution.

In the matter of the Israel-Arab war (1947-49), the United Nations intervened to establish a truce and eventually a peace. This added to the stature of the United Nations and set a precedent, similar to the solution of the Indonesian Civil War (1945-1949).

On the other hand, the United Nations permitted the conquest of the whole of China by Soviet Russia through the Chinese Communist Party without intervention or protest. In fact, members of the United Nations, such as Great Britain, hurried to recognize the conquerors while the defeated party remained a member of the United Nations by treaty. The United Nations prestige suffered a marked decline as a result of its handling of the China situation.

In the struggle between India and Pakistan over Kashmir, the United Nations has displayed a weakness which exhibits its incapacity to handle political situations objectively. Simply stated, the United Nations has thus far failed to solve the Kashmir problem.

The Korean situation originated in the confusions at the Yalta conference. As neutrality in the Pacific war was Russia's blackmail weapon, Stalin did not lightly abandon it. Thus was developed the concept of the 38th Parallel in Korea and the Russian possession of the warm water ports and the railroads of Manchuria. This betrayal of China and secret revocation of the Cairo agreement (1943) laid the basis for our troubles in Korea.

But why did not the United Nations attempt to handle Korea as it did Iran, Indonesia and Israel? The answer is that the United Nations fears Soviet Russia now. It appears from the testimony before the Russell Committee that the United States also fears Soviet Russia now. In a word, the position of Russia in international relations has grown to be so strong that the United Nations has ceased to be capable of applying the provisions of its charter and has thrown the burden upon the United States.

This is the time table:

North Korea attacked south of the 38th Parallel on June 25;

The Security Council issued its cease-fire order on June 25;

The United States was fighting in Korea on June 27;

The President issued his statement announcing that he had ordered troops in on June 27. The Security Council endorsed the President's position.

Too much happened in those three days. We must still ask: Was the United States involved before or after the Security Council passed its resolution? The United States is bound by no provision of the United Nations charter to take on the entire responsibility of a United Nations war, nor are we bound to commit more of our men than any other United Nations members.

What then happened to throw so huge a responsibility upon the one country? Furthermore, almost as soon as we got into this war, the United Nations backed away from its stated objectives and the British led a group of countries to make Korea a Russian success by limiting our efforts in Korea and by advancing the cause of Soviet China.

The entire matter is puzzling even from the standpoint of historic objectivity and the testimony before the Russell Committee increases the difficulties of understanding how we got into it so deeply.

That Body of Yours

BOILS MAY COME FROM NOSE INFECTIONS

Most individuals during their lifetime have had a boil. This infection is taken to mean that they have been eating too much food for the amount of work or exercise taken, have allowed themselves to become constipated or have not been as careful about bathing regularly as they should have been. We are told that the greatest preventative for boils is constant cleanliness of the back of the neck, the armpits and the anus and genital organs. The back of the neck is the most frequent place, in men, for boils to occur.

A boil is an inflammation of the deeper layers of the skin, usually around a hair root or an oil gland. The commonest organism found in boils is the pyogenes (pus forming) aureus, a staphylococcus organism.

A boil gives us a vivid picture of how nature sends its white corpuscles (disease fighters) immediately to the scene of an infection. They surround the spot where infection starts by a hard white wall which we can see as we look closely at a boil. This wall is to wall off the infection so that it will not spread to other parts. The soft dark center finally breaks down and thin pus comes out. Finally, the center or dead part, the core, comes out and the boil heals.

The treatment to hasten the cure of the boil is application of equal parts of laundry soap and brown sugar or an ordinary bread poultice. When "ripe," a toothpick dipped in carbolic acid punctures the central spot and the boil opens up and discharges its contents. At no time is the boil squeezed, but drawing the skin away with thumb and fingers will help to empty the boil.

It may come as a surprise to many of us to learn that many boils are started because of the hands carrying infections from the nose to various parts of the skin. This is stated by Drs. G. P. B. Whitwell and Ian Southerland in the British Medical Journal. The hand contaminates the nose or the nose contaminates the hand and causes boils. The distribution of boils to various parts of the skin, all or most of which can be reached by the fingers, would appear not only to cause boils on the individual's own skin but may also distribute the organisms in towels or other objects handled.

Washing our hands often may prevent boils.

"Aren't Prices Terrible?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — General MacArthur's trip to Texas next week is much more than a visit to admiring friends. Actually, it is a carefully timed test of political popularity to see whether the general's backers should go any further in their latent plans to push him for the presidency.

One of the men behind the Texas trip is Congressman Al "Doc" Miller of Nebraska, the same GOP leader who promoted MacArthur for president in 1948. It was partly on Congressman Miller's urging that MacArthur entered the Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries.

Both primaries proved a disappointment, and MacArthur felt that his Republican friends had let him down. Earlier, in Tokyo, the general had talked with optimistic visiting politicans who predicted that the American people would rise up almost unanimously to draft him. MacArthur had even told Lieut. Gen. Robert Eichelberger, then in Tokyo, that he expected to be summoned back to the United States during the GOP convention in 1948 and that he Eichelberger, should be prepared to take over as commander of Japan.

However, MacArthur headquarters during the 1948 convention proved to be the emptiest place in Philadelphia, and MacArthur felt that the party had taken him upon the high mountain.

Therefore, his close friends now say that this time he doesn't want to be let down. So the trip to Texas is something of a test.

Since the visit to Chicago was disappointing, in that the general failed to fill Soldiers' Field; and since the trip to Murfreesboro, Tenn., also failed to fill the local stadium, the Texas visit will be extremely important. Texas has promised a tremendous ovation, and if it goes over big, his close political backers hope that MacArthur will let his campaign cap be tossed into the ring.

Chicago Crime

No television cameras were focused on Chicago businessman George S. May, affiliate of racketeers, when he testified before the Senate Crime Committee. Even the newsmen were barred as May was called to explain his pay-offs to the racketeers from the gambling profits of his Tam O'Shanter Club in the Chicago suburbs. May allegedly paid 40 per cent of his slot-machine take to racketeer Ed Vogel, Cook county slot-machine king. But on this he did no talking.

He did talk freely about his efficiency-expert business, the George S. May Company, which has handled contracts for big corporations, city governments and even foreign governments. However, he was mum on all questions that might lead to his dealings with the racketeers and even refused to tell whether he was a member of a golf club.

This got under the skin of the crusading senator from New Hampshire, Charles Tobey, who exploded:

"Evidently this bird is going to do everything but answer questions. We are wasting time. He has been in cahoots with gambling and all the crooked elements.

"He goes and plays with the scum of the earth, and we are not supposed to find out about it. Well, we will find out about it, and we will get it before we are through. Let me say one thing. Here is a man, George S. May, who stands before us and tells us about his great business enterprise, his nation-wide advertising and that he is a respectable man. And yet, before a committee of his peers—a committee of the United States Senate — he hesitates to answer a simple question, 'are you a member of a golf club?'"

Then, swinging around to May, Tobey blistered: "Before God, is your life so encumbered by these things that you cannot answer even a simple question of that sort? Why don't you come out in the open and say, I'll give you everything you want to know. My life is an open book. Then, if your life is an open book and you are clean and honest, just spill it. Why do you want to cover up? What a position for a man to be in with his soul that he cannot answer such a simple question! What is all your money worth if you cannot look men in the face like the men who are sitting here? I would rather be dead than be in that position myself—with all your money and all your power!"

May's face burned a flaming red. But he continued his refusal to answer questions.

Senators have turned down a request from Vice President Barkley for a new Cadillac limousine. They decided he can get along on his old 1949 Cadillac. . . . The Dutch government has made discreet inquiries to find out whether it's true that "Call Me Madame" Perle Mesta may be the next American ambassador to Holland. The Dutch are not at all happy over this prospect. . . . The Agriculture Department has requested the National Production Authority to tone down its reduction of steel allocations for farm machinery which would mean one-third fewer new farm machines next year. Secretary Brannan says the farms can't stand such a drastic cut. . . . The Democrats kicked Senator McCarthy off the appropriations committee to make room for another Democrat. But his successor, Senator Robertson of Virginia, has been voting just as Republican as McCarthy. On Robertson's first day with the committee, he ignored his Democratic colleagues and gave his proxy to Republican Senator Cordon of Oregon. . . . Black marketeers will be unhappy to learn that price enforcement chief Ed Morgan has doubled the number of his agents. Their chief targets are the price-gougers in meat, automobiles and steel. . . . The House Ways and Means Committee is under terrific pressure from the oil and automobile lobbies to rescind its federal excise tax boost on gasoline from 1½ cents to 2 cents a gallon, as well as the increase of the excise on new motor cars from 7 to 10 per cent. However, the committee will probably keep the excise increases just the same.

TV Quandary

The recent Supreme Court decision approving the CBS brand of color television has the TV industry in a quandary as to whether it should use limited allocations of aluminum and copper for the manufacture of new TV sets or color converters for old TV receivers.

There's not enough of the scarce materials for both. As a result, television manufacturers soon will request the National Production Authority to increase their supplies of aluminum and copper—also steel. TV spokesmen will argue that the FCC will open up new areas for television reception next fall and that there will not be enough TV sets to supply the increased demand.

However, the NPA will deny the appeal and will tell TV makers they must decide for themselves whether to continue making black-and-white sets or enter the color field.

America Now Faces Big Problem of What to Do, if This Country Goes Into War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 7—Far beyond the ephemeral issue of how or why a field commander has been replaced, the most critical problem that has confronted America since World War II now faces the Congress for solution.

It is not a question of advantage or disadvantage for Republicans or Democrats but a question of effective management in the event that the United States is suddenly plunged into war. It is not a partisan but an American problem. Congress has first the duty of getting the facts and then recommending action.

Judging by the sensational disclosures thus far in the joint hearings of the Senate Armed Services and Senate Foreign Relations Committees, there is a tragic lack of coordination inside the executive branch of the government which could imperil the lives of American forces in the field and could result conceivably in a severe restriction upon their efforts to carry on effective military operations.

The impression that America today has a top command which can function promptly and effectively, without interference in military matters, is wrong.

The impression that the joint chiefs of staff can carry on military operations in accordance with their best military judgment is also wrong. They cannot issue military orders without the consent of the Department of State, which, in turn, feels obligated to ask the permission of foreign governments as to what may or may not be done. America is furnishing the bulk of the troops, but nations with the lesser contributions decide the military strategy.

The impression that the forces in Korea today are United Nations forces is a quibble on words. What is engaged there is an "allied force"—and the United Nations legally has only an "advisory" connection now with any military commands or orders being given to those forces. Secretary Acheson conceded this point in answer to questions by Senator Gillette of Iowa, Democrat.

When the field commander wanted to pursue attacking planes a few miles across the northern border of Korea to enemy bases—a right well recognized under international law in what is known as the doctrine of "hot pursuit"—the joint chiefs of staff in Washington approved, and so did the Department of State. But, instead of acting at once, a message was sent to American ambassadors and ministers in six countries to poll the opinion of the governments. Our diplomats were told specifically that the concurrence or non-concurrence of the foreign governments was not requested. Yet when objections came back, the Department of State refused to let the joint chiefs issue the necessary orders.

The joint chiefs of staff is comprised of the heads of the three armed services and a chairman. This body has no legal right to participate in the National Security Council, where the calculated risks of governmental policy are appraised. As a body, it has no legal access of its own to the Commander-in-Chief either.

The designation by Congress of a chairman for the joint chiefs was not intended to give him power over any armed service. Yet he is the principal liaison officer between the President and the joint chiefs. He has testified under oath that no minutes were kept of what was said at the meeting of the joint chiefs at which a new command for the Far East was discussed. He testified that he could not recall who telephoned him on April 5 to call the chiefs into session to discuss a replacement in the Far East command. Many a senator is asking how it happened that the chairman of the joint chiefs, who kept a diary and careful notes on many things, just can't remember who told him to assemble the joint chiefs to consider so important a matter as a replacement of our Far Eastern commander just as a big offensive by the enemy was known to be starting.

There are many other instances revealed in the testimony which show looseness at the top level and, indeed, many discrepancies in policy concept. The secretary of defense, for example, was certain that 13 nations had rejected the proposal that our forces be given the privilege of "hot pursuit" but Secretary Acheson says it was only six. He declined to make public the names of the six countries.

The Korean War is actually being carried on by the 14 allied nations which have forces there. While the United States was once designated as the agent of the UN for Korea and that action was fully legal at the time, the agent no longer goes back to the principal to get orders, and it is difficult to see how a "cease fire" could be arranged without the authority of the same Security Council which ordered the military operation in the first place. Russia now is there to object. It doesn't recognize the procedure.

This complicated situation has been allowed to drift without clarification, just as there is a lack of clarification as to where interference begins and ends between the military and the civilian agencies under the President. The other day a naval officer said to this correspondent:

"I ordered some American fliers up to North Korea near the border. They were told to bomb only on one side of a certain line. When they asked what they were to do if they were shot at from planes that came from across that line, they were told they couldn't chase them away but must take the enemy fire. My conscience still bothers me as to what I told those boys. For some didn't come back."

This is a sample of the confusion in war operations that America has today. One wonders what they teach in the army and navy and air colleges today as the duty of an American combat force under fire. Maybe the textbooks will tell future officers the answer: "Praise the Lord and pass the State Department's instructions."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Today I will snatch away the stick that Alexander F. Jones, of the Syracuse Herald-Journal, made a swipe at me with, and break it over his hoary head. Mr. Jones, former managing editor of Eugene Meyer's Washington Post, now executive editor of the Herold-Journal, resented my condemnation of the slackness of editors who had succumbed to the sordid New Deal concept of decency and ethics and knowingly defaulted their professional duty always to regard truth as the first requisite of journalism.

This criticism was, indeed, applicable to Mr. Jones personally. When he first took over at the Washington Post, he said he would never suffer Drew Pearson to soil the pages of the paper but, as time passed, meekly yielded to an order from Mr. Meyer. He ruefully admitted to me his moral chagrin when Pearson slipped over on the paper a false criminal charge against a naval captain with an honorable record. Mr. Jones said that within a few hours an agent for the paper was on his way to see the captain with a check for $1,000, a blank release absolving the paper of guilt and a galley proof of an abject apology which was published in a prominent place soon afterward. "Meyer hired him over my dead body," he said.

Meyer, one of the wealthiest men in the United States and up to an uncertain time a conservative Republican, had turned so sharply to the left that in due time he could publish an apology for Alger Hiss, explaining that when this man's treason was done, treason wasn't as bad as it later came to be. Meyer is an old crony of Felix Frankfurter, and Philip Graham, Gene's son-in-law, the president and publisher of the Post, was one of old weenie's secretaries. How much Graham absorbed of the philosophy that Felix imparted to Hiss, Leon Pressman and Nathan Witt one does not accurately know, but the Post became a Frankfurter paper in the political sense.

Questions — Answers

Q—Who composed the patriotic song "The Blue and the Gray"?

A—This song was written by Francis Miles Finch, and delivered before a reunion of the Army of the Potomac. It was inspired by the fact that the women of Columbus, Miss., strewed flowers on the graves of Confederate and Union soldiers alike. It was published in the Atlantic Monthly in September, 1867.

Q—Whereabouts in the so-called crucifix fish is the replica of the crucifix found?

A—When you hold the skull in your hand with the underside uppermost, the bones of the roof of the mouth form a perfect crucifix. A cross is there with a figure, and you may clearly see what appears to be a crown or halo.

Q—Is there life in the Sea of Galilee?

A—Yes. The Sea of Galilee is 682 feet below the level of the Mediterranean Sea. The water is sweet and clear, and abounds in fish.

Q—What is the significance of the words "left" and "right" as applied to political parties?

IRAN AS A DANGER AREA

If a world explosion is to occur, Iran is as likely a location as any. The combination of an ignorant population, oppressed by the great landowners, and a feeble government presiding over oil resources which are coveted by outsiders has disturbing possibilities. Just now public indignation seems to have been whipped up against the British as owners of the oil wells. The seizure of these wells by the Iranian government may be a forerunner to further trouble.

Like many other countries, Iran needs a strong government. It has had decided ups and downs throughout its history. The last great ruler was Nadir Shah, in the latter part of the eighteenth century. He conquered Afghanistan and part of India. Following World War I an able soldier seized the throne, taking the name of Riba Shah Pahlavi. He modernized the country and governed with a strong hand until he was forced out in 1941. His overthrow was due partly to the powerful interests which he had offered, and partly to a fear that he was dickering with the Germans. Since then Iran has been leaderless.

With the help of the United Nations, Iran was enabled to resist Russian pressure a few years ago. If the excitement of the present crisis can be allayed, the world will breathe easier.

It looks as if this year might provide enough front page news so that newspapers would be hard pressed to find space for the time-honored summer discourses on sea-serpents.

HOLMES DEVOTEES

Admirers of Sherlock Holmes have a new reason to go to London. A Holmes museum has been opened to run this summer in connection with the Festival of Britain. The location naturally is Holmes' own address, 221B Baker Street, chosen after the trifling difficulty that the street has no such number and the house could not be identified.

After visiting the museum, enthusiasts will never believe that Holmes was a purely fictional character. They are confronted with his pipes, chemical apparatus, and the hypodermic needle with which he solaced himself when life proved boring. Half-drunk cups of tea and contemporary newspapers, unfolded and thrown down on furniture and floor, convey the impression that the great detective has just stepped out, and may be expected back at any moment. There are even such souvenirs as the shattered bust which drew the fire of Col. Sebastian Moran, who took it for Holmes' own head as he worked in his study, and a test-tube of mud from the Reichenbach Falls in Switzerland, where Sherlock struggled for his life with the infamous Professor Moriarty.

The United States has a number of clubs formed by admirers of Holmes. They take their names from famous stories of his career, "The Speckled Band," "The Creeping Man" and the like. They even issue a national magazine, the Baker Street Journal. They doubtless will be largely represented in London this summer.

Why should a husband object if his shirt looks as if his wife ironed it while watching television? He's likely to sprawl out in it to do the same thing.

CONVERSATION IN PLACE

Conversation is a treasured thing, and rightly so. Those who know its art are nearly always welcome; those who lack the art make awkward companions. Yet conversation has its place, and must be in it to be admired.

The plaint is sometimes heard that some who have learned well the art of conversation have never learned where to keep it. They bring it out among others who would rather to listen to a speaker or a musician, or to watch a movie or other performance, or in other circumstances where conversation, however sparkling, may be of endless annoyance to all who hear it.

Conversation out of place may set one to yearning for that moment, described by Holmes, when "Silence, like a poultice, comes to heal the blows of sound."

The fellow uncertain about television is probably just afraid to look.

'These Days'

THE MISSING LINK

Someday, perhaps 10 or 20 years from now, the American people may discover from the record how we have become involved in this costly, damaging and dangerous Korean war. From the testimony of the joint chiefs of staff, it is clear that we were not prepared for the enterprise and that we had appraised it incorrectly. This is the gist of General Vandenberg's testimony:

Senator Karl E. Mundt, in a scholarly study of the Korean war, makes the point:

"In times past, some American presidents have involved the fighting forces of this country in minor skirmishing abroad or in short lived small deal wars by executive action. Up to now, however, these have always been justified as a military venture ordered by the President in defense of either the lives or property of America or in fulfillment of treaty obligations which had been entered into by this country through constitutional processes. It appears that neither of these justifications is applicable to the war in Korea in which we were involved by the action of President Truman last June."

What then was the issue there? In the Iranian situation (1946), the very existence of the United Nations was involved, for if Soviet Russia could, through local instigation, destroy a member state, how could the United Nations survive? Soviet Russia retreated from supporting the Azerbaijan revolution.

In the matter of the Israel-Arab war (1947-49), the United Nations intervened to establish a truce and eventually a peace. This added to the stature of the United Nations and set a precedent, similar to the solution of the Indonesian Civil War (1945-1949).

On the other hand, the United Nations permitted the conquest of the whole of China by Soviet Russia through the Chinese Communist Party without intervention or protest. In fact, members of the United Nations, such as Great Britain, hurried to recognize the conquerors while the defeated party remained a member of the United Nations by treaty. The United Nations prestige suffered a marked decline as a result of its handling of the China situation.

In the struggle between India and Pakistan over Kashmir, the United Nations has displayed a weakness which exhibits its incapacity to handle political situations objectively. Simply stated, the United Nations has thus far failed to solve the Kashmir problem.

The Korean situation originated in the confusions at the Yalta conference. As neutrality in the Pacific war was Russia's blackmail weapon, Stalin did not lightly abandon it. Thus was developed the concept of the 38th Parallel in Korea and the Russian possession of the warm water ports and the railroads of Manchuria. This betrayal of China and secret revocation of the Cairo agreement (1943) laid the basis for our troubles in Korea.

But why did not the United Nations attempt to handle Korea as it did Iran, Indonesia and Israel? The answer is that the United Nations fears Soviet Russia now. It appears from the testimony before the Russell Committee that the United States also fears Soviet Russia now. In a word, the position of Russia in international relations has grown to be so strong that the United Nations has ceased to be capable of applying the provisions of its charter and has thrown the burden upon the United States.

This is the time table:

North Korea attacked south of the 38th Parallel on June 25;

The Security Council issued its cease-fire order on June 25;

The United States was fighting in Korea on June 27;

The President issued his statement announcing that he had ordered troops in on June 27. The Security Council endorsed the President's position.

Too much happened in those three days. We must still ask: Was the United States involved before or after the Security Council passed its resolution? The United States is bound by no provision of the United Nations charter to take on the entire responsibility of a United Nations war, nor are we bound to commit more of our men than any other United Nations members.

What then happened to throw so huge a responsibility upon the one country? Furthermore, almost as soon as we got into this war, the United Nations backed away from its stated objectives and the British led a group of countries to make Korea a Russian success by limiting our efforts in Korea and by advancing the cause of Soviet China.

The entire matter is puzzling even from the standpoint of historic objectivity and the testimony before the Russell Committee increases the difficulties of understanding how we got into it so deeply.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

BOILS MAY COME FROM NOSE INFECTIONS

Most individuals during their lifetime have had a boil. This infection is taken to mean that they have been eating too much food for the amount of work or exercise taken, have allowed themselves to become constipated or have not been as careful about bathing regularly as they should have been. We are told that the greatest preventative for boils is constant cleanliness of the back of the neck, the armpits and the anus and genital organs. The back of the neck is the most frequent place, in men, for boils to occur.

A boil is an inflammation of the deeper layers of the skin, usually around a hair root or an oil gland. The commonest organism found in boils is the pyogenes (pus forming) aureus, a staphylococcus organism.

A boil gives us a vivid picture of how nature sends its white corpuscles (disease fighters) immediately to the scene of an infection. They surround the spot where infection starts by a hard white wall which we can see as we look closely at a boil. This wall is to wall off the infection so that it will not spread to other parts. The soft dark center finally breaks down and thin pus comes out. Finally, the center or dead part, the core, comes out and the boil heals.

The treatment to hasten the cure of the boil is application of equal parts of laundry soap and brown sugar or an ordinary bread poultice. When "ripe," a toothpick dipped in carbolic acid punctures the central spot and the boil opens up and discharges its contents. At no time is the boil squeezed, but drawing the skin away with thumb and fingers will help to empty the boil.

It may come as a surprise to many of us to learn that many boils are started because of the hands carrying infections from the nose to various parts of the skin. This is stated by Drs. G. P. B. Whitwell and Ian Southerland in the British Medical Journal. The hand contaminates the nose or the nose contaminates the hand and causes boils. The distribution of boils to various parts of the skin, all or most of which can be reached by the fingers, would appear not only to cause boils on the individual's own skin but may also distribute the organisms in towels or other objects handled.

Washing our hands often may prevent boils.

"Aren't Prices Terrible?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — General MacArthur's trip to Texas next week is much more than a visit to admiring friends. Actually, it is a carefully timed test of political popularity to see whether the general's backers should go any further in their latent plans to push him for the presidency.

One of the men behind the Texas trip is Congressman Al "Doc" Miller of Nebraska, the same GOP leader who promoted MacArthur for president in 1948. It was partly on Congressman Miller's urging that MacArthur entered the Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries.

Both primaries proved a disappointment, and MacArthur felt that his Republican friends had let him down. Earlier, in Tokyo, the general had talked with optimistic visiting politicans who predicted that the American people would rise up almost unanimously to draft him. MacArthur had even told Lieut. Gen. Robert Eichelberger, then in Tokyo, that he expected to be summoned back to the United States during the GOP convention in 1948 and that he Eichelberger, should be prepared to take over as commander of Japan.

However, MacArthur headquarters during the 1948 convention proved to be the emptiest place in Philadelphia, and MacArthur felt that the party had taken him upon the high mountain.

Therefore, his close friends now say that this time he doesn't want to be let down. So the trip to Texas is something of a test.

Since the visit to Chicago was disappointing, in that the general failed to fill Soldiers' Field; and since the trip to Murfreesboro, Tenn., also failed to fill the local stadium, the Texas visit will be extremely important. Texas has promised a tremendous ovation, and if it goes over big, his close political backers hope that MacArthur will let his campaign cap be tossed into the ring.

Chicago Crime

No television cameras were focused on Chicago businessman George S. May, affiliate of racketeers, when he testified before the Senate Crime Committee. Even the newsmen were barred as May was called to explain his pay-offs to the racketeers from the gambling profits of his Tam O'Shanter Club in the Chicago suburbs. May allegedly paid 40 per cent of his slot-machine take to racketeer Ed Vogel, Cook county slot-machine king. But on this he did no talking.

He did talk freely about his efficiency-expert business, the George S. May Company, which has handled contracts for big corporations, city governments and even foreign governments. However, he was mum on all questions that might lead to his dealings with the racketeers and even refused to tell whether he was a member of a golf club.

This got under the skin of the crusading senator from New Hampshire, Charles Tobey, who exploded:

"Evidently this bird is going to do everything but answer questions. We are wasting time. He has been in cahoots with gambling and all the crooked elements.

"He goes and plays with the scum of the earth, and we are not supposed to find out about it. Well, we will find out about it, and we will get it before we are through. Let me say one thing. Here is a man, George S. May, who stands before us and tells us about his great business enterprise, his nation-wide advertising and that he is a respectable man. And yet, before a committee of his peers—a committee of the United States Senate — he hesitates to answer a simple question, 'are you a member of a golf club'?"

Then, swinging around to May, Tobey blistered: "Before God, is your life so encumbered by these things that you cannot answer even a simple question of that sort? Why don't you come out in the open and say, I'll give you everything you want to know. My life is an open book. Then, if your life is an open book and you are clean and honest, just spill it. Why do you want to cover up? What a position for a man to be in with his soul that he cannot answer such a simple question! What is all your money worth if you cannot look men in the face like the men who are sitting here? I would rather be dead than be in that position myself—with all your money and all your power!"

May's face burned a flaming red. But he continued his refusal to answer questions.

Senators have turned down a request from Vice President Barkley for a new Cadillac limousine. They decided he can get along on his old 1949 Cadillac. . . . The Dutch government has made discreet inquiries to find out whether it's true that "Call Me Madame" Perle Mesta may be the next American ambassador to Holland. The Dutch are not at all happy over this prospect. . . . The Agriculture Department has requested the National Production Authority to tone down its reduction of steel allocations for farm machinery which would mean one-third fewer new farm machines next year. Secretary Brannan says the farms can't stand such a drastic cut. . . . The Democrats kicked Senator McCarthy off the appropriations committee to make room for another Democrat. But his successor, Senator Robertson of Virginia, has been voting just as Republican as McCarthy. On Robertson's first day with the committee, he ignored his Democratic colleagues and gave his proxy to Republican Senator Cordon of Oregon. . . . Black marketeers will be unhappy to learn that price enforcement chief Ed Morgan has doubled the number of his agents. Their chief targets are the price-gougers in meat, automobiles and steel. . . . The House Ways and Means Committee is under terrific pressure from the oil and automobile lobbies to rescind its federal excise tax boost on gasoline from 1½ cents to 2 cents a gallon, as well as the increase of the excise on new motor cars from 7 to 10 per cent. However, the committee will probably keep the excise increases just the same.

TV Quandary

The recent Supreme Court decision approving the CBS brand of color television has the TV industry in a quandary as to whether it should use limited allocations of aluminum and copper for the manufacture of new TV sets or color converters for old TV receivers.

There's not enough of the scarce materials for both. As a result, television manufacturers soon will request the National Production Authority to increase their supplies of aluminum and copper—also steel. TV spokesmen will argue that the FCC will open up new areas for television reception next fall and that there will not be enough TV sets to supply the increased demand.

However, the NPA will deny the appeal and will tell TV makers they must decide for themselves whether to continue making black-and-white sets or enter the color field.

America Now Faces Big Problem of What to Do, if This Country Goes Into War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 7—Far beyond the ephemeral issue of how or why a field commander has been replaced, the most critical problem that has confronted America since World War II now faces the Congress for solution.

It is not a question of advantage or disadvantage for Republicans or Democrats but a question of effective management in the event that the United States is suddenly plunged into war. It is not a partisan but an American problem. Congress has first the duty of getting the facts and then recommending action.

Judging by the sensational disclosures thus far in the joint hearings of the Senate Armed Services and Senate Foreign Relations Committees, there is a tragic lack of coordination inside the executive branch of the government which could imperil the lives of American forces in the field and could result conceivably in a severe restriction upon their efforts to carry on effective military operations.

The impression that America today has a top command which can function promptly and effectively, without interference in military matters, is wrong.

The impression that the joint chiefs of staff can carry on military operations in accordance with their best military judgment is also wrong. They cannot issue military orders without the consent of the Department of State, which, in turn, feels obligated to ask the permission of foreign governments as to what may or may not be done America is furnishing the bulk of the troops, but nations with the lesser contributions decide the military strategy.

The impression that the forces in Korea today are United Nations forces is a quibble on words. What is engaged there is an "allied force"—and the United Nations legally has only an "advisory" connection now with any military commands or orders being given to those forces. Secretary Acheson conceded this point in answer to questions by Senator Gillette of Iowa, Democrat.

When the field commander wanted to pursue attacking planes a few miles across the northern border of Korea to enemy bases—a right well recognized under international law in what is known as the doctrine of "hot pursuit"—the joint chiefs of staff in Washington approved, and so did the Department of State. But, instead of acting at once, a message was sent to American ambassadors and ministers in six countries to poll the opinion of the governments. Our diplomats were told specifically that the concurrence or non-concurrence of the foreign governments was not requested. Yet when objections came back, the Department of State refused to let the joint chiefs issue the necessary orders.

The joint chiefs of staff is comprised of the heads of the three armed services and a chairman. This body has no legal right to participate in the National Security Council, where the calculated risks of governmental policy are appraised. As a body, it has no legal access of its own to the Commander-in-Chief either.

The designation by Congress of a chairman for the joint chiefs was not intended to give him power over any armed service. Yet he is the principal liaison officer between the President and the joint chiefs. He has testified under oath that no minutes were kept of what was said at the meeting of the joint chiefs at which a new command for the Far East was discussed. He testified that he could not recall who telephoned him on April 5 to call the chiefs into session to discuss a replacement in the Far East command. Many a senator is asking how it happened that the chairman of the joint chiefs, who kept a diary and careful notes on many things, just can't remember who told him to assemble the joint chiefs to consider so important a matter as a replacement of our Far Eastern commander just as a big offensive by the enemy was known to be starting.

There are many other instances revealed in the testimony which show looseness at the top level and, indeed, many discrepancies in policy concept. The secretary of defense, for example, was certain that 13 nations had rejected the proposal that our forces be given the privilege of "hot pursuit" but Secretary Acheson says it was only six. He declined to make public the names of the six countries.

The Korean War is actually being carried on by the 14 allied nations which have forces there. While the United States was once designated as the agent of the UN for Korea and that action was fully legal at the time, the agent no longer goes back to the principal to get orders, and it is difficult to see how a "cease fire" could be arranged without the authority of the same Security Council which ordered the military operation in the first place. Russia now is there to object. It doesn't recognize the procedure.

This complicated situation has been allowed to drift without clarification, just as there is a lack of clarification as to where interference begins and ends between the military and the civilian agencies under the President. The other day a naval officer said to this correspondent:

"I ordered some American fliers up to North Korea near the border. They were told to bomb only on one side of a certain line. When they asked what they were to do if they were shot at from planes that came from across that line, they were told they couldn't chase them away but must take the enemy fire. My conscience still bothers me as to what I told those boys. For some didn't come back."

This is a sample of the confusion in war operations that America has today. One wonders what they teach in the army and navy and air colleges today as the duty of an American combat force under fire. Maybe the textbooks will tell future officers the answer: "Praise the Lord and pass the State Department's instructions."

So They Say...

Our recognition of a country is based on fact and not approval or disapproval of the regime in power.—Sir Oliver Franks, British Ambassador to U. S.

While we welcome the help we can get from foreign countries, we have made it clear that such help must not have any poltical strings attached to it.—Premier Jawaharlal Nehru, of India.

* * *

In days of great tension, when feeling runs high, it is a temptation to take short cuts by borrowing from the totalitarian techniques of our opponents. But when we do, we set in motion a subversive influence of our own design that destroys us from within.—William O. Douglas, Supreme Court justice.

The UN does not exist to conduct war, but to stop it—by peaceful means, if possible; by united force, if necessary. This is a fact we must never forget.—Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to UN.

In every one of our emergencies . . . dealers in calamity have predicted collapse and ruination. But while . . . these fear salesmen . . . bayed at the moon like frightened coyotes, the American nation went on working and growing and prospering. — Eric A. Johnston, economic stabilizer.

Questions — Answers

Q—Who composed the patriotic song "The Blue and the Gray"?

A—This song was written by Francis Miles Finch, and delivered before a reunion of the Army of the Potomac. It was inspired by the fact that the women of Columbus, Miss., strewed flowers on the graves of Confederate and Union soldiers alike. It was published in the Atlantic Monthly in September, 1867.

Q—Whereabouts in the so-called crucifix fish is the replica of the crucifix found?

A—When you hold the skull in your hand with the underside uppermost, the bones of the roof of the mouth form a perfect crucifix. A cross is there with a figure, and you may clearly see what appears to be a crown or halo.

Q—Is there life in the Sea of Galilee?

Budenz Predicts Strenuous Efforts

Ferndale, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Ex-Communist Louis F. Budenz predicts the Reds will make strenuous efforts to establish a "beachhead" in American agriculture in the coming year.

He also says the Communists will seek to pit poor farmers against well-to-do farmers.

Budenz, an associate professor of economics at Fordham University, made the statements last night in addressing the party on the third annual tour of the New York state milk industry.

Budenz, who has been a government witness at Communist trials and probes since quitting the party, noted recent declarations by American Communist leaders about the importance of food.

As a result, he told the touring group, "we can expect the Communists to infiltrate our agriculture with even greater strength and vigor."

Budenz urged that rural people take a more active interest in Communist attempts to gain a foothold in agriculture, and organize study groups to become more enlightened about the Red threat.

The three-day milk industry tour ends today. More than 100 public officials and dairy industry leaders have participated in the study of milk production facilities and problems. They included representatives of the federal government and of New York and New Jersey.

Rita Hayworth's Lawyer Takes Trip to Paris

New York, June 7 (AP)—Rita Hayworth's attorney has gone to Paris to represent the screen star in her divorce proceedings against Prince Aly Khan.

The lawyer, Bartley Crum, left last night by plane to hold a "full discussion of all problems involved in the present marital difficulties between Miss Hayworth and her husband."

The actress now is residing in Glenbrook, Nev., establishing residence for a divorce.

Crum said one problem to be discussed would be how the couple's 16-month-old daughter, Yasmin, could be raised in the United States as a Moslem. Crum said Miss Hayworth agreed to this request by the Moslem prince.

Other problems to be talked over will include a possible $3,000,000 settlement on the child by the prince and Aly's rights to visit his daughter, the attorney said.

Isinglass is obtained from the swimming bladder of fish.

HINTS ON CANNING

Here's a point to remember when you are thriftily "putting up" those tasty tomatoes, pickles, chili sauce, beans, etc. Use the right salt . . . and that means a salt with full salt flavor. Only a full flavor salt can bring out the full food flavor of your vegetables . . . so you get all their garden-fresh goodness when you open the jars.

Another point to remember is that you can get the best full flavor salt for canning, as well as for cooking and table use, by this simple procedure: Just buy Morton's Ivory salt. IVORY is the salt with uniform full-flavored, cube-shaped crystals and no flavor-weak powdery salt dust. You don't have to use extra measure. Morton's IVORY is the salt for you for canning and every use. So remember the name—MORTON'S IVORY SALT.

NO SALT DUST

HINTS ON CANNING

Here's a point to remember when you are thriftily "putting up" those tasty tomatoes, pickles, chili sauce, beans, etc. Use the right salt . . . and that means a salt with full salt flavor. Only a full flavor salt can bring out the full food flavor of your vegetables . . . so you get all their garden-fresh goodness when you open the jars.

Another point to remember is that you can get the best full flavor salt for canning, as well as for cooking and table use, by this simple procedure: Just buy Morton's Ivory salt. IVORY is the salt with uniform full-flavored, cube-shaped crystals and no flavor-weak powdery salt dust. You don't have to use extra measure. Morton's IVORY is the salt for you for canning and every use. So remember the name—MORTON'S IVORY SALT.

NO SALT DUST

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Food shoppers probably won't notice much change in the retail beef supply this week-end, but all signs point to at least temporary scarcities in many stores by late next week.

Meat packers in major cities have either sharply reduced beef butchering or closed down their beef dressing plants altogether, saying they can't buy cattle at prices permitted under new price controls.

Said one of the principal Chicago packers at mid-week: "We're shipping out the last of last week's kill now. It ought to be in stores in three or four days' time, depending on shipping distance. After that is gone, the great meat famine will be on as far as our customers are concerned."

A Los Angeles packer said "we've practically gone out of the beef business." The American Meat Institute, which represents most of the packing industry, said if present conditions continue, beef will become increasingly scarce in retail stores and the scarcity will be sharply in evidence next week."

Retailers in the large-volume store chains in the New York area usually among the first to feel meat supply scarcities—said their beef supplies are expected to continue "about normal" for the next several days, however.

Rush Expected

"We're half expecting a mild buying rush on beef this week-end as word of the coming pinch gets around," said the sales manager of a large eastern chain. "The hoarding spirit will lead some people to tuck some extra steaks and roasts in home freezers. But beef prices being what they are, we'll still be selling a lot more poultry, pork and fish—all of which are plentiful."

Price Director Michael V. DiSalle reported this week that a 160-city survey across the country showed the beef supply is as large or larger than it was a month ago.

"Apparently some cattlemen and feeders are withholding livestock from the market to see if the price rollback order will be rescinded," he said. "Well, it won't be."

DiSalle predicted that the shortage situation at the packer level will straighten out shortly, saying that "an adjustment" was to be expected.

Only Scattered Changes

Retail food prices as a whole, meantime, showed only minor scattered changes from last week. Poultry edged off two to four cents a pound in some cities, reflecting increased supply as farm marketings picked up seasonally, augmenting the record broiler output from commercial growing areas. Butter eased a cent a pound in a few places.

Heavy arrivals of spring vegetables kept a long list of produce items low-priced: Asparagus, beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, onions, peppers, and squash. Distant markets received the season's first shipments of honeyball melons from California and Arizona, and dewberries from North Carolina.

Retailers reported brisk demand for peaches and strawberries and said prices might climb a little by week-end despite larger receipts. Dry weather in middle-south growing areas reduced the supply of snap beans, corn and cucumbers and pushed prices up slightly. Also higher: Tomatoes and good new potatoes.

Take Biggest Tumble

Wholesale food prices took their biggest tumble since last October, according to the Dun & Bradstreet index representing the total cost of 31 general use foods at the wholesale level. The index dropped eight cents to $7.08 (it compared with $6 a year ago), with 17 of the foods lower and only one—sugar—higher. The decline was believed to reflect better prospects for peace in Korea, a slowdown in buying by dealers who stocked heavily in recent months, and lower trends in nearly all major commodity futures markets.

Price stabilizers announced that within 30 days dollars-and-cents ceilings will be put on some 15 to 20 processed grocery items, on a community-by-community basis. The ceilings will be adjusted by separate communities to allow for regional variations in costs, and stores will have to post the maximum prices. Just what key foods will be affected was not disclosed.

The Agriculture Department headlined asparagus and cottage cheese as most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week.

Tornadoes Strike South Central Area

(By The Associated Press)

Tornadoes, high winds and rain swept areas in the south central part of the country today and last night.

The most destructive tornado struck White Deer, Tex., last night, flattened 15 houses and two schools. Several other buildings in the panhandle village of 500 were damaged. Five persons suffered injuries.

A twister swept through the farm country in southwest Kansas near Ulysses, injuring three persons and knocking down trees and power lines.

Heavy rains brought threats of floods in central Kansas. Hardest hit was Salina which was drenched with 4.31 inches of rain in less than two hours.

Waurika, Okla., was hit by the third flood in a month. Water from the flooded Beaver and Cow creeks, which join in the heart of the southern Oklahoma town of 10,000 forced 100 persons to evacuate their homes. Heavy falls also were reported in Wichita Falls, Tex., and Wichita, Kas.

The showers extended northward into the central plains states and the northern Rockies. Only other wet spots were in parts of Illinois and sections of New England.

There was some warming in the midwest but early morning temperatures in northern states were chilly. Some snow fell in Great Falls, and Butte, Mont. Readings were around normal levels in other areas.

Rate Increase Yield Slight, Official Says

Albany, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—A proposed $44,000,000-a-year rate increase probably would give the New York Telephone Company an annual average yield of less than six per cent on its invested capital, a company vice-president says.

Russell H. Hughes testified yesterday at a Public Service Commission hearing on the company's petition for the rate boost.

He said the higher rates would produce average earnings of 5.47 per cent for the current year.

The hearing continues today.

The new rates would add an average of 7.5 to 8 per cent to present rates.

Hughes said earnings in the near future probably would remain below six per cent, partially because of an increasing percentage of residence telephones, rather than business telephones, and because of the high costs of new construction.

A higher percentage of residence phones tends to lower earnings because the revenue per residence phone is "considerably less than revenue per business telephone," Hughes said.

At present 63.7 per cent of the utility's 5,200,000 telephones in New York state are in residences.

Police Justice Convicted

New City, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—James N. Brems, police justice in Haverstraw for the past 20 years, was convicted yesterday on misdemeanor charges involving the handling of fines. A Rockland county jury, which found Brems guilty on 11 of 12 counts, recommended leniency for him. County Judge Herbert E. Henion set June 20 for sentencing. The charges involved delinquent reports and payments of fines to the state comptroller. For a long time, Brems has been the only Republican consistently elected in Haverstraw, a Democratic stronghold. Rockland county is Republican.

Underground Explorers

Anaheim, Calif. (AP)—When police got a report that childish laughter was coming from a closed manhole cover on a downtown street, they pried up the cover. In the sewer below they found five Anaheim boys, ages 13 to 14, who said they had hiked more than a mile underground after entering a storm drain on the edge of the city.

Cables Are Sent

Paris, June 7 (AP)—A well-informed French source said today two missing British diplomats sent cables to relatives from Paris last night. The informant declined to be identified or to disclose the contents of the cablegrams. The missing diplomats are D. D. MacLean, head of the American Department of the British Foreign Office, and G. F. De M. Burgess, second secretary of the British Embassy in Washington. There was speculation in London that they had gone behind the Iron Curtain.

Tongue Stops Bullet

Tokyo, June 7 (AP)—Pfc. Eugene T. Lucas, Edwardsville, Pa., stopped a bullet with his tongue. Lucas was driving an anti-aircraft truck with the U. S. 7th Infantry Division in Korea. An enemy bullet went through the windshield, ricocheted from a metal bracket, creased Lucas' lip, chipped two front teeth and pushed up against his tongue. Lucas shook his head and spat out the bullet.

Voters Approve High School in Coxsackie

Voters of the Coxsackie-Athens Central School District on Wednesday approved a $1,770,000 bond issue to erect a new high school building at Coxsackie.

The vote was 1,203 for, 587 against and seven void ballots. The issue had been put to a vote three times previously in the past two years, and had been defeated each time.

A two-third vote was required to pass the resolution. Its passage Wednesday had the two-fold effect of authorizing the bond issue and designating the site, which is known as the Klima site on Sunset Boulevard in Coxsackie.

The proposed school will have facilities for 850 pupils.

About the Folks

Charles Hirst of Bushnellville returned to his home today following a minor operation at the Margaretville Hospital.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 7 (AP)—With only a few areas of hesitation, the stock market today moved forward with modest price increases.

Railroad issues did better than any other major group. They were followed by oils, steels, utilities, some chemicals, and scattered miscellaneous issues.

The volume of trading expanded on the rise, attaining the best pace of any market this week.

Prices were higher by a few cents to a little more than dollar a share among leaders. Minus signs were small.

Automobile shares presented a backward spot, trading most of the time at unchanged or lower levels. Wage increases, without prices hikes, together with tightening material shortages, dampened enthusiasm for motors.

U. S. Steel, the leader in that section, reported its May production was the best of any month in its history and shipments also set a new record.

Bond Issue Loses

ent in the community will want to support present building plans. A building of this type in Hurley should serve not only the school population but its total facilities should be made available to the adults for community functions during non-school hours. I strongly urge serious consideration and support for the new plans by every resident in Hurley.

Very truly yours,

The text of the letter is an indication of the attitude of the State Education Department regarding the situation now exisiting in Hurley and may be an indication as to future decisions of the department.

At the school meeting Tuesday evening, prior to Wednesday's vote on the bond issue proposition, the trustees of the district and District Superintendent Johnson presented figures to indicate that there would be no $16 increase in the tax rate as claimed by those opposing the plan, but the increase would be less than half that amount. Their figures indicated an increase of $5.50 per $1,000 of assessment during the first year after the plan was in effect.

Under the law the proposition is now dead and cannot be again brought up before the voters again for a year.

issue with another Republican, Senator Brewster of Maine, who had fired sharp criticism at him.

The cabinet officer challenged Brewster's contention that he (Acheson) resorted to "barefaced distortion" in reviewing before the committee Monday the administration's policy toward China. Brewster made the charge in a Senate speech Tuesday.

Invited by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) to comment on Brewster's accusation, Acheson termed his analysis of China policy "fair and accurate," and added:

"I do not think Senator Brewster's characterization of it was correct."

Brewster replied he would leave it for the public "to pass on the issue of whether the secretary or I were warranted in our conclusion."

The informant declined to be identified or to disclose the contents of the cablegrams. The missing diplomats are D. D. MacLean, head of the American Department of the British Foreign Office, and G. F. De M. Burgess, second secretary of the British Embassy in Washington. There was speculation in London that they had gone behind the Iron Curtain.

Tokyo, June 7 (AP)—Pfc. Eugene T. Lucas, Edwardsville, Pa., stopped a bullet with his tongue. Lucas was driving an anti-aircraft truck with the U. S. 7th Infantry Division in Korea. An enemy bullet went through the windshield, ricocheted from a metal bracket, creased Lucas' lip, chipped two front teeth and pushed up against his tongue. Lucas shook his head and spat out the bullet.

Voters Approve High School in Coxsackie

Voters of the Coxsackie-Athens Central School District on Wednesday approved a $1,770,000 bond issue to erect a new high school building at Coxsackie.

The vote was 1,203 for, 587 against and seven void ballots. The issue had been put to a vote three times previously in the past two years, and had been defeated each time.

A two-third vote was required to pass the resolution. Its passage Wednesday had the two-fold effect of authorizing the bond issue and designating the site, which is known as the Klima site on Sunset Boulevard in Coxsackie.

The proposed school will have facilities for 850 pupils.

About the Folks

Charles Hirst of Bushnellville returned to his home today following a minor operation at the Margaretville Hospital.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 7 (AP)—With only a few areas of hesitation, the stock market today moved forward with modest price increases.

Railroad issues did better than any other major group. They were followed by oils, steels, utilities, some chemicals, and scattered miscellaneous issues.

The volume of trading expanded on the rise, attaining the best pace of any market this week.

Prices were higher by a few cents to a little more than dollar a share among leaders. Minus signs were small.

Automobile shares presented a backward spot, trading most of the time at unchanged or lower levels. Wage increases, without prices hikes, together with tightening material shortages, dampened enthusiasm for motors.

U. S. Steel, the leader in that section, reported its May production was the best of any month in its history and shipments also set a new record.

Bond Issue Loses

ent in the community will want to support present building plans. A building of this type in Hurley should serve not only the school population but its total facilities should be made available to the adults for community functions during non-school hours. I strongly urge serious consideration and support for the new plans by every resident in Hurley.

Very truly yours,

The text of the letter is an indication of the attitude of the State Education Department regarding the situation now exisiting in Hurley and may be an indication as to future decisions of the department.

At the school meeting Tuesday evening, prior to Wednesday's vote on the bond issue proposition, the trustees of the district and District Superintendent Johnson presented figures to indicate that there would be no $16 increase in the tax rate as claimed by those opposing the plan, but the increase would be less than half that amount. Their figures indicated an increase of $5.50 per $1,000 of assessment during the first year after the plan was in effect.

Under the law the proposition is now dead and cannot be again brought up before the voters again for a year.

issue with another Republican, Senator Brewster of Maine, who had fired sharp criticism at him.

The cabinet officer challenged Brewster's contention that he (Acheson) resorted to "bare-faced distortion" in reviewing before the committee Monday the administration's policy toward China. Brewster made the charge in a Senate speech Tuesday.

Invited by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) to comment on Brewster's accusation, Acheson termed his analysis of China policy "fair and accurate," and added:

"I do not think Senator Brewster's characterization of it was correct."

Brewster replied he would leave it for the public "to pass on the issue of whether the secretary or I were warranted in our conclusion."

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The season is upon us when the "transition" from civilian production to war production will begin to hit home—and to make headlines.

We have discussed this before, pointing out that in contrast to those who foresee a "recession" in business it seems more probable that nothing worse than "adjustments" will be experienced.

The so-called "price war" among stores is an example. Behind the price war it is probable that a policy of reducing inventories has had a good deal to do with the decision to cut prices. For this reason it will not be surprising if the price reductions spread to cities other than New York. Furthermore, the price war is significant from the standpoint of deflation. It has been the Ruminator's contention, as you know, that the inflation was not likely to get out of hand and that some deflation seemed probable. Nothing would help more to arrest inflation than to see retail prices come down throughout the nation. Such a development could be very, very important from a public psychology viewpoint.

If it transpires that the public decides to wait for lower prices, before buying goods—instead of rushing about buying everything regardless of price (as people did when shortages were expected)—you will likely see a deflationary trend set in rather abruptly. This would be a most encouraging development, of course, as continued inflation is a great danger to our economy.

So, these "adjustments"—which may seem severe to the businesses affected—will in the over-all situation be advantageous, if they curb inflation.

The most common opinion one hears today is that the inflation is only arrested temporarily and that in the fall everything will start to go up again.

This is one of those "general opinions" that may not work out as expected.

If the public changes its mental attitude from buying-in-a-rush to waiting for lower prices then you may not see the renewed inflation this fall that is commonly predicted. That is one influence. The other is monetary.

The basic cause of inflation, as we have argued many times here, is an over-supply of money.

In recent weeks the monetary policies have been altered and the supply of money has been curtailed sharply. This is not generally recognized because the average person does not pay heed to money and banking policies. But when the government bond market slumped drastically and the long-term interest rate of 2½ per cent was finally discarded as an official policy, billions of dollars that otherwise might find their way into the inflation stream have been tied up. Institutions that hold hug quantities of government bonds are not going to unload them at losses unless they have to. So, a large chunk of the money supply has been "stored away," you might say, for an indefinite period.

Add to this the fact that the Federal Reserve authorities are on the side of deflating bank loans and of rising interest rates and you have further monetary pressure against inflation of the money supply.

Let us not overlook the extraordinary fact that a policy of nearly 15 years standing has been abandoned in the money market. A controlled money rate no longer exists. We are approaching a "free market" in bonds and interest rates—which is something new under the New and Fair Deals we have been living with.

This change of monetary policy is an historical event; not merely a passing occurrance in the money market. It is bound to have far-reaching effects as the weeks and months pass.

It is even conceivable that the deflation spiral will pick up momentum on the downside faster than is desirable. While this is a remote possibility at the moment, it might be mentioned that if deflation should become more rapid than appears likely the banking authorities can quickly reverse their present policies and help to stop the deflation just as they are now trying to curb the inflation.

As Pegler Sees It

wretched until they kicked him upstairs and out of the way but not out of his misery. So, when he was offered the title of "executive editor" in Syracuse, he jumped at it. The unimportance of Mr. Jones's last job upstairs on the Post may be measured by the fact that it hasn't been filled since he left in March, 1950.

When Roy Howard lifted my pastorals out of the Washington Post to shift them into his own Washington News, Meyer and Jones both were furious and asked me to persuade Howard to let me stay. Having no privilege in this matter, I couldn't interfere although Meyer told me I could write my own ticket.

Jones now strikingly personifies the decay of idealists who got caught in the social and economic squeeze of Washington. Others sold out with little pretense and took their paltry little price as directors of information in this or that synthetic bureau. Still others eased their burdens by shifting onto the taxpayers' shoulders the cost of supporting their unemployable kinnery. The Roosevelts were doing it. What higher example could one ask? And others collected their brass checks from papers whose motto was not "nothing but the truth" but "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

"For years," Mr. Jones wrote, "Pegler has ineffectually ranted about labor," and there you have it. I agree that my strictly factual and vehement crusade against the great corruption of the union racket has accomplished little. That is the fact. But that a man who was managing editor of the Washington Post during most of this single-handed war against this menace should comfort the fight, is answer enough to his taunt.

I am glad that Mr. Jones paid me this unintentional tribute: "You rarely see Pegler at news events that are covered by his colleagues."

He is absolutely right. The "news events" of Washington journalism are "press conferences." The "press conference" is a fraud. Most of the reporters at the presidential "press conference" are toadies, asking questions that the President wants them to ask and shutting it off when the President has had enough. Cross-examination is forbidden and the roof would blow off if anyone should ask Truman to try to justify his $90,000 legalized graft a year.

Even Frank Sinatra holds "press conferences."

If that wasn't the record low, then our journalism surely hit bottom when Quentin Reynolds gave an audience to the press.

There is no excuse for reporters to run in packs. That way initiative lags, competition isn't, and we get rotten coverage. Jones here indorses a system which has been fought by good editors for many years. It is especially favored in Washington and I am honored to be counted out.

Others sold out with little pretense and took their paltry little price as directors of information in this or that synthetic bureau. Still others eased their burdens by shifting onto the taxpayers' shoulders the cost of supporting their unemployable kinnery. The Roosevelts were doing it. What higher example could one ask? And others collected their brass checks from papers whose motto was not "nothing but the truth" but "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

"For years," Mr. Jones wrote, "Pegler has ineffectually ranted about labor," and there you have it. I agree that my strictly factual and vehement crusade against the great corruption of the union racket has accomplished little. That is the fact. But that a man who was managing editor of the Washington Post during most of this single-handed war against this menace should comfort the monster instead of joining in the fight, is answer enough to his taunt.

I am glad that Mr. Jones paid me this unintentional tribute: "You rarely see Pegler at news events that are covered by his colleagues."

He is absolutely right. The "news events" of Washington journalism are "press conferences." The "press conference" is a fraud. Most of the reporters at the presidential "press conference" are toadies, asking questions that the President wants them to ask and shutting it off when the President has had enough. Cross-examination is forbidden and the roof would blow off if anyone should ask Truman to try to justify his $90,000 legalized graft a year.

Even Frank Sinatra holds "press conferences."

If that wasn't the record low, then our journalism surely hit bottom when Quentin Reynolds gave an audience to the press.

There is no excuse for reporters to run in packs. That way initiative lags, competition isn't, and we get rotten coverage. Jones here indorses a system which has been fought by good editors for many years. It is especially favored in Washington and I am honored to be counted out.

To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Part of Hospital Work Nears End

One part of the addition to the Benedictine Hospital is expected to be finished during the summer and the major wing will be completed by January 1, Msgr. Martin J. Drury, president of the hospital's board of managers, said today.

The wing being built on the 1923 addition to the hospital should be finished during the summer, he said.

This will house X-ray and pediatric departments, four operating rooms and have facilities for 12 beds.

"The hospital is crowded and badly in need of new beds. We are running steadily beyond our capacity and the sooner we get in there the better for the public," Msgr. Drury said.

The new central heating room is nearing completion and work is well under way on its chimney. The contractor, Vermilyea-Brown Company, has been moving along on schedule. Henry V. Murphy, of Brooklyn, is the architect.

The present capacity of the hospital is 110 beds. The addition will bring it up to 208.

Becoming Extinct

The tiny, costly chinchilla is all but gone from its native South American habitat. Sought after for its fur, it is disappearing so rapidly it is threatened with extinction.

EAT WELL for Less

DESSERTS KEYED TO BUDGET

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Dinner, like young love, needs touches of sweetness. Sundaes are delightful desserts that rest easily within a bride's food budget.

Let's begin today's lesson on well-fed matrimony with a fresh pineapple.

Summer Sundaes
(Makes 2 servings)

One-half fresh pineapple, 1 pint vanilla ice cream from the corner store.

Cut a fresh unpeeled pineapple in half, leaving on the leaves. Scoop out the center. Spoon ice cream into hollow and serve with orange maraschino sauce. Strawberries, orange slices, bananas may also be served with sauce. Note: Save pineapple to serve tomorrow.

Maraschino Orange Sauce
(Makes 1 cup sauce)

One-third cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, 4 maraschino cherries, chopped, ½ cup heavy cream, whipped.

Combine orange juice, lemon juice and sugar; bring to a boil. Stir in cherries. Cool to lukewarm. Fold in whipped cream. Chill. Serve over ice cream and fruit.

But a man cannot live on sweets alone. And with meat prices so high, the budgeting bride must go fishing for other sources of first-class protein.

Fish Fillets En Papillote
(Makes 2 to 3 servings)

One pound fish fillets (haddock, halibut, sole), cut into 4 fillets, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/3 cup finely chopped onion, ½ garlic clove, peeled and finely diced, 1/3 cup finely chopped celery, 1/3 cup finely chopped green pepper, ¾ cup firmly packed soft bread crumbs, ¼ cup cracker meal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, dash of pepper, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 2 tablespoons commercial sour cream.

Cover fish fillets with hot, not boiling, water; add 1 teaspoon salt. Simmer for 5 minutes. Remove from heat and drain. Meanwhile, melt butter in frying pan over low heat; add onion and garlic and cook until tender and golden brown, about 10 minutes. Add celery and green pepper; cook until well heated, but not browned, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add hot vegetable mixture to bread crumbs and cracker meal in bowl. Stir in salt, mustard and pepper. Beat in egg, vinegar and sour cream, blending well. Place each fillet on piece of brown wrapping paper large enough to completely cover fillet. Divide stuffing into 4 portions. Place portion of stuffing on one end of fillet and fold over. Wrap securely in paper. Place wrapped fillets on baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degres F.) for 10 minutes. Remove from oven; unwrap and serve hot with cold sour cream pickle sauce.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Blackberries on bran flakes, pecan honey rolls, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomatoes stuffed with tuna fish salad, shoestring potatoes, bread and butter pickles, buttered toast wedges, gruyere cheese on crackers, assorted varieties of grapes, tea, milk.

DINNER: Cream of corn soup, fish fillets en papillote, frenched beans with tarragon, garlic bread, summer sundaes, coffee, milk.

Companion Is Jailed

New York, June 7 (AP)—A pretty red-haired woman was jailed today as the companion of a nonchalant bandit who stuck up the owner of a night club Monday and sauntered away with $3,000. Mrs. Margaret Comfort, 22, was charged with assault and robbery after she was arrested on a tip last night. She insisted during hours of questioning that her bandit companion was a pickup and she didn't even know his name, police said.

Russia's population is estimated at 192,756,000.

Probe Handling Is Blamed for Gordon Resigning as Aide

Albany, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Sidney B. Gordon said today that a clash on how to handle the Saratoga gambling investigation led to his resignation as chief assistant to Special Prosecutor John M. Minton.

Gordon's resignation was announced yesterday. He said then he was leaving Minton's staff and returning to his job as deputy secretary of state only because the pressure of the probe was damaging his health.

He denied reports of a rift between him and other members of Minton's staff. So did Minton and the special prosecutor's consultant, Harris Steinberg.

But today, Gordon told a reporter:

1. That at a recent staff conference a plan of procedure he had suggested was accepted, only to be "thrown overboard" a few hours later.
2. That staff conferences were held without his knowledge.
3. That he had not been told the names of some of the witnesses subpoenaed.

Procedure Not Given

Gordon declined to reveal what plan of procedure he had proposed.

It was reported, however, that one major part of his plan was to subpoena Saratoga officials who had testified before the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Gordon's strategy, it was understood, was to ask these officials to sign waivers of immunity before testifying before the special grand jury convened by order of Governor Dewey to investigate any tie-ups between operators of Saratoga gambling establishments and public officials of Saratoga Springs and Saratoga county.

If the officials refused to sign waivers, they might be forced by public opinion to resign or they could be ousted by formal removal proceedings.

Witnesses before the Kefauver committee included Frank Hathorn, sheriff of Saratoga county, and Peter Hofsaess, deputy commissioner of public safety at Saratoga Springs.

Gordon was reported authoritatively to have felt that Steinberg in effect was taking over the investigation. Steinberg is third in command.

At Ballston Spa today, Steinberg reiterated that there never had been any disagreement between him and Gordon. He said their relationship had been "harmonious."

Minton was not available immediately.

Sgt. Loeffler Due In U. S. Saturday

Sergeant First Class Francis J. Loeffler, son of Mrs. Anna Cecilia Loeffler, 1 Rodney street, is due to arrive in Seattle, Wash., Saturday aboard the military transport General M. C. Meigs, the Associated Press said today.

Sgt. Loeffler will be one of the 3,759 combat veterans coming home under the third and largest group to return since the rotation program began early in May.

On August 26, 1950, Sgt. Loeffler, then a private first class with a field artillery battalion, was listed among wounded casualties in the Korean area by the Defense Department.

According to the report, he was hit by shrapnel below the right knee during the fighting in Korea about August 1. He was returned to the front after spending about 12 days in the hospital.

Deposed General Plans Offices in New York

New York, June 7 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur is expected to set up headquarters at 90 Church street, headquarters of the New York military district, within a few weeks.

As a five-star general without assignment, he is entitled to office space at government expense. He chose New York instead of Washington, where he would have been installed in the Pentagon.

A four-room suite is being prepared for him on the 13th floor of the building that houses army, navy and civilian agencies of the federal government.

Gen. MacArthur will have a private office, 19 by 29 feet, furnished "as simply as possible," an aide explained. The general's staff of three aides and five enlisted men will move with him from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Although MacArthur's office quarters will be under the jurisdiction of the First Army, according to army procedure he will not be responsible to command levels below the Pentagon.

Fell Short of Record

Tokyo, June 7 (AP)—Col. John C. Meyer's chances of becoming America's all-time air ace were spoiled today by reassignment. He needed one more kill to top the late Maj. Richard Bong's 40 in the Pacific in World War 2. Meyer is heading home tonight with a score of 39½ and a Legion of Merit.

Labor Shortage Is

could be placed in Onondaga county alone.

There has been no difficulty yet in filling farm openings in Long Island and other truck-farm areas.

A New York city spokesman for the state employment service said he doesn't "foresee any farm labor shortage in this area, but that doesn't mean there won't be one."

Depends on Weather

He said much depended on the weather, size of crops and the absorption of labor by new defense jobs.

The spokesman added that there was a "lot of labor in New York city qualified to do farm work," such as unemployed Puerto Ricans.

Big producers bank heavily on migrant labor, including field hands who work their way north as the growing season progresses, and the so-called off-shore crews from Puerto Rico and the British West Indies.

Haight said migrants were now coming north with crew leaders, but that the crews generally fell short of the number requested by farmers.

The tide of southern help brings between 20,000 and 25,000 migrants north, Haight declared.

Haight said the heaviest demand for farm labor would come in late August, when the supply is expected to be "extremely tight."

"I hope we're going to be disappointed in this prediction though," he concluded.

Part of Hospital Work Nears End

One part of the addition to the Benedictine Hospital is expected to be finished during the summer and the major wing will be completed by January 1, Msgr. Martin J. Drury, president of the hospital's board of managers, said today.

The wing being built on the 1923 addition to the hospital should be finished during the summer, he said.

This will house X-ray and pediatric departments, four operating rooms and have facilities for 12 beds.

"The hospital is crowded and badly in need of new beds. We are running steadily beyond our capacity and the sooner we get in there the better for the public," Msgr. Drury said.

The new central heating room is nearing completion and work is well under way on its chimney. The contractor, Vermilyea-Brown Company, has been moving along on schedule. Henry V. Murphy, of Brooklyn, is the architect.

The present capacity of the hospital is 110 beds. The addition will bring it up to 208.

DESSERTS KEYED TO BUDGET

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Dinner, like young love, needs touches of sweetness. Sundaes are delightful desserts that rest easily within a bride's food budget.

Let's begin today's lesson on well-fed matrimony with a fresh pineapple.

Summer Sundaes
(Makes 2 servings)

One-half fresh pineapple, 1 pint vanilla ice cream from the corner store.

Cut a fresh unpeeled pineapple in half, leaving on the leaves. Scoop out the center. Spoon ice cream into hollow and serve with orange maraschino sauce. Strawberries, orange slices, bananas may also be served with sauce. Note: Save pineapple to serve tomorrow.

Maraschino Orange Sauce
(Makes 1 cup sauce)

One-third cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, 4 maraschino cherries, chopped, ½ cup heavy cream, whipped.

Combine orange juice, lemon juice and sugar; bring to a boil. Stir in cherries. Cool to lukewarm. Fold in whipped cream. Chill. Serve over ice cream and fruit.

But a man cannot live on sweets alone. And with meat prices so high, the budgeting bride must go fishing for other sources of first-class protein.

Fish Fillets En Papillote
(Makes 2 to 3 servings)

One pound fish fillets (haddock, halibut, sole), cut into 4 fillets, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/3 cup finely chopped onion, ½ garlic clove, peeled and finely diced, 1/3 cup finely chopped celery, 1/3 cup finely chopped green pepper, ¾ cup firmly packed soft bread crumbs, ¼ cup cracker meal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, dash of pepper, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 2 tablespoons commercial sour cream.

Cover fish fillets with hot, not boiling, water; add 1 teaspoon salt. Simmer for 5 minutes. Remove from heat and drain. Meanwhile, melt butter in frying pan over low heat; add onion and garlic and cook until tender and golden brown, about 10 minutes. Add celery and green pepper; cook until well heated, but not browned, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add hot vegetable mixture to bread crumbs and cracker meal in bowl. Stir in salt, mustard and pepper. Beat in egg, vinegar and sour cream, blending well. Place each fillet on piece of brown wrapping paper large enough to completely cover fillet. Divide stuffing into 4 portions. Place portion of stuffing on one end of fillet and fold over. Wrap securely in paper. Place wrapped fillets on baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 10 minutes. Remove from oven; unwrap and serve hot with cold sour cream pickle sauce.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Blackberries on bran flakes, pecan honey rolls, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomatoes stuffed with tuna fish salad, shoestring potatoes, bread and butter pickles, buttered toast wedges, gruyere cheese on crackers, assorted varieties of grapes, tea, milk.

DINNER: Cream of corn soup, fish fillets en papillote, frenched beans with tarragon, garlic bread, summer sundaes, coffee, milk.

Companion Is Jailed

New York, June 7 (AP)—A pretty red-haired woman was jailed today as the companion of a nonchalant bandit who stuck up the owner of a night club Monday and sauntered away with $3,000. Mrs. Margaret Comfort, 22, was charged with assault and robbery after she was arrested on a tip last night. She insisted during hours of questioning that her bandit companion was a pickup and she didn't even know his name, police said.

Russia's population is estimated at 192,756,000.

Probe Handling Is Blamed for Gordon Resigning as Aide

Albany, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Sidney B. Gordon said today that a clash on how to handle the Saratoga gambling investigation led to his resignation as chief assistant to Special Prosecutor John M. Minton.

Gordon's resignation was announced yesterday. He said then he was leaving Minton's staff and returning to his job as deputy secretary of state only because the pressure of the probe was damaging his health.

He denied reports of a rift between him and other members of Minton's staff. So did Minton and the special prosecutor's consultant, Harris Steinberg.

But today, Gordon told a reporter:

1. That at a recent staff conference a plan of procedure he had suggested was accepted, only to be "thrown overboard" a few hours later.
2. That staff conferences were held without his knowledge.
3. That he had not been told the names of some of the witnesses subpoenaed.

Procedure Not Given

Gordon declined to reveal what plan of procedure he had proposed.

It was reported, however, that one major part of his plan was to subpoena Saratoga officials who had testified before the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Gordon's strategy, it was understood, was to ask these officials to sign waivers of immunity before testifying before the special grand jury convened by order of Governor Dewey to investigate any tie-ups between operators of Saratoga gambling establishments and public officials of Saratoga Springs and Saratoga county.

If the officials refused to sign waivers, they might be forced by public opinion to resign or they could be ousted by formal removal proceedings.

Witnesses before the Kefauver committee included Frank Hathorn, sheriff of Saratoga county, and Peter Hofsaess, deputy commissioner of public safety at Saratoga Springs.

Gordon was reported authoritatively to have felt that Steinberg in effect was taking over the investigation. Steinberg is third in command.

At Ballston Spa today, Steinberg reiterated that there never had been any disagreement between him and Gordon. He said their relationship had been "harmonious."

Minton was not available immediately.

Sgt. Loeffler Due In U. S. Saturday

Sergeant First Class Francis J. Loeffler, son of Mrs. Anna Cecilia Loeffler, 1 Rodney street, is due to arrive in Seattle, Wash., Saturday aboard the military transport General M. C. Meigs, the Associated Press said today.

Sgt. Loeffler will be one of the 3,759 combat veterans coming home under the third and largest group to return since the rotation program began early in May.

On August 26, 1950, Sgt. Loeffler, then a private first class with a field artillery battalion, was listed among wounded casualties in the Korean area by the Defense Department.

According to the report, he was hit by shrapnel below the right knee during the fighting in Korea about August 1. He was returned to the front after spending about 12 days in the hospital.

Deposed General Plans Offices in New York

New York, June 7 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur is expected to set up headquarters at 90 Church street, headquarters of the New York military district, within a few weeks.

As a five-star general without assignment, he is entitled to office space at government expense. He chose New York instead of Washington, where he would have been installed in the Pentagon.

A four-room suite is being prepared for him on the 13th floor of the building that houses army, navy and civilian agencies of the federal government.

Gen. MacArthur will have a private office, 19 by 29 feet, furnished "as simply as possible," an aide explained. The general's staff of three aides and five enlisted men will move with him from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Although MacArthur's office quarters will be under the jurisdiction of the First Army, according to army procedure he will not be responsible to command levels below the Pentagon.

Fell Short of Record

Tokyo, June 7 (AP)—Col. John C. Meyer's chances of becoming America's all-time air ace were spoiled today by reassignment. He needed one more kill to top the late Maj. Richard Bong's 40 in the Pacific in World War 2. Meyer is heading home tonight with a score of 39½ and a Legion of Merit.

Labor Shortage Is

could be placed in Onondaga county alone.

There has been no difficulty yet in filling farm openings in Long Island and other truck-farm areas.

A New York city spokesman for the state employment service said he doesn't "foresee any farm labor shortage in this area, but that doesn't mean there won't be one."

Depends on Weather

He said much depended on the weather, size of crops and the absorption of labor by new defense jobs.

The spokesman added that there was a "lot of labor in New York city qualified to do farm work," such as unemployed Puerto Ricans.

Big producers bank heavily on migrant labor, including field hands who work their way north as the growing season progresses, and the so-called off-shore crews from Puerto Rico and the British West Indies.

Two Freight Cars Are Derailed; One Is Loaded Gondola

New York Central Railroad officials are investigating the derailment late last night of two freight cars on the West Shore line at Cementon, one half mile north of Ulster county line.

No injuries were reported.

A 55-ton loaded coal gondola and an empty box car jumped the track at 11:30 p. m. Wednesday, it was learned. The cars were part of a north-bound freight headed for Selkirk.

Unofficial reports from persons who observed the wreck indicated that the coal car bounded to its right, digging itself into an embankment which separated the railroad line from 9W, which parallels the tracks at that point. The box car, reports indicated, went in the other direction and cleared the south-bound tracks, landing against an embankment.

Box Car Removed

By an early hour this morning, the box car had been removed. Traffic on the northbound tracks was still being held up while crews were attempting to remove the loaded coal gondola, which did not spill its contents, it was unofficially reported.

Cause of the derailment was not learned and officials were probing the incident this morning. About 1,000 feet of ties appeared damaged by a cut near the center. Boards were torn up at two public crossings, closing the two roads to vehicular traffic.

There was no damage to the tracks apparent to spectators.

The fact that the heavily loaded gondola dug itself into the embankment saved it from rolling on to the south-bound lane of Route 9W, where it could have caused damage and traffic delay to the roadway.

The accident occured near the switch tracks at the Alpha Cement plant, seven miles south of Catskill.

World Leadership By U. S. Stressed At Rotary Meeting

The urgent need today for world leadership in the United States was stressed at the Rotary luncheon-meeting Wednesday by George Goodfellow, who for the last seven years has been a member of the United Nations organization, working in the countries of Europe with headquarters at Warsaw.

Giving an eye-witness account of the problems of the freedom-loving people there and especially those behind the Iron Curtain, Goodfellow said that these people look to the United States for the leadership, which some day will free them from the hands of their oppressors.

The plight of the children in these countries also was emphasized by the speaker, who gave first-hand report of the United Nations activities in their behalf.

Knowing of the leadership of the United States in the industrial and other fields, these people cannot understand the lack of genuine leadership in the world, he asserted.

Prior to joining the armed forces and later the United Nations organization, Goodfellow was general secretary of the Kingston YMCA.

Now on leave of absence from the UN, he is awaiting a new assignment which is expected next week.

While in Kingston Tuesday and Wednesday, Goodfellow was warmly welcomed by many friends

Crap Game Vanishes As Police Show Up

No dice!

Local police learned this last night in a visit to a spot back of the horse market on Field court.

A report at 10:17 p. m., said there was "noise" and "disturbance" believed coming from a group of men "possibly playing craps there."

Special Officers Harold DeGraff and James Harbeck were dispatched to the place and reported that a group of men had been there but "scattered" when they approached.

Sharp Ears Catch Crook

Vancouver (AP) — A 19-year-old who under-estimated a blind man's ability to remember voices was sentenced to three months for false pretenses here. The accused was arrested when a blind cigar store proprietor recognized the voice as that of the same man who once had tried to pass a $1 bill as $20.

Clerk Thwarts Holdup, Bandit in Hospital

New York, June 7 (AP)—A hugh, powerful night clerk knocked a bandit literally speechless in the lobby of a Broadway hotel early today, police said.

At 5 a. m. (EST), the alleged bandit was in a nerby hospital, too ill to be removed to a hospital prison ward. The last words he had been able to speak were "give us your money and you won't get hurt," three hours earlier, police said.

Ambulance doctors guessed his speech centers were affected when William Halved, 300-pound, six-foot-two-inch middle-aged night clerk at the Hotel Bryant, struck him with a billy-club.

Halved told police the man came behind his desk and demanded the money.

"There it is," said Halved, pointing to a drawer.

As the man turned, the night clerk picked up a wooden nightstick about seven inches long, and felled him with the first blow.

Police finding him unable to speak, booked him tentatively as Francis J. Cronin, 34, of 19-01 21st avenue, Astoria, Queens, on the basis of a longshoreman's card found on his person.

He was charged with felonious assault, attempted robbery, and illegal possession of a knife. He was said to be suffering a possible skull fracture and brain concussion.

Answer to Red Terms On Parley Put Off

Paris, June 7 (AP)—The western powers delayed again today their answer to Russia's terms for a Big Four meeting because they are unable to agree on what to say.

Deputy Foreign Ministers of the United States, Britain and France met for two hours in the foreign ministry and then sent word to Russian Deputy Andrei Gromyko asking for postponement of their meeting today.

The western deputies are trying to draft an answer to Russia's note of last Monday, in which the Soviet government agreed to go to a Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Washington July 23—if the ministers would discuss the North Atlantic Treaty and U. S. bases overseas. Western deputies say that is impossible, and that Russia's terms therefore amount to a refusal.

Liquor Administrators See Cooperation Need

New York, June 7 (AP)—Liquor administrators of several northeastern states have agreed there is a need for "cooperative steps to arrest the trend toward the illicit liquor traffic in this area."

The decision was announced by a spokesman yesterday after a private meeting of the eastern regional committee of the National Conference of State Liquor Administrators.

Col. Edgar S. Stayer, state liquor commissioner of Delaware and chairman of the regional committee, said liquor officials in the area fear that racketeers are making and selling liquor without paying taxes.

Two Freight Cars Are Derailed; One Is Loaded Gondola

New York Central Railroad officials are investigating the derailment late last night of two freight cars on the West Shore line at Cementon, one half mile north of Ulster county line.

No injuries were reported.

A 55-ton loaded coal gondola and an empty box car jumped the track at 11:30 p. m. Wednesday, it was learned. The cars were part of a north-bound freight headed for Selkirk.

Unofficial reports from persons who observed the wreck indicated that the coal car bounded to its right, digging itself into an embankment which separated the railroad line from 9W, which parallels the tracks at that point. The box car, reports indicated, went in the other direction and cleared the south-bound tracks, landing against an embankment.

Box Car Removed

By an early hour this morning, the box car had been removed. Traffic on the northbound tracks was still being held up while crews were attempting to remove the loaded coal gondola, which did not spill its contents, it was unofficially reported.

Cause of the derailment was not learned and officials were probing the incident this morning. About 1,000 feet of ties appeared damaged by a cut near the center. Boards were torn up at two public crossings, closing the two roads to vehicular traffic.

There was no damage to the tracks apparent to spectators.

The fact that the heavily loaded gondola dug itself into the embankment saved it from rolling on to the south-bound lane of Route 9W, where it could have caused damage and traffic delay to the roadway.

The accident occured near the switch tracks at the Alpha Cement plant, seven miles south of Catskill.

World Leadership By U. S. Stressed At Rotary Meeting

The urgent need today for world leadership in the United States was stressed at the Rotary luncheon-meeting Wednesday by George Goodfellow, who for the past seven years has been a member of the United Nations organization, working in the countries of Europe with headquarters at Warsaw.

Giving an eye-witness account of the problems of the freedom-loving people there and especially those behind the Iron Curtain, Goodfellow said that these people look to the United States for the leadership, which some day will free them from the hands of their oppressors.

The plight of the children in these countries also was emphasized by the speaker, who gave first-hand report of the United Nations activities in their behalf.

Knowing of the leadership of the United States in the industrial and other fields, these people cannot understand the lack of genuine leadership in the world, he asserted.

Prior to joining the armed forces and later the United Nations organization, Goodfellow was general secretary of the Kingston YMCA.

Now on leave of absence from the UN, he is awaiting a new assignment which is expected next week.

While in Kingston Tuesday and Wednesday, Goodfellow was warmly welcomed by many friends

Crap Game Vanishes As Police Show Up

No dice!

Local police learned this last night in a visit to a spot back of the horse market on Field court.

A report at 10:17 p. m., said there was "noise" and "disturbance" believed coming from a group of men "possibly playing craps there."

Special Officers Harold DeGraff and James Harbeck were dispatched to the place and reported that a group of men had been there but "scattered" when they approached.

Sharp Ears Catch Crook

Vancouver (AP) — A 19-year-old who underestimated a blind man's ability to remember voices was sentenced to three months for false pretenses here. The accused was arrested when a blind cigar store proprietor recognized the voice as that of the same man who once had tried to pass a $1 bill as $20.

Clerk Thwarts Holdup, Bandit in Hospital

New York, June 7 (AP)—A hugh, powerful night clerk knocked a bandit literally speechless in the lobby of a Broadway hotel early today, police said.

At 5 a. m. (EST), the alleged bandit was in a nerby hospital, too ill to be removed to a hospital prison ward. The last words he had been able to speak were "give us your money and you won't get hurt," three hours earlier, police said.

Ambulance doctors guessed his speech centers were affected when William Halved, 300-pound, six-foot-two-inch middle-aged night clerk at the Hotel Bryant, struck him with a billy-club.

Halved told police the man came behind his desk and demanded the money.

"There it is," said Halved, pointing to a drawer.

As the man turned, the night clerk picked up a wooden nightstick about seven inches long, and felled him with the first blow.

Police finding him unable to speak, booked him tentatively as Francis J. Cronin, 34, of 19-01 21st avenue, Astoria, Queens, on the basis of a longshoreman's card found on his person.

He was charged with felonious assault, attempted robbery, and illegal possession of a knife. He was said to be suffering a possible skull fracture and brain concussion.

Answer to Red Terms On Parley Put Off

Paris, June 7 (AP)—The western powers delayed again today their answer to Russia's terms for a Big Four meeting because they are unable to agree on what to say.

Deputy Foreign Ministers of the United States, Britain and France met for two hours in the foreign ministry and then sent word to Russian Deputy Andrei Gromyko asking for postponement of their meeting today.

The western deputies are trying to draft an answer to Russia's note of last Monday, in which the Soviet government agreed to go to a Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Washington July 23—if the ministers would discuss the North Atlantic Treaty and U. S. bases overseas. Western deputies say that is impossible, and that Russia's terms therefore amount to a refusal.

Liquor Administrators See Cooperation Need

New York, June 7 (AP)—Liquor administrators of several northeastern states have agreed there is a need for "cooperative steps to arrest the trend toward the illicit liquor traffic in this area."

The decision was announced by a spokesman yesterday after a private meeting of the eastern regional committee of the National Conference of State Liquor Administrators.

Col. Edgar S. Stayer, state liquor commissioner of Delaware and chairman of the regional committee, said liquor officials in the area fear that racketeers are making and selling liquor without paying taxes.

Woodstock, June 7—Miss Frances Dederick has announced that sketch classes will begin at Parnassus Square Tuesday and will be held every Tuesday and Wednesday evening throughout the summer. Life models will be provided.

Miss Dederick returned last week to reopen Parnassus Square after spending a busy and successful winter in Vallejo, Calif. In addition to doing a considerable amount of work in home decoration while in Vallejo, Miss Dederick gave an evening course in practical home decoration at the Down Town Adult Center two nights a week. The course was well-attended and Miss Dederick was the subject of several newspaper articles during the winter season.

Entitled "Decorate Your Home For Better Living," the course was designed to instruct homemakers on how to plan and arrange rooms, ways to balance a room, what to look for in buying furniture, the use of textiles, glass and wood, and how to make slip-covers and lamp shades.

The first exhibition at Parnassus Square will open July 1, and will feature an exhibit of craft work by Mrs. Dyrus Cook.

Will Show Films

Woodstock, June 7—At the regular meeting of the Masonic Square Club Thursday, June 21, Ed Bauman will show four motion picture shorts in color on the subject of aviation. "The Highway to Hawaii," "Flight to Alaska," "Flight to North Africa," and "Acapulco, Riviera of the Americas."

The club's picnic will be held at the Chalet Indian, at Boiceville, June 24.

Will Speak Friday

Woodstock, June 7—Dr. W. K. Gregory, of this village, will speak at the Woodstock School Friday at 2:30 p. m. His subject will be wild life of New Zealand. The program was arranged by the Parent-Teachers Association.

Service Set Again For Married Couples

Woodstock, June 7—About this time last year, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd of the Dutch Reformed Church invited the couples he had married in his pastorate of 27 years in the Woodstock church, to a special service for them in the church. The Rev. Mr. Todd had married over 125 couples who have "scattered everywhere between here and the Antipodes." He was, however, able to reach about 100 couples of those whose married life survived death or other accidents. Some have been lost track of completely. But 23 couples came in response to his invitation and several sent messages.

Consequently, he has been encouraged to repeat the service, which will be held Sunday, June 17, at 11 a. m. The pastor has asked the couples to meet in the church basement a little in advance of the service so that the group may enter the church to the strains of the Wedding March.

There will be no service at the Dutch Reformed Church Sunday, June 10, at which time the Rev. Mr. Todd and B. C. Wells will attend the General Synod of their church which will be held at Buckhill Falls, Pa.

Children's Day will be held at the church Sunday, June 24.

Village Notes

Woodstock, June 7—Mrs. Paul Periman, and her son Danny, will leave Saturday on the Ile de France for a visit to France and England.

A shower was given for Miss Ruth Hasbrouck daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Hasbrouck at the Maverick Inn Monday night. The hostess was Miss Audrey Sheriff and the guests included Mrs. Joseph Holdridge, Jr., Mrs. Robert Rifenburg and Mrs. Charles Bailey. Miss Hasbrouck will be married in July to LeRoy O'Brien.

Robert Hastie left Wesdnesday to enter the air force at Langley Field, Va. Hastie, who was in the infantry during the last war, in the 3rd Infantry Division, 7th Army in the ETO, under the late General George Patton's command. After his discharge, Hastie joined the air force reserve.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farnham, of Chicago, and Miss Elizabeth H. Wyman, of Bloomfield, N. J., will be the guests Friday of Mrs. Arthur F. Wyman.

Jacob Demler will leave today for Buffalo for an extended visit.

Hotel Entertainers Go Back to Work

Monticello, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Catskill Mountain resort entertainers were reported back at work today after a week-long walkout. But they may strike again if negotiations fail later this month.

The entertainers, members of the AFL American Guild of Variety Artists, struck on Memorial Day in Sullivan, Ulster and Greene counties.

The stoppage reportedly affected 400-odd hotels and other resorts.

The union sought to require resort hotels to book entertainers in proportion to the number of their rooms, and also demanded a wage boost.

The return to work was announced yesterday by Joseph Regelson, manager of the Harmony Country Club here and president of the Mountain Hotelmen's Federation of Sullivan and Ulster counties.

He said the AGVA agreed to send its workers back on the job pending further negotiations starting June 18.

If no settlement is reached, Regelson said, the union would be free to strike again.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Keep Your Eyes On Key Cards

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

George W. Beynon is best known as a tournament director of the American Contract Bridge League, but he is also an enthusiastic and skillful bridge player. When he went to Washington, D. C., recently, to make arrangements for the national championships that will be held there in August, he took time off to win a local team event with the help of the hand shown today.

The bidding was the same in both rooms, and in each case the opening lead was the five of spades. In the first room the declarer let the lead ride around to his hand, winning the first trick with the ace of spades.

South then laid down his three diamonds and led a club to dummy's ten. East refused the fist round of clubs and later refused the second club. Hence South could make only two club tricks.

When East eventually got in with the ace of clubs he returned a spade to set up the rest of West's suit. The defenders thus made two spades, two hearts, and a club to set the contract.

When Beynon played the hand he assured the contract by winning the first trick with dummy's king. Now he could lead out his own high diamonds and lead a club to dummy's ten.

No matter how the defenders squirmed Beynon was sure to get to dummy with one of the club honors to cash the king of diamonds. He was also bound to get his hand with the ace of spades to cash his last club.

The whole point, as Beynon saw at the first trick, was that South must keep the ace of spades as an eventual entry to his hand. Dummy's king of spades is not needed for communication between the two hands and can therefore be spared to win the first trick.

Maria Tallchief Asks Annulment

New York, June 7 (AP)—Maria Tallchief, prima ballerina of the New York City Ballet Company, has asked annulment of her marriage, claiming her husband is interested only in her career and not in raising a family.

The 28-year-old dancer, daughter of an Osage Indian, was married in 1946 to George Balanchine, director of choreographer of the ballet company.

Appearing in Supreme Court yesterday, she testified:

"He said that anybody can have children, but only a few people can dance.

"He said my career was far more important than a family and that I was more important to him as a dancer that a mother.

"When I asked him about the promises he made (to have a family), he said I should become engrossed in my career and forget about being a mother."

The court reserved decision.

The Star Spangled Banner became the National Anthem on March 3, 1931.

Naval Observatory Has Master Clock Of Great Accuracy

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

New York, June 7 (AP)—A new master clock, varying less than a ten-thousandth of a second a day, went to work today monitoring much of America's time.

This clock is more accurate than the earth's rotation, which the U. S. Naval Observatory uses as America's basic time. The earth varies by nearly a second per year—slower in spring, faster in fall.

The new clock was built by the Bell Telephone Laboratories. It monitors America's radio stations and virtually all the telephone calls. It monitors the electric clocks everywhere in the northeastern United States, where the interconnected electric light and power companies go by this Bell time.

As electrical communications become more closely knit, it is expected that this clock, or one similar, will time the entire United States.

Depends on Crystals

The new clock depends on four quartz crystals, each vibrating a hundred thousand times a second. These crystals are the earth's most accurate time-keepers, until the day in the future when we can go to atomic time. The atomic clocks use ammonia, whose hydrogen and carbon molecules vibrate more steadily than anything else. These atomic clocks still are experimental.

The master timekeeper not only ticks the split seconds, but sees to it that its wires transmit them accurately to all services. It catches mistakes and records them on a system of six white-face dials occupying wall space the size of a big door. Six hundred electronic tubes are hooked to the electric impulses from the vibrating crystals. The original electric current to each crystal is only a thousandth part of the current in a 100-watt home light.

Engineers who designed and built the clock are J. G. Ferguson, W. J. Means, E. P. Felch, and G. N. Packard, with advice from W. A. Marrison.

Bridges' Traffic Shows Increase

The three Hudson river bridges under control of the New York State Bridge Authority showed an increase in travel of 7.34 per cent in May this year over May, 1950, the authority announced today.

The total last month was 495,684 as against 461,796 a year ago, an increase of 33,888 vehicles.

Highest in travel gain last month was the Mid-Hudson bridge at Poughkeepsie with a percentage gain of 8.33. Last month's total was 266,670 vehicles as against 246,154 in 1950, a gain of 20,516.

The Bear Mountain bridge was next with a gain of 6.22 per cent. It clocked 117,792 vehicles last month and 110,894 a year ago for a gain of 6,898.

The Rip Van Winkle bridge at Catskill gained by 6.18 per cent or 6,474 vehicles. It clocked 111,222 last month and 104,748 in 1950.

Travel on the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry shows a decided loss for the month because the ferry was out of service for ten days. The totals were 4,734 vehicles this year and 7,671 last year, a loss of 2,937. Pedestrian totals were 1,477 this year and 2,695 in May, 1950, a loss of 1,218.

Woman Named Chief By Probation Council

Margaret Hathaway, chief probation officer of Columbia county, was elected chairman of the Third Area, New York State Administrators' Council of Probation Officers, at the area conference held in Kingston Wednesday.

The out-going chairman, Charles Cline, of Dutchess county, presided at the meeting, which was held at the county court house. Discussions of general probation problems were followed by a roundtable discussion of specific problems.

The area includes 16 counties in Eastern New York state from Albany and Schenectady counties in the north to Putnam and Rockland counties in the south.

Those present were Edward J. Taylor, state director of probation; Francis J. Murati, probation examiner, both of Albany; Miss Hathaway; Edward Jeffries of Rockland county; Charles Cline and Raymond Connelly of Dutchess county; Abram Livingston of Schenectady county; John Schoonmaker of Orange county and Edmund U. Burhans of Ulster county.

Boy Reported Hurt

Nicholas Nazzo, 10, of 66 Prospect street, suffered an injury of the right leg in a traffic mishap at Maiden Lane and Albany avenue yesterday. The police report at 6:18 p. m., said that Leslie Elton Bates, of Los Angeles, Calif., was headed east on Albany avenue, when the boy on a bicycle, coming out of Maiden Lane "collided with the right rear of the Bates car."

Dog-Gone Top

"Lady," an English setter owned by Harry Callahan, takes a look around Park Square in Boston June 6 after eating her way through the top of her master's convertible. Lady recently became the mother of three sets of twins. Emerging from a store, Callahan was asked if he intended to punish Lady. "I wouldn't think of it," he answered. (AP Wirephoto).

Committee Gives Approval to New Taxation Boosts

Washington, June 7 (AP)—A 12½ per cent increase in individual income taxes and a boost of five percentage points in corporate tax rates won final approval today from the House Ways and Means Committee.

Moving ahead at a faster clip on the proposed $7,100,000,000 tax increase bill, the committee also approved an overall ceiling of 90 per cent on the amount of an individual's income the government could take in taxes, and a 70 per cent top on a corporation's earnings.

A proposal to broaden the base for the excess profits tax remained to be voted upon later.

Also subject to final ratification are $1,000,000,000 in proposed additional excise taxes on such articles as liquor, cigarettes, automobiles, gasoline and certain electrical appliances.

King Not Present

London, June 7 (AP)—London celebrated the King's birthday today without the King—and anyway it wasn't his birthday. As George VI continued a four-week rest, recuperating from influenza, heiress apparent Princess Elizabeth mounted her chestnut charger, Winston, to take the salute for the King at the annual trooping of the colors by the brigade of guards.

So light and pliable is an Alaska sealskin that an entire pelt can be passed through a napkin ring.

Births

The city registrar recorded 94 births in May. This was ten more than in April and 14 more than in May, 1950.

Births recorded recently were:

May 28—Harold Joseph to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Bonham, Ulster Park.

May 29—Ernest, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gilyardi, 80 Pine street.

May 30—Kevin Joseph to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Harold Plattner, 4 Stuyvesant street.

May 31—Kathleen Mary to Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Oscar Steuding, 17 Fort street.

80 Die in Crash

Rio de Janeiro, June 7 (AP)—The government-operated railway said today a suburban train collided with a gasoline truck, killing 80 persons and injuring 50 others. A railway spokesman said first reports from the scene gave a toll of at least 80 dead, but "possibly there are about 100." He said the commuter train, coming from Quiemados to Rio, was crowded with workers.

During 1949, the American steel industry consumed 105,000,000 tons of iron ore to make 55,000,000 tons of pig iron and castings.

Allies Sweep . . .

losses," a UN officer said. "The bodies must be stacked on each other."

The UN advance in the west was paced by infantrymen storming up Mount Kodae, four miles southwest of Chorwon. They pushed the Chinese back to a point 40 miles from the deepest penetration of their abortive spring offensives.

Atop the 2,700 foot hill, United Nations forces dominate entranceways to the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Yonggang triangle. On their left is the Seoul-Chorwon highway. On their right is the opening of Pyonggang valley, which splits the triangle.

Chorwon itself lies in front. Only one low hill stands between the allies and the city.

But front dispatches said the Reds have quit retreating. They've dug in to fight.

Smallest Gains

The U. S. Eighth Army communique Thursday night reported the smallest gains of its counter-offensive. Distances were given for only two advances.

Troops capturing Kodae, and their supporting forces, gained 1,000 to 2,000 yards, through artillery and mortar fire. Flanking units spreading west across the Imjin river near Yonchon ran into bitter fights.

UN forces on the east flank, spearing toward the center of the iron triangle, advanced 2,000 yards. Censorship obscured their position.

Elsewhere, where the allies gained at all, it was an inching advance paced by probing tank forces.

Reds threw up their heaviest artillery barrages of the war. Some captured hills were strewn with equipment and bodies of Communist soldiers.

Resistance Reported

"Heavy enemy resistance" was reported from the eastern drive toward Kumhwa on across the rest of the front.

Despite air and artillery power the allies were able to make only two small penetrations of the Red wall in the east, AP Correspondent George A. McArthur reported.

North Koreans stuck to their long-topped bunkers and foxholes. They hit back at attacking U.N. forces with sporadic mortar and 105 millimeter artillery fire.

Communists have held one spiny ridge north of Inje for four days, despite ceaseless air and artillery bombardment and repeated infantry attacks. U.N. infantrymen pushed up the ridge four times Thursday. Each time they were driven back by machinegun and rifle fire.

U.N. warplanes hammered at the Reds through the day. Taking advantage of bright sunshine, the Fifth Airforce mounted 530 sorties Thursday. Sixty-three strikes were at the front lines. Most of the rest ripped up rails and roadways leading to the iron triangle, down which Reds continued to pour supplies.

Shifting Forces

McArthur reported "there were indications the Chinese were shifting their forces westward, possibly for a renewed strike down the Uijongbu corridor."

That's the same corridor U.N. forces moved up to the gates of Chorwon.

Front line commanders said the Communists were desperate to save huge stores scattered in the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyonggang triangle.

There has been no sign that the supplies have been carted away. Personnel was not being evacuated from town or hillside.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from Eighth Army headquarters there was every reason to believe the Chinese would fight to save Chorwon and Kumhwa.

Bradshaw reported that another period of what army sources called "firm contact" appeared to be in the offing.

"Such action on the part of the enemy," he said, "in the past has been followed by weeks of relative inactivity, with a Red counter-offensive in the making."

Perpetual Motion

The futility of the hope for perpetual motion applies also to electricity. If a motor is used to drive a generator, the generator will not produce enough power to run the motor because of friction and other power losses.

New Delay Faces Tax Hike Plans

Washington, June 7 (AP)—A proposed $7,100,000,000 tax increase faced further delay today. Word came that the final draft of some sections of the measure may not reach the House Ways and Means Committee until next week.

The committee, which has been considering the increase four months, began making its final decisions yesterday but reached agreement on only two matters. These were:

1. To increase the effective rate on long term capital gains from 25 per cent to 28½ per cent, for corporations as well as individuals.

2. Not to hold the overall ceiling on corporate taxes—normal, surtax and excess profits taxes—to the present level of 62 per cent of a corporation's net income. The committee tentatively decided two weeks ago to raise the ceiling to 70 per cent, but this figure has not been finally affirmed.

The committee still has to take final votes on a proposed $2,900,000,000 increase in individual income taxes, a $2,800,000,000 boost in corporate taxes, a $400,000,000 program of withholding at the source on interest and dividends, and a $1,000,000,000 excise tax hike affecting among other items liquor, cigarettes, automobiles, gasoline and certain electrical appliances.

House Okay Seen For Draft Action

Washington, June 7 (AP)—House approval seemed certain today on the compromise draft-universal military training bill worked out by Senate-House conferees.

The Senate approved the compromise last week. A House okay would send the measure to the White House for President Truman's signature. The present draft law expires July 9.

The bill extends the draft law four years to July 1, 1955; extends the period of service from 21 to 24 months; requires registration of all men between the ages of 18 and 26; and reduces the draft age from 19 years to 18½.

It also would make all draft age male aliens admitted for permanent residence liable to service. Physical standards for military service would be reduced to those in effect in January, 1945; mental standards reduced three points on the present scoring system in use. The strength of the armed forces would be limited to a top of 5,000,000 until July 31, 1954.

The UMT sections of the measure provide for appointment of a National Security Training Commission of five members, three of whom, including the chairman, must be civilians.

Sponsored by the Ulster County Safety Council, this scene may well serve as an early warning to summer drivers. Richard M. Through this reminder, the county safety group has appealed to the public to heed the dangers of recklessness and selfishness on the highways and to make the summer driving season safe and sane in every respect. (Freeman Photo)

Rochester, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—The president of a radio and television training school has pleaded guilty to charges that he made fraudulent claims for government money under the GI Bill of Rights.

The FBI said the men defrauded the Veterans Administration of $183,000 between June 15, 1948 and April 12, 1951.

The New York city men were identified as Benjamin Daitz, 35, secretary of the school; Maurice Rosenstreich, 38, treasurer of the school; Donald Rose, a school director, and Robert G. Herzog, vice president of the Universal General Corp., a radio and television supply house.

New Delay Faces Tax Hike Plans

Washington, June 7 (AP)—A proposed $7,100,000,000 tax increase faced further delay today. Word came that the final draft of some sections of the measure may not reach the House Ways and Means Committee until next week.

The committee, which has been considering the increase four months, began making its final decisions yesterday but reached agreement on only two matters. These were:

1. To increase the effective rate on long term capital gains from 25 per cent to 28½ per cent, for corporations as well as individuals.

2. Not to hold the overall ceiling on corporate taxes—normal, surtax and excess profits taxes—to the present level of 62 per cent of a corporation's net income. The committee tentatively decided two weeks ago to raise the ceiling to 70 per cent, but this figure has not been finally affirmed.

School 2 Mothers Vote New York Trip For Sixth Graders

At this year's final meeting Tuesday of the Mothers' Club of School No. 2, with Mrs. Julius Mandel, president, presiding, members voted to honor the sixth grade, who will continue their studies in the Myron J. Michael School next fall, with a trip to New York. While there they will visit the Planetarium and the Museum of Natural History.

Committee members arranging the trip are the Mmes. Richard Fox, Roland Pope, J. Nicholas Stock, John Conlin, and Miss Anna Weisman.

During the meeting a film, Preface to Life, was shown. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Dwight McEntee, program chairman, with the Ulster County Mental Health Association.

The film is based on the influences of adult behavior on a child's development. It underlined that children need the love and sense of security they derive from both parents. Parents, it explained, must not force their own unfulfilled desires upon the growing child. Instead, each child must be treated and respected as an individual. Adult perfection should not be insisted upon in any activity, although each child should be encouraged to do his best in all activities according to his age level.

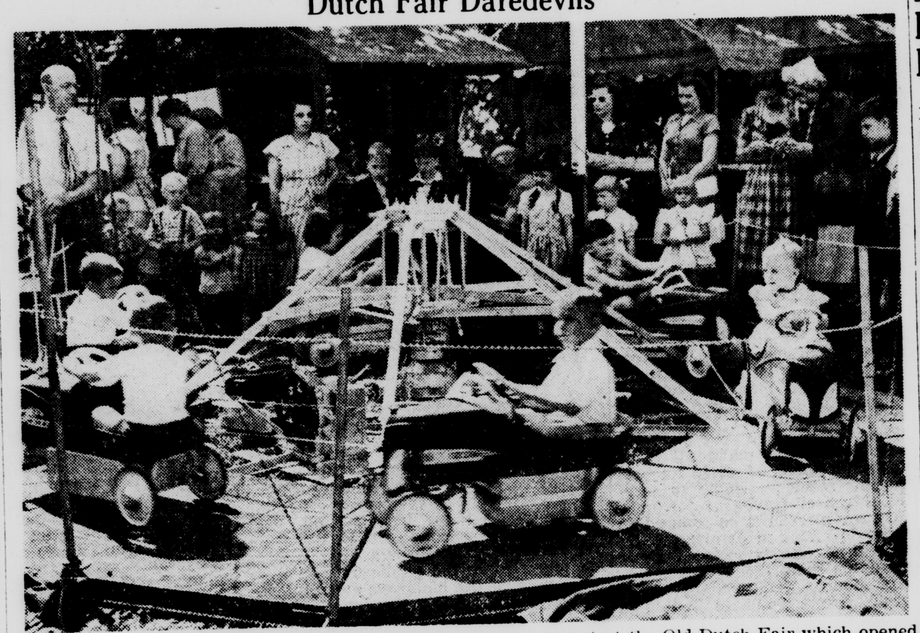
Dutch Fair Daredevils



An even half dozen junior daredevils give the course a tryout at the Old Dutch Fair which opened yesterday, while several of their contemporaries look wistfully on. The fair, which is being given under the auspices of the Old First Reformed Church, will close tomorrow night. (Freeman Photo)

Galaxy of Dolls Is Display Highlight At Old Dutch Fair

A collection of dolls, the sort little girls have lavished with love and affection, in some instances for more than a hundred years, highlights this year the Old First Reformed Church's annual Dutch fair. Some are spotlessly new, clean and fresh. Others bear the telling marks of small hands that were sometimes not too clean.

There are over 225 dolls in the display which will be open to the public tonight until 9:30 p. m., and tomorrow from noon on, carefully arranged by Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool and her assistants in an upstairs room of the new addition to Bethany hall. There are all kinds. Seated a little stiffly on a miniature chair is a china headed Miss. Across the room stand a series of immaculate story book dolls, ranging from a charming southern belle in pale lavender to a Scotch lass in bright plaid. Every conceivable size can be found . . . a set of stuffed twins, all blue gingham and yellow wool hair, taller than a tall two-year-old . . . petite character miniatures not more than an inch high.

There are dolls from fairyland's enchanted realms, and from the comic books, with Bambi and Bugs Bunny standing nearly side by side.

Grouped near the antique china and bisque dolls is a really fine exhibit of dolls' furniture, from a four-poster bed to an old cast iron range, complete with stove pipe and kitchen utensils; the sort of stove that heated Grandma's house from the kitchen.

Judging the exhibit yesterday afternoon were Miss Ethel Beatty and Fred Johnson.

Oldest China Doll

First prize for the oldest china doll, the property of Jane LeFevre, is a fine example made in the 1830s, with kid arms and legs, still dressed in her original dress and sunbonnet. Second prize fell to Mrs. Clarence Freer with a doll from the Civil War period, also dressed in her original clothes, with cloth hands and feet. The oldest rag doll, dating back about 35 years, is owned by Mrs. Ida Sherman.

The most unusual in the foreign doll collection is Mrs. Ralph Kiff's Japanese warrior, resplendent in rich purples. Runner-up was Sandra Tremper's large Bavarian doll, appropriately dressed in a high ornate headdress, and richly embroidered and voluminous native costume. The exhibit's most interesting doll is owned by Donna Scholten. It was made from bits of rag and colored beads by a native nurse in Iraq who cared for Ruth Gorseline while her parents were serving as missionaries in Dasrah.

Other Awards

Other awards went to Jane Sheaffer for her king and queen of the Mardigras as the most unusual man and woman pair, with Sandra Tremper's Norwegian farmer and his wife as runners up. A 32-year-old bisque headed German doll owned by Mrs. Henry Kraus won the best loved award, with Dorothy Dumond's 12-inch wooden doll, a family treasure for many years, in second place. At one time the second prize winner met with catastrophe when some youngster with a pair of inviting scissors sacrificed her curls to impulse.

The doll made from the oldest substance was an Eskimo man fashioned from baby seal skin, owned by Mrs. Torm Larsen. Second prize winner in that category was Mrs. Larsen's Kentucky Mountain woman of corn husks.

Coming to stuffed animals, first prize fell to Janet and Carol Kaercher for their Bugs Bunny, with Eloise Van Kleeck's Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rabbit in second place. Linda Schneider's Little Joan copped first award for the story book dolls and Marcia Jaxheimer won second prize for her Swedish lass.

Prize winner for the furniture was Donna Scholten, with an early American curved-back chair in first place, and her four-poster doll bed in second.

First Church School Plans Move to New Building on Sunday

The church school of the Old First Reformed Church will move into the church building's newly completed addition for the first time Sunday morning, June 10, Miss Marjorie Eisenberger, director of religious education at the church, announced today. Although construction has reached the stage where the addition is perfectly usable, formal dedication services will not be held until fall.

The primary department will have its own assembly room on the second floor of the building, and will hold its opening exercises and classes there. The attractive assembly room designated for their use is known as the Robert Gwynne Chambers Memorial Room. The beginners' department will also have its own assembly room on the new wing's main floor.

This week, the junior through senior departments will hold opening exercises in the main church auditorium, as they have for the past year. At the service's conclusion the various classes will go to their own rooms in the new building.

During the church school hour rehearsals for Children's Day, scheduled this year for the regular morning service June 17, will be held. The program will be devoted entirely to the church school, and the choirs. Both school and choir members will be presented with awards for attendance, and primary youngsters moving up to the junior department will receive their Bibles.

School 2 Mothers Vote New York Trip For Sixth Graders

At this year's final meeting Tuesday of the Mothers' Club of School No. 2, with Mrs. Julius Mandel, president, presiding, members voted to honor the sixth grade, who will continue their studies in the Myron J. Michael School next fall, with a trip to New York. While there they will visit the Planetarium and the Museum of Natural History.

Committee members arranging the trip are the Mmes. Richard Fox, Roland Pope, J. Nicholas Stock, John Conlin, and Miss Anna Weisman.

During the meeting a film, Preface to Life, was shown. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Dwight McEntee, program chairman, with the Ulster County Mental Health Association.

The film is based on the influences of adult behavior on a child's development. It underlined that children need the love and sense of security they derive from both parents. Parents, it explained, must not force their own unfulfilled desires upon the growing child. Instead, each child must be treated and respected as an individual. Adult perfection should not be insisted upon in any activity, although each child should be encouraged to do his best in all activities according to his age level.

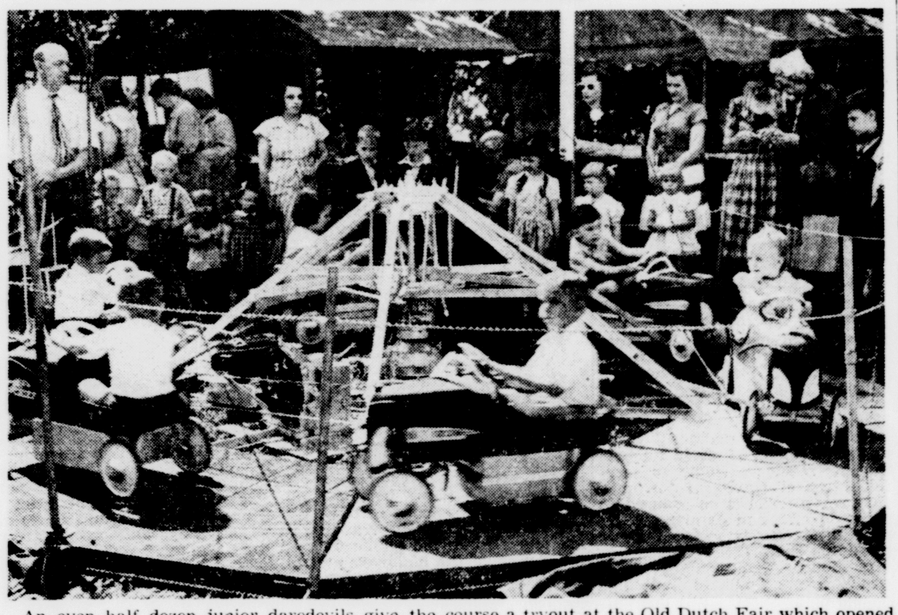
Dutch Fair Daredevils



An even half dozen junior daredevils give the course a tryout at the Old Dutch Fair which opened yesterday, while several of their contemporaries look wistfully on. The fair, which is being given under the auspices of the Old First Reformed Church, will close tomorrow night. (Freeman Photo)

Galaxy of Dolls Is Display Highlight At Old Dutch Fair

A collection of dolls, the sort little girls have lavished with love and affection, in some instances for more than a hundred years, highlights this year the Old First Reformed Church's annual Dutch fair. Some are spotlessly new, clean and fresh. Others bear the telling marks of small hands that were sometimes not too clean.

There are over 225 dolls in the display which will be open to the public tonight until 9:30 p. m., and tomorrow from noon on, carefully arranged by Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool and her assistants in an upstairs room of the new addition to Bethany hall. There are all kinds. Seated a little stiffly on a miniature chair is a china headed Miss. Across the room stand a series of immaculate story book dolls, ranging from a charming southern belle in pale lavender to a Scotch lass in bright plaid. Every conceivable size can be found . . . a set of stuffed twins, all blue gingham and yellow wool hair, taller than a tall two-year-old . . . petite character miniatures not more than an inch high.

There are dolls from fairyland's enchanted realms, and from the comic books, with Bambi and Bugs Bunny standing nearly side by side.

Grouped near the antique china and bisque dolls is a really fine exhibit of dolls' furniture, from a four-poster bed to an old cast iron range, complete with stove pipe and kitchen utensils; the sort of stove that heated Grandma's house from the kitchen.

Judging the exhibit yesterday afternoon were Miss Ethel Beatty and Fred Johnson.

Oldest China Doll

First prize for the oldest china doll, the property of Jane LeFevre, is a fine example made in the 1830s, with kid arms and legs, still dressed in her original dress and sunbonnet. Second prize fell to Mrs. Clarence Freer with a doll from the Civil War period, also dressed in her original clothes, with cloth hands and feet. The oldest rag doll, dating back about 35 years, is owned by Mrs. Ida Sherman.

The most unusual in the foreign doll collection is Mrs. Ralph Kiff's Japanese warrior, resplendent in rich purples. Runner-up was Sandra Tremper's large Bavarian doll, appropriately dressed in a high ornate headdress, and richly embroidered and voluminous native costume. The exhibit's most interesting doll is owned by Donna Scholten. It was made from bits of rag and colored beads by a native nurse in Iraq who cared for Ruth Gorseline while her parents were serving as missionaries in Dasrah.

Other Awards

Other awards went to Jane Sheaffer for her king and queen of the Mardigras as the most unusual man and woman pair, with Sandra Tremper's Norwegian farmer and his wife as runners up. A 32-year-old bisque headed German doll owned by Mrs. Henry Kraus won the best loved award, with Dorothy Dumond's 12-inch wooden doll, a family treasure for many years, in second place. At one time the second prize winner met with catastrophe when some youngster with a pair of inviting scissors sacrificed her curls to impulse.

The doll made from the oldest substance was an Eskimo man fashioned from baby seal skin, owned by Mrs. Torm Larsen. Second prize winner in that category was Mrs. Larsen's Kentucky Mountain woman of corn husks.

Coming to stuffed animals, first prize fell to Janet and Carol Kaercher for their Bugs Bunny, with Eloise Van Kleeck's Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rabbit in second place. Linda Schneider's Little Joan copped first award for the story book dolls and Marcia Jaxheimer won second prize for her Swedish lass.

Prize winner for the furniture was Donna Scholten, with an early American curved-back chair in first place, and her four-poster doll bed in second.

First Church School Plans Move to New Building on Sunday

The church school of the Old First Reformed Church will move into the church building's newly completed addition for the first time Sunday morning, June 10, Miss Marjorie Eisenberger, director of religious education at the church, announced today. Although construction has reached the stage where the addition is perfectly usable, formal dedication services will not be held until fall.

The primary department will have its own assembly room on the second floor of the building, and will hold its opening exercises and classes there. The attractive assembly room designated for their use is known as the Robert Gwynne Chambers Memorial Room. The beginners' department will also have its own assembly room on the new wing's main floor.

This week, the junior through senior departments will hold opening exercises in the main church auditorium, as they have for the past year. At the service's conclusion the various classes will go to their own rooms in the new building.

During the church school hour rehearsals for Children's Day, scheduled this year for the regular morning service June 17, will be held. The program will be devoted entirely to the church school, and the choirs. Both school and choir members will be presented with awards for attendance, and primary youngsters moving up to the junior department will receive their Bibles.

Receives Award

At recent "moving-up day" ceremonies at Buffalo State Teachers College Betty L. Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Bryant, Lomontville, was the recipient of the Bishop Award. The award is given to a senior girl who has shown the highest qualities of scholarship, character, and leadership in her class.

HOME BUREAU

Saxton Unit

A business meeting was held recently in the Saxton fire house, Mrs. Percy Mower, vice-chairman, presiding. The subject of home nursing was discussed. Due to such a small attendance, the subject was not fully discussed. It is requested that all members be present at the next meeting, June 14, so that a conclusion may be reached in regard to the home nursing course. A discussion on plans for the picnic also will be held. Hostesses on the refreshment committee were Mrs. Anna Wilhelm and Mrs. Hilda Hipp.

Cashin Revue Packs Broadway Theatre; 150 Students Perform

There was standing room only last night as 1,900 persons jammed the Broadway Theatre for the Cashin School of Dancing's 21st annual revue, in which more than 150 children performed.

The revue opened with a blackened stage, with Buddy Carpenelli, vocal soloist, and other members of Bring on the Girls, dressed in colorful fluorescent costumes.

Another highlight of the show was Diane's Dream of Dancing, with 12 acts done in all types of dancing from that perennial favorite the waltz through toe dancing and clowns. More than 65 youthful artists participated in that act alone.

Unusual staging effects were achieved with a gauze curtain and trees in Indian Powow, with Tommy Davitt starring as the Indian chief. Anne Miller and Mildred Rothery won laurels for their exceptional modern toe strut, as did Beverly Havlin with her Nautical Tap on Toe.

Another ambitious section of the two-hour show was the wedding scene, with its complete wedding party featuring Bobby Brown and Beverly Perry as the bride and groom.

Pat Cardindale, vocalist, earned cheers in Tiptoe Through the Tulips, while Barn Dance Shuffle, with vocalist Buddy Carpinelli, brought the house down.

Unusual lighting and staging effects were once again achieved in the Rainbow Ballet, starring vocalist Yolanda Modica, Terry O'Reilly as soloist, eight-year-old Judy Van Bramer as the acrobatic dancer, and toe trio Janice Henderson, Jean Everett, and Fay Davis. The scene closed with six parasol girls. Also unusual were two acrobatic dancers, Betty Bunce and Kathleen Mehm.

Other soloists in last nights opening were Nancy Silvestri, Peter Blanchan, Marianne Wolff, Sandy Mackey, Betty Ann Merritt, Patricia Nawe, and Linda Marz, while Miss Mickey Otto, assistant instructress danced a tap number, and a ballet on toe.

The grand finale, a salute to the U. S. A., came as a fitting climax, when an American flag was dropped, nearly covering the entire back of the stage. A baton act and 20 twirlers were followed by a flag drill in which the entire cast participated.

Doors will open at 7:30 p. m. tonight for the revue, which is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. The screen feature will begin at 10:15 p. m.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

AGAIN, PLEASE DON'T!

I know a majority of my readers feel as I do about this suggestion: "My wedding is planned for early fall and the reception will be a cocktail party. I would like to know if it is necessary to indicate this fact in the invitation?"

As I wrote several months ago which brought me many letters of approval, you may have cocktail parties at any other time you like, but please not in connection with the traditional breakfast or reception associated with a wedding.

When Manners Are Handicapped

Dear Mrs. Post: How can a man manage a handicap which is not evident without emphasizing it or showing himself up as unmannered? In case you are properly puzzled, the story is this: I had infantile paralysis in childhood which makes it impossible for me to lift either arm high enough to help a lady on with her coat. There are many times arising in which I have to either be ill-mannered or go into explanation which rather embarrasses me. My friends know or can be told, yes, but I mean in the other situations calling for my help.

Answer: When really necessary, the best thing to do is to say briefly: "Sorry I can't help you; I have a bad arm."

New Idea for Junior

Dear Mrs. Post: If when a noted father dies and the grown son does not feel that he ought to discard the Jr. from his name because of his father's eminence, then when he himself has a son, what would you think of the idea of calling his son John Henry Smith, Jr., 2nd instead of John Henry Smith, 3rd? In this way later when the public forgets and the elder Smith does drop the Jr., it would be less confusing for the younger man to drop "2nd" than to become Jr., from the 3rd. Please give your views.

Answer: I am very sorry but you cannot change such a thoroughly established convention. To do so would only add still further to the confusion.

Would you like to have some model notes to help you in writing your notes and letters? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but she has prepared leaflet E-21 which includes various forms. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Cashin Revue Packs Broadway Theatre; 150 Students Perform

There was standing room only last night as 1,900 persons jammed the Broadway Theatre for the Cashin School of Dancing's 21st annual revue, in which more than 150 children performed.

The revue opened with a blackened stage, with Buddy Carpenelli, vocal soloist, and other members of Bring on the Girls, dressed in colorful fluorescent costumes.

Another highlight of the show was Diane's Dream of Dancing, with 12 acts done in all types of dancing from that perennial favorite the waltz through toe dancing and clowns. More than 65 youthful artists participated in that act alone.

Unusual staging effects were achieved with a gauze curtain and trees in Indian Powow, with Tommy Davitt starring as the Indian chief. Anne Miller and Mildred Rothery won laurels for their exceptional modern toe strut, as did Beverly Havlin with her Nautical Tap on Toe.

Another ambitious section of the two-hour show was the wedding scene, with its complete wedding party featuring Bobby Brown and Beverly Perry as the bride and groom.

Pat Cardindale, vocalist, earned cheers in Tiptoe Through the Tulips, while Barn Dance Shuffle, with vocalist Buddy Carpinelli, brought the house down.

Unusual lighting and staging effects were once again achieved in the Rainbow Ballet, starring vocalist Yolanda Modica, Terry O'Reilly as soloist, eight-year-old Judy Van Bramer as the acrobatic dancer, and toe trio Janice Henderson, Jean Everett, and Fay Davis. The scene closed with six parasol girls. Also unusual were two acrobatic dancers, Betty Bunce and Kathleen Mehm.

Other soloists in last nights opening were Nancy Silvestri, Peter Blanchan, Marianne Wolff, Sandy Mackey, Betty Ann Merritt, Patricia Nawe, and Linda Marz, while Miss Mickey Otto, assistant instructress danced a tap number, and a ballet on toe.

The grand finale, a salute to the U. S. A., came as a fitting climax, when an American flag was dropped, nearly covering the entire back of the stage. A baton act and 20 twirlers were followed by a flag drill in which the entire cast participated.

Doors will open at 7:30 p. m. tonight for the revue, which is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. The screen feature will begin at 10:15 p. m.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

AGAIN, PLEASE DON'T!

I know a majority of my readers feel as I do about this suggestion: "My wedding is planned for early fall and the reception will be a cocktail party. I would like to know if it is necessary to indicate this fact in the invitation?"

As I wrote several months ago which brought me many letters of approval, you may have cocktail parties at any other time you like, but please not in connection with the traditional breakfast or reception associated with a wedding.

When Manners Are Handicapped

Dear Mrs. Post: How can a man manage a handicap which is not evident without emphasizing it or showing himself up as unmannered? In case you are properly puzzled, the story is this: I had infantile paralysis in childhood which makes it impossible for me to lift either arm high enough to help a lady on with her coat. There are many times arising in which I have to either be ill-mannered or go into explanation which rather embarrasses me. My friends know or can be told, yes, but I mean in the other situations calling for my help.

Answer: When really necessary, the best thing to do is to say briefly: "Sorry I can't help you; I have a bad arm."

New Idea for Junior

Dear Mrs. Post: If when a noted father dies and the grown son does not feel that he ought to discard the Jr. from his name because of his father's eminence, then when he himself has a son, what would you think of the idea of calling his son John Henry Smith, Jr., 2nd instead of John Henry Smith, 3rd? In this way later when the public forgets and the elder Smith does drop the Jr., it would be less confusing for the younger man to drop "2nd" than to become Jr., from the 3rd. Please give your views.

Answer: I am very sorry but you cannot change such a thoroughly established convention. To do so would only add still further to the confusion.

Would you like to have some model notes to help you in writing your notes and letters? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but she has prepared leaflet E-21 which includes various forms. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, June 5 — Local scholars of the seventh grade of the Wallkill Central School enjoyed a trip to the State Capitol at Albany by bus last Monday.

Mrs. George Sisti Sr., member of the executive committee of the Ulster County Home Bureau, represented the local unit at the Eastern District Federation meeting held recently in Saugerties.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ingraham, of Ohioville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warren recently.

The following members of the Plattekill Jolly Makers Club received awards at the annual dress revue Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Kingston; Barbara and Ann Langlitz, Lucy Martino, Ruth Quiles, Gayle Wager, Mary Monaghan, Albina Orlowski, Nerida Perez, Lenore Jacowitz, Mary and Betty Murphy.

Local children receiving the sacrament of confirmation at St. Joseph's Church, New Paltz Tuesday were Eugene and Raphel Bilboa, Daniel Feldt, Daniel Green, Anthony Ruggerio, Ruben Santiego, James Van Duser, Joseph Vega, Barbara and Regina Dawes, Anita, Joan and Therese Ferreuolo, Nora Gollardo, Rose Green, Mary and Margaret Kopaski, Rosemarie Markey, Cynthia Martinez, Mary Monaghan, Mary O'Dell, Paula Orlowski and Kathleen Schweitt.

More than 100 guests attended the annual music festival given recently at the Plattekill school. More than 45 pupils participated in an interlude, with two school bands and three choruses. Miss Elaine Kniffin of New Paltz, director of the flutophone and the school band, was in charge of a program including scores of marches, waltzes and melodies from the New World Symphony. The second grade chorus, directed by Mrs. Myron Fosler, principal, entertained with three songs. Cumulative songs in German, English, Old English and Texan, were rendered by scholars of the fourth and fifth grades, under the tutelage of Mrs. John Klein. Pupils of the fifth and sixth grades concluded the program with old favorites. An outdoor concert is on schedule.

The regular meeting of the Plattekill Grange was held Saturday night when a program dealing with homestead and Grange hall improvement was in charge of Mrs. Milton Van Duser. Assisting were Mrs. George Sisti, Mrs. Walter Kleeman, Mrs. Bruce Huggins and Mrs. Frank Ruggerrio. The refreshment committee included Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Scott, Wilma Scott, Mrs. Carrie Harris, Mrs. Richard Blass, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hedges, Mrs. William Miller and Donald Meyers. Those serving on the committee of the chicken supper and dance held Tuesday night at the Grange Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Longendyke, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Duser, Mrs. Edmund Wager, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hedges, Mrs. Ira Merwin, Mr. and Mrs. John Labriola, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Moshenskie, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cronk, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fosler, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Langlitz.

The Rev. Edgar A. Raynis officiated at funeral services for George Martin at Perrott's Funeral Home in Newburgh Saturday. Mr. Martin, 87, died at his home, south of Plattekill May 23, after a grief illness. He is survived by a son, George Martin, Jr., two granddaughters, Carol and Donna Martin, and a niece, Mrs. Frank DePew, all of Plattekill.

Rabbits Fulfill Tradition

Oshkosh, Nebr. (AP) — It's true what they say about rabbits. A white New Zealand doe here produced 36 bunnies in four months. One litter had eight baby rabbits, the next 11, and the third 17.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time, I am mailed items and newspaper clippings without the sender's name. Just received a part of the "New York Times" dated December 20, 1883. It was mailed from Kingston, so it seems, in a Pittsfild, Mass., envelope. I wish to thank the sender here, but I would like to know the names of the readers who are so kind as to send me these items, even if they do not wish their names to be mentioned. Will quote from that paper at a future date.

One of the readers of this column stopped by to show me a collection of old postal cards, such as I have never seen before of Rondout, Kingston and Port Ewen. I didn't even know Port Ewen had picture postal cards. He has Kingston Point Park cards, when the Point had a ferris wheen. Do you remember it? Also a good photo of the Spanish American Arch near the city hall. It was a mammoth affair, castle-like with turrets. He also has a photo of the musicians who played at the band stand at the Point. It seems years ago, such businessmen as W. M. Cooper, pharmacist of John street, published picture postal card views inside and out, of the Senate House. He also has good cards of S. E. Eighmey store at 26 Broadway and Mill stret. There also is a picture postal card showing Vottler's plumbing place at 93 Broadway, with the old fashioned small square windows which were replaced before we moved in with plate glass, full size. On our block is a big sign "Mooney's Garage." Also I see only horses on the street. The date of the card is 1920. W. & D. Costello, carpenter and builder, also had a store on our block, between Spring and Union on Broadway. I wonder how many remember Murphy's News Store on the Strand. The one I remember had two large windows. But this one is a one window store, so perhaps it was where the S. & C. Restaurant is today. Mr. Murphy, a young handsome man with dark mustache, is standing outside with other men. There is a large black board over which it says, "Murphy's News Bulletin." And I understand various news items as they came off the telegraph were pinned on. Perhaps old timers remember.

From time to time folks have asked me how to disinfect old books and magazines. "True" magazine, October 1950 issue answers the question with: "The New York Public Library has two methods. Easiest, used for books from homes where there has been a contagious disease—leave them in open air and sunshine for 24 hours. Our books are placed in a cartoon, crystalized paradichlorbenzine is added, the cartoon sealed with tape and left for one or two weeks. No injury to the books." I have already received newspapers which laid as a filler under carpets for some 50 years. One such batch I received which had been under the carpets and floor covering of the buildings taken down at the West Shore crossing. Old papers and magazines hold such an interest for me, that I forgot about germs, dust and grime and am only anxious to read the dates and whether of local interest for this column or for my personal enjoyment. Have at present some "Harper's Weekly" of the early 1870, with tremendous illustrations. I wish my readers could enjoy them with me.

Local children receiving the sacrament of confirmation at St. Joseph's Church, New Paltz Tuesday were Eugene and Raphel Bilboa, Daniel Feldt, Daniel Green, Anthony Ruggerio, Ruben Santiego, James Van Duser, Joseph Vega, Barbara and Regina Dawes, Anita, Joan and Therese Ferreuolo, Nora Gollardo, Rose Green, Mary and Margaret Kopaski, Rosemarie Markey, Cynthia Martinez, Mary Monaghan, Mary O'Dell, Paula Orlowski and Kathleen Schweitt.

More than 100 guests attended the annual music festival given recently at the Plattekill school. More than 45 pupils participated in an interlude, with two school bands and three choruses. Miss Elaine Kniffin of New Paltz, director of the flutophone and the school band, was in charge of a program including scores of marches, waltzes and melodies from the New World Symphony. The second grade chorus, directed by Mrs. Myron Fosler, principal, entertained with three songs. Cumulative songs in German, English, Old English and Texan, were rendered by scholars of the fourth and fifth grades, under the tutelage of Mrs. John Klein. Pupils of the fifth and sixth grades concluded the program with old favorites. An outdoor concert is on schedule.

The regular meeting of the Plattekill Grange was held Saturday night when a program dealing with homestead and Grange hall improvement was in charge of Mrs. Milton Van Duser. Assisting were Mrs. George Sisti, Mrs. Walter Kleeman, Mrs. Bruce Huggins and Mrs. Frank Ruggerrio. The refreshment committee included Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Scott, Wilma Scott, Mrs. Carrie Harris, Mrs. Richard Blass, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hedges, Mrs. William Miller and Donald Meyers. Those serving on the committee of the chicken supper and dance held Tuesday night at the Grange Hall were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Longendyke, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Duser, Mrs. Edmund Wager, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hedges, Mrs. Ira Merwin, Mr. and Mrs. John Labriola, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Moshenskie, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cronk, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fosler, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Langlitz.

The Rev. Edgar A. Raynis officiated at funeral services for George Martin at Perrott's Funeral Home in Newburgh Saturday. He is survived by a son, George Martin, Jr., two granddaughters, Carol and Donna Martin, and a niece, Mrs. Frank DePew, all of Plattekill.

Rabbits Fulfill Tradition

Oshkosh, Nebr. (AP) — It's true what they say about rabbits. A white New Zealand doe here produced 36 bunnies in four months. One litter had eight baby rabbits, the next 11, and the third 17.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time, I am mailed items and newspaper clippings without the sender's name. Just received a part of the "New York Times" dated December 20, 1883. It was mailed from Kingston, so it seems, in a Pittsfild, Mass., envelope. I wish to thank the sender here, but I would like to know the names of the readers who are so kind as to send me these items, even if they do not wish their names to be mentioned. Will quote from that paper at a future date.

One of the readers of this column stopped by to show me a collection of old postal cards, such as I have never seen before of Rondout, Kingston and Port Ewen. I didn't even know Port Ewen had picture postal cards. He has Kingston Point Park cards, when the Point had a ferris wheen. Do you remember it? Also a good photo of the Spanish American Arch near the city hall. It was a mammoth affair, castle-like with turrets. He also has a photo of the musicians who played at the band stand at the Point. It seems years ago, such businessmen as W. M. Cooper, pharmacist of John street, published picture postal card views inside and out, of the Senate House. He also has good cards of S. E. Eighmey store at 26 Broadway and Mill stret. There also is a picture postal card showing Vottler's plumbing place at 93 Broadway, with the old fashioned small square windows which were replaced before we moved in with plate glass, full size. On our block is a big sign "Mooney's Garage." Also I see only horses on the street. The date of the card is 1920. W. & D. Costello, carpenter and builder, also had a store on our block, between Spring and Union on Broadway. I wonder how many remember Murphy's News Store on the Strand. The one I remember had two large windows. But this one is a one window store, so perhaps it was where the S. & C. Restaurant is today. Mr. Murphy, a young handsome man with dark mustache, is standing outside with other men. There is a large black board over which it says, "Murphy's News Bulletin." And I understand various news items as they came off the telegraph were pinned on. Perhaps old timers remember.

From time to time folks have asked me how to disinfect old books and magazines. "True" magazine, October 1950 issue answers the question with: "The New York Public Library has two methods. Easiest, used for books from homes where there has been a contagious disease—leave them in open air and sunshine for 24 hours. Our books are placed in a cartoon, crystalized paradichlorbenzine is added, the cartoon sealed with tape and left for one or two weeks. No injury to the books." I have already received newspapers which laid as a filler under carpets for some 50 years. One such batch I received which had been under the carpets and floor covering of the buildings taken down at the West Shore crossing. Old papers and magazines hold such an interest for me, that I forgot about germs, dust and grime and am only anxious to read the dates and whether of local interest for this column or for my personal enjoyment. Have at present some "Harper's Weekly" of the early 1870, with tremendous illustrations. I wish my readers could enjoy them with me.

High Times on 'Old Times'

Johnstown, Pa. (AP)—Whiskey to be good should be aged in wood. Or so the experts claim. But so far, Albert Michalides can't find a thing wrong with whiskey aged in the attic. Especially when it's over a half-century old. Al found a quart bottle in his attic recently labeled "Old Times Whiskey, First Prize World's Fair, 1893."

WE REMEMBER GRANDMA

GRANDMA always loved to tell us children about the time before she and Grandpa were married.

She said Grandpa was a very shy and quiet young man until one evening after a church meeting of the young folks group.

He took her home afterwards and she invited him in for sandwiches and milk. Well, Grandpa really stuffed himself and they had a lot of fun, and those evening snacks became regular affairs.

Grandma said he told her long after that he made up his mind that first night, that any girl who could make home baked beans taste the way she could, was the girl for him.

And that's how Grandpa lost his shyness.

Syphilis Decline Seen Due to Drive By Official Groups

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Anti-syphilis campaigns waged by federal, state and local health departments have done more to control the disease than wonder drugs, a clinical expert said today.

Dr. Evan W. Thomas, professor of clinical medicine at New York University, spoke at the closing session of the 47th annual health conference.

Dr. Thomas said a decrease in the incidence of syphilis "has been largely attributed to rapid penicillin treatment with the result that the public is in danger of believing that the new 'wonder drug' has solved the problem of syphilis control."

He added in a prepared speech: "Unquestionably, penicillin represents a tremendous advance in anti-syphilitic therapy * * *.

"Actually, the fact that syphilis is now under better control in America than at any previous period is due less to penicillin than to the intelligent efforts of federal, state and county health departments."

Troop Ships

The Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary carried nearly 2,000,000 troops during World War 2. Together, these famous liners, converted for troop-carrying duty, transferred the equivalent of about 135 complete divisions. More than 15,000 soldiers could be carried by each ship on a single voyage.

High Times on 'Old Times'

Johnstown, Pa. (AP)—Whiskey to be good should be aged in wood. Or so the experts claim, but so far, Albert Michalides can't find a thing wrong with whiskey aged in the attic. Especially when it's over a half-century old. Al found a quart bottle in his attic recently labeled "Old Times Whiskey, First Prize World's Fair, 1893."

WE REMEMBER GRANDMA

GRANDMA always loved to tell us children about the time before she and Grandpa were married.

She said Grandpa was a very shy and quiet young man until one evening after a church meeting of the young folks group.

He took her home afterwards and she invited him in for sandwiches and milk. Well, Grandpa really stuffed himself and they had a lot of fun, and those evening snacks became regular affairs.

Grandma said he told her long after that he made up his mind that first night, that any girl who could make home baked beans taste the way she could, was the girl for him.

And that's how Grandpa lost his shyness.

Syphilis Decline Seen Due to Drive By Official Groups

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Anti-syphilis campaigns waged by federal, state and local health departments have done more to control the disease than wonder drugs, a clinical expert said today.

Dr. Evan W. Thomas, professor of clinical medicine at New York University, spoke at the closing session of the 47th annual health conference.

Dr. Thomas said a decrease in the incidence of syphilis "has been largely attributed to rapid penicillin treatment with the result that the public is in danger of believing that the new 'wonder drug' has solved the problem of syphilis control."

He added in a prepared speech: "Unquestionably, penicillin represents a tremendous advance in anti-syphilitic therapy * * *.

"Actually, the fact that syphilis is now under better control in America than at any previous period is due less to penicillin than to the intelligent efforts of federal, state and county health departments."

Colonials Quit Can-Am League; Will Terminate Season on June 14

Amsterdam Scores Run in Ninth to Win Over Colonials, 7 to 6

Poor Attendance, No Ready Cash Cited as Reasons for the Foldup

Organized baseball, a futile sports promotion in Kingston since 1947, went down for the third time at noon today, when Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., notified the Canadian-American League that the Colonials would not field a team after June 14.

Under league rules, a team that is dropping out of the circuit must give at least seven days' notice.

Thus, Kingston's third adventure into the realm of OB since 1947 has terminated in financial failure.

Addison Jones, general manager of the Colonials, said in a statement at noon that the lack of public support was the principal reason for the foldup of the Colonials.

No Ready Cash

Jones cited daily average attendance figures of 349 and lack of fresh money to strengthen the team as the primary motives for Kingston's third debacle in organized ball.

The Kingston announcement came during a flurry of activity thoughout the Canadian-American League.

Gloversville, reported ready to throw in the towel for the past several weeks, staged a "free admission night" last night and more than 2500 fans stormed into the park.

President Albert Houghton of the Can-Am, in anticipation of possible defections in Kingston and Gloversville, has been busy with representatives in Utica and Rutland, Vt., as possible replacements for the Colonials and Gloversville, if the Glovers decide to call it quits.

Jones' Statement

General Manager Jones said in part:

"Because of lack of public support and ready cash to purchase players needed to strengthen the club, the directors of Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., have decided to notify the Canadian-American League that we cannot continue operations beyond June 14.

"Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., is solvent at the present time and we will be able to meet all indebtedness as of that date.

"The public did not respond to the Colonials as well as we hoped, although we frankly admit that it was not a good team. However, we found ourselves in a predicament of shrinking gates and lack of ready cash to make the necessary changes. There was no alternative but to call it quits.

"We had hoped that the stocks purchased by more than 400 individuals would create a small nucleus of steady customers and boosters for the team but this never materialized.

"Our team has improved in the past several days but has not been able to win with any consistency and the fans simply stayed away from the ball park. We did the best we could under the circumstances.

"If there are any persons in Kingston still interested in keeping organized baseball in the city, now is the time for them to come forward and show their hands."

Meeting Monday

Jones said that the formal disposition of Kingston Baseball, Club, Inc., would take place on Monday night at the Hotel Stuyvesant when stockholders meet for the last time.

(President Albert Houghton notified Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., at noon that he had not received any word from Gloversville. The Glovers had a "free for everybody" night last night and may have stirred up enough community interest to keep going for an indefinite period. However, it is an established fact that the storm warnings went up in Gloversville long before they did in Kingston.)

The Kingston decision to quit comes at a time when the Colonials are mired in the Cam-Am cellar, 22 games off the pace, with not immediate prospects for improvement. The club needs a little extra lift that can be procured only through cold cash.

The Colonial directors said their decision was reached after thoughtful consideration and was influenced by a desire to avoid the mistakes of previous years when they played out the string just for the sake of baseball—and incurred tremendous deficits.

"We feel that we have done everything possible to keep baseball alive in Kingston," Jones said, "but we have no desire to continue a hopeless job. We want to be able to meet all our obligations on June 15."

Today's decision marked the collapse of the third organized baseball movement in the city's history, and, singularly enough, in three classifications—D, B, and C in that order.

The 1947 Kingston Dodgers failed because of public support. The Class B franchise under Ted Laviano and Colonial City Baseball, Inc., in the Colonial League outlasted the others but also incurred tremendous deficits.

Less than $10,000 was raised to launch the 1951 club in a league that Kingston fans had clamored for many years in the past. It was an insufficient amount and was reflected in the calibre of team that was fielded.

The straw that broke the camel's back was an 18-game losing streak, after the Colonials won their first game of the season in their fifth start.

Lose in Ninth

Meanwhile, on the baseball front the Amsterdam Rugmakers scored a single run in the ninth to edge the Colonials, 7 to 6. It was Kingston's 31st defeat in 35 Can-Am League starts.

Breaks — mostly bad against the Kernels—played an important part in the game.

The Rugmakers wrapped up the victory after the Colonials had staged a last-ditch, two-out rally in the bottom of the eighth to tie the score at 6-6.

Big Bob Wenning, who went all the way for Kingston, walked Posipanka to launch the ninth and then wild pitched him to second. Manager Frank Novosel flashed the bunt and John Paul Jones moved Posipanka to third. John Miastowski, the batting hero for the Rugmakers, drilled a ground single over second to chase Posipanka home with the winning run.

It took a circus catch in right field to choke off a Colonial threat in the bottom of the ninth. Joe Niro lashed a single to right. Tony Gomez fanned after twice making a ridiculous effort to sacrifice. Red Klinger, who had delivered two singles picked this spot to smash a sharp line drive into right field.

A Great Catch

Cacciola, the Amsterdam gardener, moved to his left, threw up his gloved hand and there it was—the ball. That sensational catch accounted for the second out and its importance was emphasized a moment later when Walt Bremer batted for Bob Oliner and drilled a single to center, chasing Niro to third. Manager Joel Kern went for another pinch hitter, Jack Allen, for Bob Wenning, but Jack's best effort was a foul pop that Johnny Jones collared in the running track near first base.

As early as the third inning when the Colonials trailed 3-0, the breaks went against the Colonials. With Red Klinger and Dennis Healey on third and first as the result of singles, Lou Kramberg blasted a tremendous line drive toward the foul flag pole in the left field corner. The ball landed in fair territory and then took a bad hop to the left of the flag. It was ruled a double according to ground rules. Klinger scored, Healey moved to third. Had the ball stayed fair past the flag—and it missed by only six inches—it would have been an easy homer to knot the count at 3-3.

Use Four Hurlers

Amsterdam used four pitchers in the long battle and the fourth, Lou Paz of nearby Montgomery, who survived the Colonial threat in the ninth—thanks to Cacciola's catch—was the winner.

The starter, Leonard Strickler, was removed with one out in the seventh after Lou Kramberg had delivered the second of his two doubles. Tom Mollica came in and pitched to only three men—walking two and hitting another. Joe Niro walked with the sacks loaded to force in a run. Jim Wallace carried on until relieved by Paz with two down in the eighth and the score tied at 6-6 on Joel Kern's two-run double.

The Colonial rally was touched off with two down in the eighth. Oliner fanned and Wenning tapped to the box. Dennis Healey stroked his third single, Kramberg walked and Kern doubled to the left field corner. Sam Piacentino was the first batter to face Paz and struck out to end the inning.

Big man in the Amsterdam attack was catcher Johnny Miastowski, who delivered three singles and a fluke triple to drive in four runs. He got a triple in the three-run fifth behind Posipanka's double and a walk to John Paul Jones. His poke was a low liner which Tony Gomez tried to turn into a shoestring catch and missed, the ball rolling into the extreme right field corner. Posipanka and Jones scored and Miastowski completed the circuit when Lou Kramberg made a bad relay to the infield.

Posipanka, the new Amsterdam third sacker who has the build and fields his position like Pie Traynor, spanked two solid doubles for the visitors, while Marino had a triple and two singles.

Dennis Healey came up with his best batting performance on the home diamond with three singles. Red Klinger had two singles and was robbed of an extra base blow in the ninth. Kramberg's two doubles—both solid smashes into the left center alley—accounted for two runs and Manager Kern kept up his good work with a couple of clutch hits.

Big Bob Wenning could have won the game in spite of Amsterdam's 14 hits—if Kramberg's third inning rocket had bounded to right of the flag pole. And, if Cacciola hadn't made that catch in the ninth.

Frank Seeley will pitch in tonight's serics finale.

Can-Am Roundup

(By The Associated Press)

It's an uphill battle, but the Pittsfield Electrics are keeping the Oneonta Red Sox from the top of the Canadian-American League.

The Electrics came from behind last night to score two runs in the ninth inning and edge the invading Sox, 8-7. The victory put Pittsfield a game and a half ahead. The two clubs tangle at Pittsfield again tonight.

In other contests, the third-spot Amsterdam Rugmakers sneaked by last-place Kingston, 7-6, and Gloversville topped the Rome Colonels, 4-1.

Pittsfield's two deciding runs came on five hits, a stolen base and a bad throw. Leftfielder Jack Seltenreich's scratch single, which bounced off shortstop Bob Gutilla's chest, produced the winning run. Bill Glendenning was the winning pitcher, and George Uhaze took the loss.

It was "free admission" last night at Gloversville as an effort was made to encourage fans to turn out. The club counted 2,542 spectators.

The Glovers puton a good show, highlighted by shortstop Ernie Desperito's four hits in four trips, including a two-run double with the bases loaded in the big, three-run eighth inning.

At Kingston, Amsterdam had to use four pitchers to subdue the Colonials. No. 4, Lou Paz, came up the winner when the Ruggers scored the deciding run in the ninth on a walk, a wild pitch, a sacrifice and a single. Catcher John Miastowski was the batting hero for the winners with a triple and three singles.

Watch Locke Again

New Rochelle, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Golf's annual plus-and-minus tournament—the Palm Beach Invitation Round Robin—starts today at the Wykagyl Country Club, and again the other 15 players in the field are keeping wary eyes on Bobby Locke. The South African sharpshooter, in three previous appearances, won twice and finished second the third time. Last year he was absent, and top honors went to Lloyd Mangrum, who finished with a plus 37.

Richmond, Va.—Holly Mims, 160, Washington, outpointed Otis Graham, 161¾, Philadelphia, 10.

Colonials Quit Can-Am League; Will Terminate Season on June 14

Amsterdam Scores Run in Ninth to Win Over Colonials, 7 to 6

Poor Attendance, No Ready Cash Cited as Reasons for the Foldup

Organized baseball, a futile sports promotion in Kingston since 1947, went down for the third time at noon today, when Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., notified the Canadian-American League that the Colonials would not field a team after June 14.

Under league rules, a team that is dropping out of the circuit must give at least seven days' notice.

Thus, Kingston's third adventure into the realm of OB since 1947 has terminated in financial failure.

Addison Jones, general manager of the Colonials, said in a statement at noon that the lack of public support was the principal reason for the foldup of the Colonials.

No Ready Cash

Jones cited daily average attendance figures of 349 and lack of fresh money to strengthen the team as the primary motives for Kingston's third debacle in organized ball.

The Kingston announcement came during a flurry of activity thoughout the Canadian-American League.

Gloversville, reported ready to throw in the towel for the past several weeks, staged a "free admission night" last night and more than 2500 fans stormed into the park.

President Albert Houghton of the Can-Am, in anticipation of possible defections in Kingston and Gloversville, has been busy with representatives in Utica and Rutland, Vt., as possible replacements for the Colonials and Gloversville, if the Glovers decide to call it quits.

Jones' Statement

General Manager Jones said in part:

"Because of lack of public support and ready cash to purchase players needed to strengthen the club, the directors of Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., have decided to notify the Canadian-American League that we cannot continue operations beyond June 14.

"Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., is solvent at the present time and we will be able to meet all indebtedness as of that date.

"The public did not respond to the Colonials as well as we hoped, although we frankly admit that it was not a good team. However, we found ourselves in a predicament of shrinking gates and lack of ready cash to make the necessary changes. There was no alternative but to call it quits.

"We had hoped that the stocks purchased by more than 400 individuals would create a small nucleus of steady customers and boosters for the team but this never materialized.

"Our team has improved in the past several days but has not been able to win with any consistency and the fans simply stayed away from the ball park. We did the best we could under the circumstances.

"If there are any persons in Kingston still interested in keeping organized baseball in the city, now is the time for them to come forward and show their hands."

Meeting Monday

Jones said that the formal disposition of Kingston Baseball, Club, Inc., would take place on Monday night at the Hotel Stuyvesant when stockholders meet for the last time.

(President Albert Houghton notified Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., at noon that he had not received any word from Gloversville. The Glovers had a "free for everybody" night last night and may have stirred up enough community interest to keep going for an indefinite period. However, it is an established fact that the storm warnings went up in Gloversville long before they did in Kingston.)

The Kingston decision to quit comes at a time when the Colonials are mired in the Cam-Am cellar, 22 games off the pace, with not immediate prospects for improvement. The club needs a little extra lift that can be procured only through cold cash.

The Colonial directors said their decision was reached after thoughtful consideration and was influenced by a desire to avoid the mistakes of previous years when they played out the string just for the sake of baseball—and incurred tremendous deficits.

"We feel that we have done everything possible to keep baseball alive in Kingston," Jones said, "but we have no desire to continue a hopeless job. We want to be able to meet all our obligations on June 15."

Today's decision marked the collapse of the third organized baseball movement in the city's history, and, singularly enough, in three classifications—D, B, and C in that order.

The 1947 Kingston Dodgers failed because of public support. The Class B franchise under Ted Laviano and Colonial City Baseball, Inc., in the Colonial League outlasted the others but also incurred tremendous deficits.

Less than $10,000 was raised to launch the 1951 club in a league that Kingston fans had clamored for many years in the past. It was an insufficient amount and was reflected in the calibre of team that was fielded.

The straw that broke the camel's back was an 18-game losing streak, after the Colonials won their first game of the season in their fifth start.

Lose in Ninth

Meanwhile, on the baseball front the Amsterdam Rugmakers scored a single run in the ninth to edge the Colonials, 7 to 6. It was Kingston's 31st defeat in 35 Can-Am League starts.

Breaks — mostly bad against the Kernels—played an important part in the game.

The Rugmakers wrapped up the victory after the Colonials had staged a last-ditch, two-out rally in the bottom of the eighth to tie the score at 6-6.

Big Bob Wenning, who went all the way for Kingston, walked Posipanka to launch the ninth and then wild pitched him to second. Manager Frank Novosel flashed the bunt and John Paul Jones moved Posipanka to third. John Miastowski, the batting hero for the Rugmakers, drilled a ground single over second to chase Posipanka home with the winning run.

It took a circus catch in right field to choke off a Colonial threat in the bottom of the ninth. Joe Niro lashed a single to right. Tony Gomez fanned after twice making a ridiculous effort to sacrifice. Red Klinger, who had delivered two singles picked this spot to smash a sharp line drive into right field.

A Great Catch

Cacciola, the Amsterdam gardener, moved to his left, threw up his gloved hand and there it was—the ball. That sensational catch accounted for the second out and its importance was emphasized a moment later when Walt Bremer batted for Bob Oliner and drilled a single to center, chasing Niro to third. Manager Joel Kern went for another pinch hitter, Jack Allen, for Bob Wenning, but Jack's best effort was a foul pop that Johnny Jones collared in the running track near first base.

As early as the third inning when the Colonials trailed 3-0, the breaks went against the Colonials. With Red Klinger and Dennis Healey on third and first as the result of singles, Lou Kramberg blasted a tremendous line drive toward the foul flag pole in the left field corner. The ball landed in fair territory and then took a bad hop to the left of the flag. It was ruled a double according to ground rules. Klinger scored, Healey moved to third. Had the ball stayed fair past the flag—and it missed by only six inches—it would have been an easy homer to knot the count at 3-3.

Use Four Hurlers

Amsterdam used four pitchers in the long battle and the fourth, Lou Paz of nearby Montgomery, who survived the Colonial threat in the ninth—thanks to Cacciola's catch—was the winner.

The starter, Leonard Strickler, was removed with one out in the seventh after Lou Kramberg had delivered the second of his two doubles. Tom Mollica came in and pitched to only three men—walking two and hitting another. Joe Niro walked with the sacks loaded to force in a run. Jim Wallace carried on until relieved by Paz with two down in the eighth and the score tied at 6-6 on Joel Kern's two-run double.

The Colonial rally was touched off with two down in the eighth. Oliner fanned and Wenning tapped to the box. Dennis Healey stroked his third single, Kramberg walked and Kern doubled to the left field corner. Sam Piacentino was the first batter to face Paz and struck out to end the inning.

Big man in the Amsterdam attack was catcher Johnny Miastowski, who delivered three singles and a fluke triple to drive in four runs. He got a triple in the three-run fifth behind Posipanka's double and a walk to John Paul Jones. His poke was a low liner which Tony Gomez tried to turn into a shoestring catch and missed, the ball rolling into the extreme right field corner. Posipanka and Jones scored and Miastowski completed the circuit when Lou Kramberg made a bad relay to the infield.

Posipanka, the new Amsterdam third sacker who has the build and fields his position like Pie Traynor, spanked two solid doubles for the visitors, while Marino had a triple and two singles.

Dennis Healey came up with his best batting performance on the home diamond with three singles. Red Klinger had two singles and was robbed of an extra base blow in the ninth. Kramberg's two doubles—both solid smashes into the left center alley—accounted for two runs and Manager Kern kept up his good work with a couple of clutch hits.

Big Bob Wenning could have won the game in spite of Amsterdam's 14 hits—if Kramberg's third inning rocket had bounded to right of the flag pole. And, if Cacciola hadn't made that catch in the ninth.

Frank Seeley will pitch in tonight's series finale.

Can-Am Roundup

(By The Associated Press)

It's an uphill battle, but the Pittsfield Electrics are keeping the Oneonta Red Sox from the top of the Canadian-American League.

The Electrics came from behind last night to score two runs in the ninth inning and edge the invading Sox, 8-7. The victory put Pittsfield a game and a half ahead. The two clubs tangle at Pittsfield again tonight.

In other contests, the third-spot Amsterdam Rugmakers sneaked by last-place Kingston, 7-6, and Gloversville topped the Rome Colonels, 4-1.

Pittsfield's two deciding runs came on five hits, a stolen base and a bad throw. Leftfielder Jack Seltenreich's scratch single, which bounced off shortstop Bob Gutilla's chest, produced the winning run. Bill Glendenning was the winning pitcher, and George Uhaze took the loss.

It was "free admission" last night at Gloversville as an effort was made to encourage fans to turn out. The club counted 2,542 spectators.

The Glovers puton a good show, highlighted by shortstop Ernie Desperito's four hits in four trips, including a two-run double with the bases loaded in the big, three-run eighth inning.

At Kingston, Amsterdam had to use four pitchers to subdue the Colonials. No. 4, Lou Paz, came up the winner when the Ruggers scored the deciding run in the ninth on a walk, a wild pitch, a sacrifice and a single. Catcher John Miastowski was the batting hero for the winners with a triple and three singles.

Watch Locke Again

New Rochelle, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Golf's annual plus-and-minus tournament—the Palm Beach Invitation Round Robin—starts today at the Wykagyl Country Club, and again the other 15 players in the field are keeping wary eyes on Bobby Locke. The South African sharpshooter, in three previous appearances, won twice and finished second the third time. Last year he was absent, and top honors went to Lloyd Mangrum, who finished with a plus 37.

Richmond, Va.—Holly Mims, 160, Washington, outpointed Otis Graham, 161¾, Philadelphia, 10.

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Lou Kretlow, Harry Dorish, Randy Gumpert and Kenny Holcombe—Chicago's waiver waifs—are making faces red all around the American League.

Kretlow, who is he? That probably was the man-in-the-street reaction to yesterday's story on the blazing White Sox. Still a club—the Detroit Tigers—once thought enough of Lou to pay him a $35,000 bonus to sign off the Enid (Okla.) Army Air Force team.

You could have had Kretlow for as low as $10,000 a year ago. In fact, two clubs did have him for just that. First the St. Louis Browns and then the White Sox. He hadn't won a game since July 7, 1949. Things were so rough Lou considered chucking it all for a career as a pro golfer.

Kretlow's 1950 record of 0-2 hardly stamped him as a man who would boost the White Sox' league lead to 4½ games. But Manager Paul Richards seems to have a way with pitchers.

After yesterday's neat four-hitter against Washington for a 4-2 win, both the Tigers and Brownies would be glad to welcome him back.

Dorish, efficient reliefer in nine games when Chicago pitchers needed help, made the rounds before he hit Comiskey Park. He's been bouncing up and down from minors to majors with Boston, St. Louis and Chicago since 1947.

Gumpert, Too

Then there's Gumpert—unbeaten at 4-0. The Athletics had him first—way back in 1936-37-38. They let him get away to the Yankee chain. New York found Randy useful in 1946 and 1947 but in July 1948 off he went to the White Sox—at the waiver price.

Holcombe didn't stick long enough for waivers with most of the clubs but at various times, between trips to the minors, he belonged to the Yankees, Cincinnati and White Sox.

With a staggering 19-out-of-21 pace, the Sox are gradually pulling away from the pack while the Yanks and Red Sox fizzle. They handed Connie Marrero his second loss behind Kretlow's strong pitching. Lou mowed down the last 10 men in order to close out his first complete game. He drove in the winning run in a two-run fourth.

A fumble by usually dependable Phil Rizzuto cost the Yankees a 5-4 loss to the lowly St. Louis Brownies. Behind 4-2 going to the ninth, the Browns tide the score on two triples and a single. Then with men on first and second Bob Young grounded to second baseman Billy Martin who flipped the ball to Rizzuto. But Rizzuto dropped the ball when Jim Delsing ran into him, Johnny Bero scoring from second.

Red Sox Fumble

Detroit lowered the boom on Boston, 6-4, for the Red Sox's fifth straight loss. George Kell's diving catch of a liner by Lou Boudreau with the bases full in the ninth stopped a Sox rally. Even in defeat, Dom DiMaggio kept his batting streak alive, hitting safely in his 26th consecutive game.

Alex Kellner handed Cleveland its second straight loss after nine straight wins, with a seven-hitter as Philadelphia ripped into Bob Chakales for a 4-3 margin.

Brooklyn opened up another length on the field in the National, edging St. Louis, 3-2, in a game finished under protest by Manager Marty Marion of the Cards. The defeat left the Cards 5½ games back of the Dodgers.

Marion protested because Chuck Dressen, Brook manager, sat in a box seat behind the Dodger bench after he was chased for arguing with Umpire Art Gore.

Big Ralph Branca, back on the beam as a regular starter, threw his third straight complete game, scattering seven hits. Roy Campanella drove in all the runs with a two-run homer in the second and a fly ball in the fourth.

Cincinnati foiled the New York Giants by scoring three in the ninth to win, 5-4. Pinch hitter Grady Hatton slugged across the tying and winning scores with a single.

Warren Spahn snapped Boston's five-game losing streak with a five-hitter against Pittsburgh, 5-2. Ralph Kiner hit his 13th homer for the Pirates.

The Phillies cut loose on Bob Schultz, Cal McLish and Johnny Schmitz with 18 hits to smother Chicago, 9-1. Robin Roberts allowed only three hits — all to catcher Smoky Burgess.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Dick Kryhoski, Tigers—doubled with bases loaded to set off five-run explosion in eighth for 6-4 victory.

Pitching—Lou Kretlow, White Sox—a non-winner since 1949 he broke into the win column with a four-hitter against Washington, 4-2, to make it 19 out of 21 for Chicago.

Brooklyn (Fort Hamilton)—Tommy Bazzano, 148, Meriden, Conn., knocked out Frankie Palermo, 144½, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., 4.

Jocko Seeks First Victory

Jocko Maggiacomo, the Poughkeepsie stock car wizard, will try to snap the jinx that has hovered over him since the opening of the season at Rhinebeck Speedway in this Saturday's feature.

Maggiacomo, a first place winner last week on successive nights, in New London and New Haven, Conn., has been second three times running at Rhinebeck. He placed fifth in his other start.

Stan Disbrow of Poughkeepsie leads the field with two feature victories. Bob Tator, Warren Bohnsack and Al Zerberini each have one.

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Lou Kretlow, Harry Dorish, Randy Gumpert and Kenny Holcombe—Chicago's waiver waifs—are making faces red all around the American League.

Kretlow, who is he? That probably was the man-in-the-street reaction to yesterday's story on the blazing White Sox. Still a club—the Detroit Tigers—once thought enough of Lou to pay him a $35,000 bonus to sign off the Enid (Okla.) Army Air Force team.

You could have had Kretlow for as low as $10,000 a year ago. In fact, two clubs did have him for just that. First the St. Louis Browns and then the White Sox. He hadn't won a game since July 7, 1949. Things were so rough Lou considered chucking it all for a career as a pro golfer.

Kretlow's 1950 record of 0-2 hardly stamped him as a man who would boost the White Sox' league lead to 4½ games. But Manager Paul Richards seems to have a way with pitchers.

After yesterday's neat four-hitter against Washington for a 4-2 win, both the Tigers and Brownies would be glad to welcome him back.

Dorish, efficient reliefer in nine games when Chicago pitchers needed help, made the rounds before he hit Comiskey Park. He's been bouncing up and down from minors to majors with Boston, St. Louis and Chicago since 1947.

Gumpert, Too

Then there's Gumpert—unbeaten at 4-0. The Athletics had him first—way back in 1936-37-38. They let him get away to the Yankee chain. New York found Randy useful in 1946 and 1947 but in July 1948 off he went to the White Sox—at the waiver price.

Holcombe didn't stick long enough for waivers with most of the clubs but at various times, between trips to the minors, he belonged to the Yankees, Cincinnati and White Sox.

With a staggering 19-out-of-21 pace, the Sox are gradually pulling away from the pack while the Yanks and Red Sox fizzle. They handed Connie Marrero his second loss behind Kretlow's strong pitching. Lou mowed down the last 10 men in order to close out his first complete game. He drove in the winning run in a two-run fourth.

A fumble by usually dependable Phil Rizzuto cost the Yankees a 5-4 loss to the lowly St. Louis Brownies. Behind 4-2 going to the ninth, the Browns tide the score on two triples and a single. Then with men on first and second Bob Young grounded to second baseman Billy Martin who flipped the ball to Rizzuto. But Rizzuto dropped the ball when Jim Delsing ran into him, Johnny Bero scoring from second.

Red Sox Fumble

Detroit lowered the boom on Boston, 6-4, for the Red Sox's fifth straight loss. George Kell's diving catch of a liner by Lou Boudreau with the bases full in the ninth stopped a Sox rally. Even in defeat, Dom DiMaggio kept his batting streak alive, hitting safely in his 26th consecutive game.

Alex Kellner handed Cleveland its second straight loss after nine straight wins, with a seven-hitter as Philadelphia ripped into Bob Chakales for a 4-3 margin.

Brooklyn opened up another length on the field in the National, edging St. Louis, 3-2, in a game finished under protest by Manager Marty Marion of the Cards. The defeat left the Cards 5½ games back of the Dodgers.

Marion protested because Chuck Dressen, Brook manager, sat in a box seat behind the Dodger bench after he was chased for arguing with Umpire Art Gore.

Big Ralph Branca, back on the beam as a regular starter, threw his third straight complete game, scattering seven hits. Roy Campanella drove in all the runs with a two-run homer in the second and a fly ball in the fourth.

Cincinnati foiled the New York Giants by scoring three in the ninth to win, 5-4. Pinch hitter Grady Hatton slugged across the tying and winning scores with a single.

Warren Spahn snapped Boston's five-game losing streak with a five-hitter against Pittsburgh, 5-2. Ralph Kiner hit his 13th homer for the Pirates.

The Phillies cut loose on Bob Schultz, Cal McLish and Johnny Schmitz with 18 hits to smother Chicago, 9-1. Robin Roberts allowed only three hits — all to catcher Smoky Burgess.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Dick Kryhoski, Tigers—doubled with bases loaded to set off five-run explosion in eighth for 6-4 victory.

Pitching—Lou Kretlow, White Sox—a non-winner since 1949 he broke into the win column with a four-hitter against Washington, 4-2, to make it 19 out of 21 for Chicago.

Brooklyn (Fort Hamilton)—Tommy Bazzano, 148, Meriden, Conn., knocked out Frankie Palermo, 144½, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., 4.

Francis Hurls Chezzies Into First Place on 3-0 Win

Limits Wiltwycks To Four Bingles In City League

Errors Hurt Losers; Searfoss Halts Rally

The Chez Emile tossers are riding in first place today, a full game ahead of the Old Capitals, thanks to a nifty four-hit whitewashing of Wiltwyck Motors by Lonnie Francis Wednesday night.

Francis, whose identity in the record books, lists him as an infielder-outfielder, suddenly came up as a moundsman in a surprise move by Manager Joe Hoffman of the Chezzies.

Hoffman's decision resulted in a 3 to 0 victory for the Chezzies over the former league-leaders.

The Chezzies, limited to only three scattered hits by the combined offerings of Joe Canosa and Don McClelland, of Marlborough, pushed over what proved to be the winning run of the game in the first stanza.

Score Two in 5th

A couple of errors aided the Chezzies in adding two more runs in the fifth.

After Barnes fanned, Catcher Kite was charged with an error when his wild toss to first on the third strike pulled Passante off the bag.

With Barnes perching on the initial sack, Bob Slover sliced a double up the alley in right center. Francis worked his opposing hurler for a walk to load the sacks.

Spotty support still hampered Canosa when Augie Passante made a poor throw to the plate on Glaser's grounder as Barnes scored the second run of the game. After Gill went down swinging, Scheffel walked forcing in Slover to make it 3-0. McClelland came on to relieve Canosa and proceeded to whiff the next six men in a row.

Searfoss Fans Side

Francis, meanwhile, had things well in hand, allowing only two hits for the first six innings. Leading off the seventh, Kite singled and scampered around to third on McCormick's double to left. Fearing a rally, Hoffman went to his bullpen and came up with Al Searfoss.

Searfoss, after walking pinch-hitter Bill Relyea, struck out the side to end the uprising and the game.

MESSINGER'S MEMOS: Both McClelland and Searfoss showed plenty of poise on the mound with good speed and sharp-breaking curves. It would be a masterpiece to see them both hooked up in a pitcher's duel in the second half . . . Slover again played a nice game for Chez Emile at first base, fielding flawlessly and getting himself a double in his team's two-run fifth . . . Glaser was the lone Chezzie who was not set down on strikes by Canosa or McClelland. . . With the pitching improving, the games are much better to watch . . . Chez Emile, by winning last night's game, takes a commanding one-game lead and from here in will be the team to beat.

Cullum and Talbot Will Defend Title

Bob Cullum, of Kingston, and Jim Talbot of Poughkeepsie will defend their member-guest title in the second annual tournament this week-end at Wiltwyck Golf Club.

The event in an 18-hole best-ball handicap event.

Talbot, who paired with Cullum last year is a member of the Dutchess Country Club in Poughkeepsie.

Tournament chairman, Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr., has predicted an entry of at least 50 tandems. Thirty two were in the field for last year's events.

Club members can play their matches on Saturday or Sunday.

Wiltwyck members will compete with golfers from all over the mid-Hudson area. Dr. Holcomb said. Most of Twaalfskill Golf Club's leading performers will be on hand, along with players from Woodstock, Catskill, Red Hook, Dutchess country and IBM.

The two city club champions—Bill Van Aken, who also holds the city crown, of Wiltwyck and Alvin Boice of Twaalfskill—are scheduled to compete.

The tournament committee, in conjunction with the entertainment and dance committees will stage a dance on Saturday night.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. FIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Isn't the top brass at Newburgh Free Academy mighty pleased about the elimination of the odious round-robin schedule in DUSO football this fall? Imagine, playing a complete season and facing Kingston only ONCE. The once, however, is in the Maroon's backyard on Thanksgiving Day.

Discontinuance of the strictly wartime measure adds further comfort to badly-battered Goldback football prestige, since they still boast a substantial edge over Kingston in the series standings.

At the rate of one game a year, it may be a half century before we can catch up. By that time, "Bo" Gill will have been designated historian emeritus of NFA football victories over KHS and his grandchildren will be writing the tragic story.

Meanwhile, an orchid to Coach Bill Burke who sliced NFA's topheavy margin to nine games in 10 tries. But then the Newburgh purists shout from the hillsides that he was signed and paid good to do just that. Score another victory for capitalism!

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

If this is an impertinent question, stop us: But, didn't Poughkeepsie High School athletics reach a sorry, all-time low during the 1950-51 calendar year? And would anybody in Poughkeepsie be thinking about a few changes at the once powerful Dutchess institution? Robert Schoonmaker managed the Siena College's golf team this season and lowered his stroke output to the middle 80s. Anthony L. Colette of Newburgh was the April winner in the Louis A. Wehle Fishing Contest with 7 pound, 10 ounce brown trout he snagged in Tillson Lake. Meanwhile, don't forget that contest sponsored by the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club. It's still going, with the closing date set for September 9. Isn't it about time Vernon Radel started sending K.P.B.A. regatta publicity across the sports desk? How about Bud Culloton, Charlie Higgins, "Red" Rose (a beautiful name for a man, don't you think?) Bob Umpleby, Joe Hoffman and Tommy Davitt taking all that time to whip the Little League in shape. When it crystallizes and the kids trot out on St. Mary's diamond for the first game of the season, that will be the climax to a four-year dream by the Kingston Athletic Association, an organization that has done a terrific job for the kids of the city.

• Say It Isn't So, Mickey:

Harold "Boomer" Miller, the Freeman linotyper who stands off the New York Giant hordes in the composing room with a smugness befitting the lofty position of his beloved Yankees over the years, probably won't agree with this, but it's a story worthy of entry in the "Knock the Favorite Down" club.

One old scout told a group of observers during spring training in Florida that he would believe all the things they were saying about Mickey Mantle when he saw him in the Yankee outfield in August.

"I looked up the Western Association batting champions," explained the scout, "and I find Joplin smackers showed the way the last five years. It was one Jimmy Dyck in 1946 with .364, a bloke named Jay Sousley in '47 with .351; Johnny Sturm in '48 with .36; Olin Martin in '49 with .355 and the last trip, Mantle, a kid of 18, with .383.

"Now I'm not saying young Mantle won't make it, but isn't all of them batting champions coming out of Joplin a bit unusual?

"It seems to be .350 or no count in Joplin.

"Sturm is the one-time Yankee first baseman playing out the string, of course, but who are, or whatever became of Dyck, Sousley and Olin Martin?

"It strikes me that it's either a peculiar shaped park in Joplin or the atmosphere out there in the lead and zinc country."

Famous last words around the Can-Am press circuit: "Your club looked better than the last time they were here." Which, somehow or other recalls the old saw about the successful operation and the dead patient.

Penn's Defiance of TV Ban on Grid Games Seen as Severe Test for NCAA

College Spokesmen Score Announcement

New York, June 7 (AP)—The power of the National Collegiate Athletic Association faced a severe test today following the University of Pennsylvania's decision to defy an NCAA ban on unrestricted televising of football games.

Pennsylvania formally announced yesterday in Philadelphia it planned to televise its eight home games this fall and in a telegram Athletic Director Franny Murray urged Dr. Hugh C. Willett of Southern California, president of the NCAA, to call a special meeting to reconsider the problem.

"The University of Pennsylvania will cooperate in studying and reporting to the NCAA on the effects of television but it will not combine in a ban on television and will carry on as an obligation to its alumni, friends and the public its 11-year record of television, dividing the revenues equally with the other universities and colleges with which it plays," Murray said in a telegram.

Says Action 'Astonishing'

In Los Angeles, Prof. Willett termed the Penn position "astonishing" and said he was notifying the NCAA membership of its action.

Tom Hamilton, chairman of the NCAA Television Committee and University of Pittsburgh athletic director, said Penn is setting itself apart and taking advantage of the artificial vacuum caused by willingness of other schools to pass financial gain this year.

The television program recently adopted as an experiment by the NCAA Executive Committee calls for abolishment of individual televising of college games.

Instead one big national game—or a series of important regional games—would be televised each Saturday. Under the plan certain areas would be blacked out each Saturday in order to study the effects on attendance.

Big Games May End

Penn's action could mean the cancellation of football games with such opponents as Army, Navy, Columbia, Princeton, Dartmouth, California, Wisconsin and Cornell.

Ralph Furey, athletic director of Columbia, said "we have notified Penn we would be unwilling to sign a contract to play next fall's game unless Penn abided by the NCAA and Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) resolution."

Asa Bushnell, head of ECAC, said his group had agreed to abide by the NCAA television program and that its constitution required members to compete only with colleges that abided by NCAA rules. Pennsylvania is one of the 91 eastern schools holding membership in the ECAC.

Bob Kane of Cornell said he had already signed the contract for this fall's game with Penn but with a written proviso that if Penn did not go along with the NCAA and the ECAC the contract would be null and void and the matter reviewed.

"It could very well mean that Cornell will not play Penn," he said at Ithaca, N. Y. "But it doesn't yet."

Limits Wiltwycks To Four Bingles In City League

Errors Hurt Losers; Searfoss Halts Rally

The Chez Emile tossers are riding in first place today, a full game ahead of the Old Capitals, thanks to a nifty four-hit whitewashing of Wiltwyck Motors by Lonnie Francis Wednesday night.

Francis, whose identity in the record books, lists him as an infielder-outfielder, suddenly came up as a moundsman in a surprise move by Manager Joe Hoffman of the Chezzies.

Hoffman's decision resulted in a 3 to 0 victory for the Chezzies over the former league-leaders.

The Chezzies, limited to only three scattered hits by the combined offerings of Joe Canosa and Don McClelland, of Marlborough, pushed over what proved to be the winning run of the game in the first stanza.

Score Two in 5th

A couple of errors aided the Chezzies in adding two more runs in the fifth.

After Barnes fanned, Catcher Kite was charged with an error when his wild toss to first on the third strike pulled Passante off the bag.

With Barnes perching on the initial sack, Bob Slover sliced a double up the alley in right center. Francis worked his opposing hurler for a walk to load the sacks.

Spotty support still hampered Canosa when Augie Passante made a poor throw to the plate on Glaser's grounder as Barnes scored the second run of the game. After Gill went down swinging, Scheffel walked forcing in Slover to make it 3-0. McClelland came on to relieve Canosa and proceeded to whiff the next six men in a row.

Searfoss Fans Side

Francis, meanwhile, had things well in hand, allowing only two hits for the first six innings. Leading off the seventh, Kite singled and scampered around to third on McCormick's double to left. Fearing a rally, Hoffman went to his bullpen and came up with Al Searfoss.

Searfoss, after walking pinch-hitter Bill Relyea, struck out the side to end the uprising and the game.

MESSINGER'S MEMOS: Both McClelland and Searfoss showed plenty of poise on the mound with good speed and sharp-breaking curves. It would be a masterpiece to see them both hooked up in a pitcher's duel in the second half . . . Slover again played a nice game for Chez Emile at first base, fielding flawlessly and getting himself a double in his team's two-run fifth . . . Glaser was the lone Chezzie who was not set down on strikes by Canosa or McClelland . . . With the pitching improving, the games are much better to watch . . . Chez Emile, by winning last night's game, takes a commanding one-game lead and from here in will be the team to beat.

Cullum and Talbot Will Defend Title

Bob Cullum, of Kingston, and Jim Talbot of Poughkeepsie will defend their member-guest title in the second annual tournament this week-end at Wiltwyck Golf Club.

The event in an 18-hole best-ball handicap event.

Talbot, who paired with Cullum last year is a member of the Dutchess Country Club in Poughkeepsie.

Tournament chairman, Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr., has predicted an entry of at least 50 tandems. Thirty two were in the field for last year's events.

Club members can play their matches on Saturday or Sunday.

Wiltwyck members will compete with golfers from all over the mid-Hudson area. Dr. Holcomb said. Most of Twaalfskill Golf Club's leading performers will be on hand, along with players from Woodstock, Catskill, Red Hook, Dutchess country and IBM.

The two city club champions—Bill Van Aken, who also holds the city crown, of Wiltwyck and Alvin Boice of Twaalfskill—are scheduled to compete.

The tournament committee, in conjunction with the entertainment and dance committees will stage a dance on Saturday night.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. FIANO

Isn't the top brass at Newburgh Free Academy mighty pleased about the elimination of the odious round-robin schedule in DUSO football this fall? Imagine, playing a complete season and facing Kingston only ONCE. The once, however, is in the Maroon's backyard on Thanksgiving Day.

Discontinuance of the strictly wartime measure adds further comfort to badly-battered Goldback football prestige, since they still boast a substantial edge over Kingston in the series standings.

At the rate of one game a year, it may be a half century before we can catch up. By that time, "Bo" Gill will have been designated historian emeritus of NFA football victories over KHS and his grandchildren will be writing the tragic story.

Meanwhile, an orchid to Coach Bill Burke who sliced NFA's topheavy margin to nine games in 10 tries. But then the Newburgh purists shout from the hillsides that he was signed and paid good to do just that. Score another victory for capitalism!

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

If this is an impertinent question, stop us: But, didn't Poughkeepsie High School athletics reach a sorry, all-time low during the 1950-51 calendar year? And would anybody in Poughkeepsie be thinking about a few changes at the once powerful Dutchess institution? Robert Schoonmaker managed the Siena College's golf team this season and lowered his stroke output to the middle 80s. Anthony L. Colette of Newburgh was the April winner in the Louis A. Wehle Fishing Contest with 7 pound, 10 ounce brown trout he snagged in Tillson Lake. Meanwhile, don't forget that contest sponsored by the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club. It's still going, with the closing date set for September 9. Isn't it about time Vernon Radel started sending K.P.B.A. regatta publicity across the sports desk? How about Bud Culloton, Charlie Higgins, "Red" Rose (a beautiful name for a man, don't you think?) Bob Umpleby, Joe Hoffman and Tommy Davitt taking all that time to whip the Little League in shape. When it crystallizes and the kids trot out on St. Mary's diamond for the first game of the season, that will be the climax to a four-year dream by the Kingston Athletic Association, an organization that has done a terrific job for the kids of the city.

• Say It Isn't So, Mickey:

Harold "Boomer" Miller, the Freeman linotyper who stands off the New York Giant hordes in the composing room with a smugness befitting the lofty position of his beloved Yankees over the years, probably won't agree with this, but it's a story worthy of entry in the "Knock the Favorite Down" club.

One old scout told a group of observers during spring training in Florida that he would believe all the things they were saying about Mickey Mantle when he saw him in the Yankee outfield in August.

"I looked up the Western Association batting champions," explained the scout, "and I find Joplin smackers showed the way the last five years. It was one Jimmy Dyck in 1946 with .364, a bloke named Jay Sousley in '47 with .351; Johnny Sturm in '48 with .36; Olin Martin in '49 with .355 and the last trip, Mantle, a kid of 18, with .383.

"Now I'm not saying young Mantle won't make it, but isn't all of them batting champions coming out of Joplin a bit unusual?

"It seems to be .350 or no count in Joplin.

"Sturm is the one-time Yankee first baseman playing out the string, of course, but who are, or whatever became of Dyck, Sousley and Olin Martin?

"It strikes me that it's either a peculiar shaped park in Joplin or the atmosphere out there in the lead and zinc country."

Famous last words around the Can-Am press circuit: "Your club looked better than the last time they were here." Which, somehow or other recalls the old saw about the successful operation and the dead patient.

Penn's Defiance of TV Ban on Grid Games Seen as Severe Test for NCAA

College Spokesmen Score Announcement

New York, June 7 (AP)—The power of the National Collegiate Athletic Association faced a severe test today following the University of Pennsylvania's decision to defy an NCAA ban on unrestricted televising of football games.

Defense Planned For Elmer Hummel

Howard "Rip" Van Winkle of Stone Ridge, who claims to be a direct descendant of "Old Rip" whose 20-year slumber brought fame and glory to the Catskill mountains, stopped off at The Freeman office en route to New York where he hopes to obtain counsel to defend his farm superintendent Elmer Hummel. Elmer, now in jail under a sentence of one year imposed by Justice of the Peace Louis C. Fredd of the town of Rochester for an alleged assault on Glenford Lenn of Accord on June 2, plans an appeal from the sentence.

Elmer, "a mighty important man right now," according to "Rip," is the "best man in the county on a spray nozzle," and is needed badly at the Van Winkle apple orchards in Stone Ridge, said the proprietor.

It begins to look as though "Rip," like his famous ancestor, may have to awaken from a long slumber and man the spray rig at his apple farm unless he is more successful in this legal action than he was in the now famous "disappearing stone wall" case a few years ago.

Has Faith in Bruhn

"Rip" told a Freeman reporter he has the utmost faith in District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn to see that justice is done but he is going to attempt to retain Stringham and Vollneck, attorneys who represented "Rip" in the famous stone wall case.

"Hummel is the best man in the county with a spray rig and nozzle and unless I get him out soon I'll have to get to work myself or have scabby apples next fall," Van Winkle said.

Hummel was arrested on an assault charge following a fracas at the Lenn place at Accord. He claims the act was provoked by outsiders and he had no intention of striking Lenn. During the fracas a considerable amount of groceries were knocked from shelves at the store and Hummel, according to "Rip," paid for the groceries damaged and left in an apologetic mood. He was later arrested on a warrant.

Howard "Rip" Van Winkle, who claims to be a direct descendant of the Van Winkle made famous in legend for his long sleep, also became famous and appeared on a radio show in New York city some time ago following a legal action between himself and Dr. Hasbrouck over a stone wall boundary line. The wall could not be located and it was suggested calling in a "stone wall viewer" to determine the location but "Rip" at that time contended this old custom would not work, since there was no stone wall, "it probably having been removed and the cobble stones used by the dwarfs in their game of nine pins in the mountains" which awakened the original "Rip" from his long sleep in the fastness of the Catskill.

At any rate "Rip" plans to bring legal action to free his farm superintendent from the county jail.

Authorization Refused

The News is Good!

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY, almost every day, fresh news is created by the fine performance of this great new U.S. Royal Master Tire.

OWNERS AND DRIVERS of the new Master tell us eagerly about it. They also tell their friends and neighbors. Almost without exception the story and the news are pretty much the same — a story of entirely new personal experience in tire life and safety.

WHEN YOU HAVE THE CHANCE, just listen to a Master owner talk about his tires. Ask him a few questions. Or even better:

LET US SHOW YOU THE TIRE ITSELF!

LET US SHOW YOU—the De-skidded, texturized tread that, for the first time, can give you "total tread depth" safety — safety that can remain fresh and new when other tires are old and smooth.

LET US SHOW YOU — the strong and beautiful sidewalls — protected by the exclusive Royal Curbguard against scuffing and defacement.

GOOD THINGS TO SEE AND KNOW!

It is good to know these important things in tire advancement. Things that bring you entirely new standards of comfort and safety — with easier steering — with Air Ride (road absorbing) comfort — with extremely low cost per safe mile.

If you will see and know these things before you make any tire investment, you will understand the great strides that have been taken in tire life and safety.

See Your U. S. Royal Dealer!

If there is the slightest delay in filling your order, he will render you expert service on your old tires, 'til your new tires arrive. Let him hear from you today!

Don't neglect or deny yourself this advantage which only the Master supplies. Let your U. S. Royal dealer keep you in fresh, original non-skid security when other tires are giving up their lives!

Defense Planned For Elmer Hummel

Howard "Rip" Van Winkle of Stone Ridge, who claims to be a direct descendant of "Old Rip" whose 20-year slumber brought fame and glory to the Catskill mountains, stopped off at The Freeman office en route to New York where he hopes to obtain counsel to defend his farm superintendent Elmer Hummel, Elmer, now in jail under a sentence of one year imposed by Justice of the Peace Louis C. Fredd of the town of Rochester for an alleged assault on Glenford Lenn of Accord on June 2, plans an appeal from the sentence.

Elmer, "a mighty important man right now," according to "Rip," is the "best man in the county on a spray nozzle," and is needed badly at the Van Winkle apple orchards in Stone Ridge, said the proprietor.

It begins to look as though "Rip," like his famous ancestor, may have to awaken from a long slumber and man the spray rig at his apple farm unless he is more successful in this legal action than he was in the now famous "disappearing stone wall" case a few years ago.

Has Faith in Bruhn

"Rip" told a Freeman reporter he has the utmost faith in District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn to see that justice is done but he is going to attempt to retain Stringham and Vollneck, attorneys who represented "Rip" in the famous stone wall case.

"Hummel is the best man in the county with a spray rig and nozzle and unless I get him out soon I'll have to get to work myself or have scabby apples next fall," Van Winkle said.

Hummel was arrested on an assault charge following a fracas at the Lenn place at Accord. He claims the act was provoked by outsiders and he had no intention of striking Lenn. During the fracas a considerable amount of groceries were knocked from shelves at the store and Hummel, according to "Rip," paid for the groceries damaged and left in an apologetic mood. He was later arrested on a warrant.

Howard "Rip" Van Winkle, who claims to be a direct descendant of the Van Winkle made famous in legend for his long sleep, also became famous and appeared on a radio show in New York city some time ago following a legal action between himself and Dr. Hasbrouck over a stone wall boundary line. The wall could not be located and it was suggested calling in a "stone wall viewer" to determine the location but "Rip" at that time contended this old custom would not work, since there was no stone wall, "it probably having been removed and the cobble stones used by the dwarfs in their game of nine pins in the mountains" which awakened the original "Rip" from his long sleep in the fastness of the Catskill.

At any rate "Rip" plans to bring legal action to free his farm superintendent from the county jail.

★★★ Learn Golf From the Stars ★★★

By NEA Service

Fifth of a series written and illustrated for NEA Service
By SKIP ALEXANDER
Ryder Cup Player

In golf, there's no such thing as too much practice.

Golf is a game in which perfection is anywhere from six to 60 strokes ahead of us.

Skip Alexander

There always is room for improvement.

Leading competitors on the tournament circuit spend much of their time practicing.

Tournament play is a minor part of their routine.

Practice rounds provide work on weaknesses and seemingly unimportant imperfections.

Weaknesses show up under the pressure of a tough tournament.

Every type of shot is given a thorough workout in practice, with as much attention given to iron play as to wood shots and putting.

Accuracy is the key to any good iron shot—not only in direction, but in selecting the proper club for the distance.

Under or over-shooting the green costs a stroke almost every time, so we must learn accuracy with our irons.

Practicing, I place my ball at the edge of the green and chip up. I gradually move back and keep hitting. As I increase my distance from the green, I get the feel of my hitting capacity with each club.

The only way to discover and successfully utilize your iron play is to practice.

A compact swing helps develop accuracy with irons.

As the distance to the green decreases, the stance may be spread slightly, but never wider than the shoulders.

Woods and the putter should not be disregarded.

Strive for distance and a fair amount of accuracy with the woods.

Although putting is one of the most elementary parts of the game, it probably is the most important. Tournaments have been lost because of a poor putt.

Consult a regular club professional. To practice the wrong thing is worse than spending practice time at the 19th hole.

COMPACT—As the distance to the green decreases, Claude Harmon's stance for an iron shot is spread slightly, but never wider than the shoulders. (NEA)

As I wrote in the P. G. A. Teachers' Guide, the golfer who classifies practice as a necessary part of the game is the one who will improve more rapidly.

Best Test Today

Manchester, England, June 7 (AP)—Althea Gibson of New York gets her first big test in European tennis competition today. She plays Barbara Scofield of San Francisco in the quarter finals of the Northern Lawn Tennis tournament. Althea, who nearly dusted off Louise Brough in the American championships in a three-set match last year, and several other American net stars are using this tourney as a tune-up for the All-England championships at Wimbledon later this month. It will be Miss Gibson's first appearance at Wimbledon.

Scores Upset to Win

Minors Must Have Liability Policy Starting July 1

Beginning July 1 no automobile registration will be issued to a minor, a person under 21 years of age, unless such minor attaches to the application a JR-1 form, issued by an insurance company, showing that the applicant has in effect a standard provision automobile liability insurance policy in the amount of $5,000 for liability for one person and in at least the sum of $10,000 for liability for more than one person.

This proof of liability insurance must be in the form of a certificate identified as JR-1 which is furnished by the insurance company and must accompany the application for registration of the vehicle. The insurance policy issued will not be accepted as evidence of insurance coverage.

This new law, Chapter 296, becomes effective on July 1, and in effect will make compulsory the carrying of liability insurance written in a company authorized to do business in the state of New York by all persons under 21 years of age who register a car.

An individual must enter on the application the date of birth and if the registration is to a partnership or joint owner, form JR-9 must be attached to the application stating that all members of the partnership or joint owners are at least 21 years of age.

Get Wage Boost, Layoff

Detroit, June 7 (AP)—General Motors Corporation's 350,000 hourly workers had news good and bad today. They're getting a four cents an hour wage bonus at once. But most of them will be laid off for six days during a temporary shutdown of GM plants from July 28 through Aug. 6. GM blamed the shutdown on government restrictions on use of critical materials for passenger car production.

★★★ ★★★ ★★★ Learn Golf From the Stars

By NEA Service

Fifth of a series written and illustrated for NEA Service
By SKIP ALEXANDER
Ryder Cup Player

In golf, there's no such thing as too much practice.

Golf is a game in which perfection is anywhere from six to 60 strokes ahead of us.

Skip Alexander

There always is room for improvement.

Leading competitors on the tournament circuit spend much of their time practicing.

Tournament play is a minor part of their routine.

Practice rounds provide work on weaknesses and seemingly unimportant imperfections.

Weaknesses show up under the pressure of a tough tournament.

Every type of shot is given a thorough workout in practice, with as much attention given to iron play as to wood shots and putting.

Accuracy is the key to any good iron shot—not only in direction, but in selecting the proper club for the distance.

Under or over-shooting the green costs a stroke almost every time, so we must learn accuracy with our irons.

Practicing, I place my ball at the edge of the green and chip up. I gradually move back and keep hitting. As I increase my distance from the green, I get the feel of my hitting capacity with each club.

The only way to discover and successfully utilize your iron play is to practice.

A compact swing helps develop accuracy with irons.

As the distance to the green decreases, the stance may be spread slightly, but never wider than the shoulders.

Woods and the putter should not be disregarded.

Strive for distance and a fair amount of accuracy with the woods.

Although putting is one of the most elementary parts of the game, it probably is the most important. Tournaments have been lost because of a poor putt.

Consult a regular club professional. To practice the wrong thing is worse than spending practice time at the 19th hole.

COMPACT—As the distance to the green decreases, Claude Harmon's stance for an iron shot is spread slightly, but never wider than the shoulders. (NEA)

As I wrote in the P. G. A. Teachers' Guide, the golfer who classifies practice as a necessary part of the game is the one who will improve more rapidly.

Best Test Today

Manchester, England, June 7 (AP)—Althea Gibson of New York gets her first big test in European tennis competition today. She plays Barbara Scofield of San Francisco in the quarter finals of the Northern Lawn Tennis tournament. Althea, who nearly dusted off Louise Brough in the American championships in a three-set match last year, and several other American net stars are using this tourney as a tune-up for the All-England championships at Wimbledon later this month. It will be Miss Gibson's first appearance at Wimbledon.

Scores Upset to Win

Minors Must Have Liability Policy Starting July 1

Beginning July 1 no automobile registration will be issued to a minor, a person under 21 years of age, unless such minor attaches to the application a JR-1 form, issued by an insurance company, showing that the applicant has in effect a standard provision automobile liability insurance policy in the amount of $5,000 for liability for one person and in at least the sum of $10,000 for liability for more than one person.

This proof of liability insurance must be in the form of a certificate identified as JR-1 which is furnished by the insurance company and must accompany the application for registration of the vehicle. The insurance policy issued will not be accepted as evidence of insurance coverage.

This new law, Chapter 296, becomes effective on July 1, and in effect will make compulsory the carrying of liability insurance written in a company authorized to do business in the state of New York by all persons under 21 years of age who register a car.

An individual must enter on the application the date of birth and if the registration is to a partnership or joint owner, form JR-9 must be attached to the application stating that all members of the partnership or joint owners are at least 21 years of age.

Get Wage Boost, Layoff

Detroit, June 7 (AP)—General Motors Corporation's 350,000 hourly workers had news good and bad today. They're getting a four cents an hour wage bonus at once. But most of them will be laid off for six days during a temporary shutdown of GM plants from July 28 through Aug. 6. GM blamed the shutdown on government restrictions on use of critical materials for passenger car production.

Gimbel Declares Macy's Started War And Misled Public

New York, June 7 (AP)—A Gimbel Brothers' spokesman charged today that Macy's department store started this city's heated price war and made "suckers of the public" with "misleading" advertising.

Testifying before a state inquiry into the raging battle of prices, the Gimbel's representative accused the rival department store of threatening the existence of this country's small business firms.

The witness, Louis Broido, executive vice president of Gimbel's, hurled his charges against Macy's at the opening session of the state inquiry. The investigation is being conducted by the joint legislative committee on unfair trade practices.

Broido told the committee that the price war—which since has spread to other parts of the nation—was started by Macy's in an attempt to maintain the latter store's claim that it undersold all competition.

'Lot of Nonsense'

"The plain fact is," the witness declared, "that nobody can undersell everybody on everything all the time. This is a lot of nonsense."

Broido argued that Macy's, known as the world's largest department store, cut prices on only a few of the "hundreds of thousands of items" on the market.

He suggested an amendment to existing business laws which would prohibit a retailer who marked down an item from marking it up again in the future.

The hearing was called to give mammoth merchandisers and small retailers a chance to air their views during an uneasy lull in the fair-trade fracas.

Figures Are Released

Up to June 6, there were registered in the county of Ulster 20,630 passenger cars, 109 "MD" cars designating ownership by a physician, 4,715 commercial vehicles, 118 motorcycles, 355 farm vehicles, 835 trailers and 646 suburban vehicles.
